INTRODUCTION

Hail, devoted servant of the God-Emperor! In your hands, you hold a sacred text filled with the glory of the Imperium's most righteous and holy warriors. Its pages contain a wealth of scriptural lore concerning the religious, military Orders of the Adepta Sororitas, and provide you with the means to unite such warriors in a pious and powerful army of crusading fanatics.

The Adepta Sororitas are devout defenders of the Imperial Creed – the religion of the Imperium that surrounds the worship of the God-Emperor. Known also as the Sisters of Battle, their power-armoured warriors prosecute Wars of Faith as part of the Ecclesiarchy, who are the overarching religious priesthood of the Imperial Creed. The Adepta Sororitas train rigorously and fight with ferocious zeal, pious serenity and tireless skill. They annihilate heretical cults, xenos, mutants and the abominations of daemonickind as they spread the light of the God-Emperor with fury and flame.

The Battle Sisters of the Adepta Sororitas strike their foes down with the holy trinity of boltguns, flamers and meltaguns, calling out the names of saints in adoration. They make war not only with powerful wargear and thick armour – emblazoned with the icons of their ancient Orders – but also with their faith, striding into battle chanting hymns of praise as psalms blare from the loud hailer of an imperial battle tank. Miraculous manifestations of their faith have often been witnessed, shielding them from harm or lending strength to their blows.

Collecting an Adepta Sororitas army puts all of their righteous fervour and relic wargear at your disposal. Whether you are a novice to the hobby or a seasoned veteran with a string of victories, the varied tactics available to the Sisters of Battle can be tailored to suit your preferred style of play. Perhaps you prefer to unleash puritanical extermination from afar with squads of bolter-armed Battle Sisters, Retributors carrying heavier weaponry and tanks unleashing explosive ordinance. Maybe you seek to hasten the demise of your opponent's force with angelic squads of soaring Seraphim and a vanguard streaking forward in armoured transports. Alternatively, you might focus on the fanatical Priests of the Ecclesiarchy and all the macabre and gothic followers that trail in their wake.

However you put your army together, the diverse range of Adepta Sororitas miniatures offers a wealth of stunning models from which to choose, and a variety of dynamic poses and textures on which to lavish your painting skills. The miniatures easily reward simple painting techniques, while also affording lots of opportunity to individualise your models. Codex: Adepta Sororitas contains the history of this vaunted creed of warrior zealots, details of their hierarchy and the Orders that fight throughout the galaxy, as well as all the rules you need to field your collection of miniatures in battle. It also includes unique Crusade content designed to help your fledgling War of Faith become a fanatical, conquering crusade, as well as unique Warlord Traits, sacred relics and more besides.
There are no more devout warriors to the God-Emperor of Mankind than the Orders of the Adepta Sororitas. To witness their Wars of Faith as an ally is to be awestruck with the force of their belief. Deafening peals of battle psalms ring out, blaring from consecrated emitters and shouted from the lips of these zealous, holy soldiers. Angelic hosts descend on columns of holy fire as warriors equipped with winged jump packs deliver the Emperor’s judgement to the craven foe, no matter where they hide. Their elaborately crafted wargear and archaic tanks are illuminated with the sacred writings of saints and anointed with holy unguents.

The Battle Sisters of the Adepta Sororitas bear the holy weaponry with which the Emperor’s legions conquered the galaxy, and illuminate the faithless in lethal volleys from the holy trinity of bolt, flamer and melta weapons. It is said the Emperor’s benediction touches each of these warriors, manifesting as a nimbus of holy light in which his power is revealed in miraculous deeds of fortitude and divine strength.

To face such righteous faith and holy ire is to face the conviction of belief itself. From blasphemers, heretics and mutant strains to xenos breeds, idolaters and iconoclasts, all cower before the judgement of the God-Emperor and his Sisters of Battle.
THE IMPERIAL CREED

To Humanity, the Master of Mankind is a deity – the God-Emperor. He is the source of their strength, their defence against abomination and the deserving object of their adoration and loyalty. The galaxy-spanning religion that surrounds his worship is the Imperial Creed, its rites overseen by the Ecclesiarchy's priesthood and its doctrines enforced by the Adepta Sororitas.

Amongst the untold billions that populate the Imperium's planets, the Imperial Creed is the official religion. From the teeming slums of hive worlds to the noble spires that rise over civilised worlds, on isolated frontier planets and aboard the countless ships that ply stable warp routes between them, the Emperor is deified and worshipped. Every day, offerings are made to him in praise, in title and in blood through the endless wars fought in his name. It is the Ecclesiarchy that provides the structure through which these offerings are demanded.

Known formally as the Adeptus Ministorum, the Ecclesiarchy raise ostentatious temples and meagre chapels, giant cathedrums that accommodate thousands and shrines that house saintly relics, drawing pilgrims from many sectors away. The Ecclesiarchy's complex hierarchies of cardinals, missionaries, preachers and zealous laity – under the overall leadership of the Ecclesiarch on Terra – ensure the prescribed prayers and invocations are made, and teach the masses to guard against heresy and deviancy. These priests are tasked with maintaining and spreading the faith of the Imperium, converting the denizens of rediscovered worlds and giving sermons to warn against laxity of vigilance.

What would grow into the Ecclesiarchy began as one of a disparate group of religious cults when the Emperor still walked among his subjects, their illicit worship fomenting in secret. In the wake of the Horus Heresy, when it became known that the Emperor had crushed the Arch-traitor Horus and ascended to the Golden Throne, he was openly worshipped on hundreds of worlds. The nascent Ecclesiarchy crushed or absorbed their rivals over many centuries, spreading to every strata of Imperial life before their recognition in M32 as the Imperium's official religious authority. Now, their influence and power is nigh on inescapable. From workers in munitorium complexes and sump-dwelling gangs, to cloistered bureaucratic scribes and Guardsmen fighting on the front lines, almost all of Humanity is ingrained with the concept of the Emperor's divinity. They know the sweat and sacrifice needed to honour it, and fear more than anything the vengeful punishment for not meeting such requirements.

THE DEFENCE OF FAITH

The Ecclesiarchy's priests keep a close watch on their congregations, ever alert to the seeds of heresy. Witchcraft and mutation are rooted out, and whole populations are whipped up into frenzied zealotry, incited to turn on anyone suspected of consorting with xenos or daemons. The Adeptus Ministorum has the authority to seize, painfully interrogate and execute those it suspects of crimes against the Imperial Creed, often in the most horrific and public manner.

Some heresies, however, run far deeper than individual blasphemers and isolated cells of impure cults. When widespread deviancy rears its head, when idolaters amass in armed rebellion or the Ecclesiarchy's sacred holdings are under threat, the Adepta Sororitas are unleashed in a storm of righteous fire. They stand as the Adeptus Ministorum's enforcers and its most zealous defenders. Commonly known as the Sisters of Battle, the Adepta Sororitas are the spiritual descendents of a warrior sect known as the Daughters of the Emperor. Rather than be disbanded upon their discovery by the Ecclesiarchy, as most such sects were, their incredible skill and utmost dedication to the God-Emperor were viewed as useful assets. During the reign of the then Ecclesiarch – the notorious Goge Vandire – they rose to become the Adeptus Ministorum's elite holy warriors, under the leadership of their founding Matriarchs.

The Adepta Sororitas are upheld as the most pious of the Imperial Creed's adherents, fighting in its name to eradicate any who threaten the purity of Mankind. They comprise a number of strict, ascetic Orders, the most numerous and conspicuous of which are the Orders Militant, which form the Adeptus Ministorum's military strength. They project the Ecclesiarchy's power throughout the Imperium, from the halls of the Ecclesiarchal Palace on Terra to blood-soaked battlefields on countless worlds.

The Adepta Sororitas' primary charge is to wage Wars of Faith against those whose very existence is a danger to the Imperium – the wretched heretic, the unsanctioned psyker and the abominable mutant. Yet they also fight to purge the galaxy of the hated xenos, driving back any creatures that dare taint the God-Emperor's realm. The Sisters of Battle carry out the annihilation of those whose faithlessness has placed them beyond hope of redemption, and they do so as a sacred duty. The act of fighting in defence of their faith, against the foul heretics that would tear it down, is itself deemed a hallowed honour. When not at war, they spend much of their time in prayer to the saints of the Imperium for guidance. These acts of worship carry over into their rigorous combat drills, periods of fasting and moments of reflection on the deeds of their founders, ensuring that their physical conditioning goes hand in hand with their spiritual fortitude.
THE MATRIARCHS

Imperial history has known thousands of saints, many of whom were martial exemplars in life and worshipped by those who continue to purge the Imperium. The Adepta Sororitas revere six saints before all others, for these were the Matriarchs. Warriors all, they fought for their faith at the Sisterhood’s very founding, during an era of faithlessness.

When the Adeptus Ministorum was established as the Imperium’s official religion, records from the Imperial Palace show that the Ecclesiarchy sought to consolidate its hold by outlawing and dismantling the other Emperor worshipping cults. With its growing wealth, the armies at its disposal were enormous and the Ecclesiarchy’s position became so powerful that he and his successors became High Lords of Terra. In M36, then Ecclesiarch Goge Vandire usurped the position of High Lord of the Administratum as well. Through bribery, assassination and coercion, Vandire was afforded unprecedented authority. With it, according to the Hagiographia Primus, he sought to bring the Imperium under his heel, but those who opposed his tyranny grew in number. Thus flourished a time of terror lasting for decades, during which billions died, whole planets burned and faith itself wavered under Vandire’s despotic regime. The histories refer to this period as the Reign of Blood.

The original Daughters of the Emperor were discovered on the little known agric world of San Leor at the height of the Reign of Blood. They were a small and isolated cult of a few hundred Sisters, devoted to worshipping the Emperor and maintaining an inner purity. The Daughters studied ancient arts of war, clearing their minds of worldly considerations in order to hone their battle skills. Illuminated biographies by Vandire’s scribes describe the way in which the Ecclesiarchy honoured San Leor with an Ecclesiastical visit, taking oaths of fealty from the Daughters after deceiving them into thinking he held the God-Emperor’s favour.

The Daughters of the Emperor – led by their leader, Alicia Dominica – were instated as Vandire’s bodyguard. They were his blade of judgement and his tool of vengeance against any slight perceived by his increasingly fragile sanity. Despite his vast forces, and the bloody defence offered up by his elite bodyguard, Vandire’s combined enemies eventually besieged the Ecclesiarchal Palace. What transpired next is not recorded fully or consistently. Some sources contend that a number of the Emperor’s own guardians – the mysterious Adeptus Custodes – advanced into the Ecclesiarchal Palace through hidden means, and spoke humbly with six members of the Ecclesiarch’s bodyguard. Others suggest that the Custodians fiercely declaimed Vandire as an enemy of the Emperor.

However, all surviving fragments of the encounter – remembered in choral plainsong, electrotapestries and illuminated scripts – agree on its outcome. Unable to sway the six devout bodyguards to abandon the insane Ecclesiarch, the Custodians led them through uncharted ways to the most sacred place on Terra – the chambers of the Golden Throne itself. Alicia Dominica and her Sisters – Katherine, Lucia, Mina, Silvana and Arabella – entered the chambers alone. None alive now, save the God-Emperor himself, know what was imparted to them. Yet when they returned to Vandire’s side, Alicia denounced the High Lord’s corruption to her Order. Surrounded by her five senior warriors, she beheaded the mad priest with one fell blow of her blade.

THE FOUNDING SAINTS

With Vandire’s death, the Reign of Blood ended. His successor as Ecclesiarch, Sebastian Thor, adopted a catalogue of demands for the limiting of the Ministorum’s power. High on this list was the Decree Passive, which forbade the Ecclesiarchy from maintaining the standing armies and ships accrued under Vandire’s rule. Thor argued that the Daughters of the Emperor fell outside the Decree’s remit, and that now, more than ever, they were needed to defend the faith rather than any Ecclesiarch’s ambition.

Alicia Dominica – as military and spiritual head of her Sisters – oversaw the reformation of the Daughters of the Emperor into the Adepta Sororitas. To ensure no future Ecclesiarchy would have unrestrained power over its entire armed might, she saw her Sisterhood divided, first into two Convents, and later into the earliest Orders.

Militant. Dominica and her senior Sisters – those who had passed into the chambers of the Golden Throne – each went on to be named Matriarch and patron of one of the six founding Orders Majoris. Millennia after their deaths, they are revered as exemplar saints and angelic intercessors with the divine God-Emperor. Shrines at their battle sites are tended with solemnity, and statues are raised to exalt their legendary deeds. Many of the Imperium’s common citizenry pray for their beneficence, and Sisters invoke their names on the field of battle.

Saint Dominica, Spirit of Holy Wrath; Saint Katherine the Martyr, the Shield Bearer; Saint Lucia, Endurant of the Passion; Saint Mina the Bloody, Dominica’s Champion; Saint Silvana, the Spirit of Intercensions, and Saint Arabella, the Liberator from Doubt – these warriors stood in the presence of the God-Emperor, and in death they watch over the worthy who fight in his name.
The Spirit of Saint Katherine walked around her Sisters, feeling the radiance of their faith. The battle against the Orks had been hard fought, desperate at times. The xenos had aggressively shrouded their way forward and threatened to overwhelm the Imperial lines in a dozen places. Now, in its aftermath, the Spirit took the required six slow circuits of the Triumph of Saint Katherine and its guardians. Each step was taken solemnly, leading her around five robed warriors and the sacred bier that hovered at their centre. Her lips moved in silent prayer, mirroring those of her five Sister Spirits, as she ritually inspected the warriors and the sacred relics each bore. This was the Shield Bearer’s duty — as the Spirit of Saint Katherine’s task was also known — that of appraising her own efficacy at defending her Sisters and the holy objects they held. This was the final preparation before one last procession to conclude the Adepta Sororitas’ campaign on this world.

The six Spirits were silent, save for the hum of their power armour’s servos and the muted sound of rasping breaths, indicating the presence of a punctured lung. Despite the severe injury, the Spirit of Saint Mina stood ramrod straight, hers the only head not bowed. Scriptural convention dictated the Sister embodying the bloodily aggressive Mina submit her supplications to the God-Emperor with head raised, and with eyes open to the blood she would spill. The Spirit of Saint Mina held a silver salver engraved with the thorned rose of Mina’s Order, and studded with carnelian gemstones in the shapes of blood drops. Upon it, there remained barely a handful of blessed, red petals. During the battle, in the brief moments between vicious swings of her relic weapon, the warrior had scattered armfuls of the crimson Petals of the Bloody Rose, the scent of which cleared the minds of Battle Sisters fighting around the Triumph. Xenos blood stained her robes, while a waft of unguents told the Spirit of Saint Katherine of the misfortunes her Sister Spirit had received from the Hospitallers. Mina’s injury would require a scourging penance from the Spirit of Saint Katherine, for it had been Katherine’s task to shield her.

The Shield Bearer approached the Spirit of Saint Arabella. After the brooding intensity of the Spirit of Saint Mina’s countenance, Arabella’s visage was sublime and calming. The Spirit of Saint Katherine noted the tears and burns in her Sister’s robes that would need to be rewon, and the chips and gouges in her armour that would need to be ritually repaired. The Spirit of Saint Arabella slowly swung the Censer of the Sacred Rose in time with the Shield Bearer’s prescribed steps. The flame inside the Censer represented the eternal conviction of Arabella’s spreading of the faith. Her Spirit’s skill in combat had seen the smoking brazier crush the skulls of dozens of Orks, yet the Spirit of Saint Katherine noted with satisfaction that the Censer appeared to bear no lasting damage.

With her third circuit, the Spirit of Saint Katherine passed close to the warrior embodying the virtues of Saint Lucia. In the Sister Spirit’s hands, the Icon of the Valorous Heart was held aloft, a finely wrought halo of idealised rays surrounding the heart itself. The Sister who was the Spirit of Saint Katherine felt the beating of it in her soul. She knew its thudding aura had been felt during the reconquest of the Galen Line. The Spirit of Saint Lucia gripped the Icon’s stave firmly, her gauntlets scarred and gouged from the brutal but insufficient efforts of hulking Orks to seize it as a trophy. Blood continued to seep from the wounds where two of her fingers had been torn away. Still, her incomparable constancy had denied the xenos their prize.

A momentary mental image filled the Spirit of Saint Katherine’s mind — of Lucia fighting shoulder to shoulder with her at Gebon. Lucia had fought on, regardless of a dozen crippling injuries, her determination humbling those around her. The Battle Sister who embodied Katherine was struck by the potency and realism of the vision. In a moment it had passed, but she felt the same, strange dominance of her soul as she had felt in battle. It was the spirit of Katherine herself, she was certain, confirming her as an acceptable host of a portion of the God-Emperor’s power.

The Spirit of Saint Katherine realised she had reached the fourth circuit. Her measured steps now passed the Spirit of Saint Silvana. From her Sister Spirit’s arching backpack hung the Simulacrum of the Argent Shroud, cut from the same cloth as that which was laid over Saint Silvana’s mortal remains millennia ago. The Spirit of Saint Silvana was likewise engaged in silent prayer, but during the battle her voice had rung out clearly above the din of xenos and the roar of weapons fire. Reciting the many deeds of Silvana’s life, she had inspired the Battle Sisters around her to hurl back the wretched xenos with renewed fury.

The penultimate circuit brought the Spirit of Saint Katherine to the embodiment of Saint Dominica. Her Sister Spirit held in her outstretched hand a weighty, fire-blackened goblet — the Simulacrum of the Ebon Chalice – whose power had wracked the blasphemous Orks with physical and spiritual anguish. Time and again they had sought to draw upon the monstrous, gestalt energies that billowed around them, but they had been denied by the majesty that emanated from this divine representation of the original Grail of Ages. The Spirit of Saint Dominica had fought one-handed, thrusting the black Chalice before her amid xenos screams of agony before decapitating them with efficient and practiced poise. The Spirit of Saint Katherine had thought she had recognized some of that skill. Though she was now a member of one of the Orders Pronatus like her Sister Spirits, she had campaigned as a warrior of the Order of Our Martyred Lady. She had fought alongside Sisters from the Order of the Ebon Chalice at Doraex, and the Spirit of Saint Dominica reminded her strongly of a Celestial Superior she had witnessed fighting there. Even if such were true, she reminded herself, each of the six had given up those lives. They now strove to embody the virtues and the strengths of the Matrarchs in carrying the saints’ relics to war.

The Spirit of Saint Katherine finally reached the blessed bier at the warriors’ centre. It hovered on anti-grav plates of archaic design, each doused with holy oils and applied with illuminated script. Vat-grown cherubim bearing the servo-automated hallmarks of the Adepts of Mars flitted to and fro above. Some grasped chains while they awaited the instruction to guide the bier forward. The Spirit of Saint Katherine looked down at the bier’s occupant. Portions of shining reliquary armour reflected weak sunlight onto the Spirit’s unhelmed face. Amongst the recesses, she could see the physical remains of Saint Katherine herself, their holy integrity unsullied by fire, untouched by filthy xenos and miraculously pure, despite having been hauled through the heart of battle mere hours ago.

It was strange to look down upon what, in a sense, was one’s own body. The Spirit felt the weight of the shielding Praesidium Protective upon her arm, and gripped the hilt of the Martyr’s Sword in its icon-covered scabbard. Some natural shift overcame her as she gazed at the hollow-eyed skull, feeling the presence of something nobler.

Filled with the surety that the Triumph was prepared, the Spirit of Saint Katherine strode to the head of her Sister Spirits. She raised the Martyr’s Sword and signalled the procession through waiting ranks of surviving Battle Sisters, to honour the dead.
HIERARCHY OF THE ADEPTA SORORITAS

The Adepta Sororitas is organised in a way that allows it to exert the will of the Ecclesiarchy across the breadth of the Imperium. Individual Orders have spheres of influence in different parts of the galaxy, and though these Orders have their own traditions and rites of worship, they are each bound by similar structures and chains of command.

Some Orders, notably the six Orders Majoris, maintain subsidiary sanctuaries, the largest of which are referred to as Preceptories. The term is also used to define the largest organisational unit an Order is ever likely to field, numbering up to one thousand Sisters of Battle, cloistered together at one location. The Canoness who commands a Preceptory has the title of Canoness Preceptor.

Commanderies are smaller sanctuaries, often housed within moderately defended fortresses or shrine-bunker complexes. A Commandery is subordinate to a Preceptory, and the term is also used as a company-level subdivision of a Preceptory. Each Commandery consists of up to two hundred Sisters, and the Canoness who leads them is referred to as a Canoness Commander.

A Militant Order typically maintains its own fleets of orbital assault vessels and macro-landers, but larger battleships and interstellar transports are seconded from the Navi Imperialis. A Mission is the smallest organisational unit of the Adepta Sororitas, and normally consists of a number of squads assembled to achieve a specified objective. A Mission may be led by a Patrine, or by a more senior Canoness, depending on the importance of the objective.

This hierarchy is also applicable to the non-militant Orders, such as the Orders Dialogue, Hospitaler and Famulus. These Orders generally operate at the lower levels, mainly Mission and Commandery, with Preceptory being a largely organisational tier. For example, a Mission from an Order Famulus may consist of only a handful of Sisters engaged in an inter-house trade delegation, while a Commandery from an Order Hospitaler may be a staff of Sisters working in a battlefield hospital.

MINOR ORDERS

An Order is led by a Canoness, who often has the title Canoness Superior. A Canoness of an Order Minoris is in theory outranked by the Canoness of the Order Majoris from which it was formed.

The Adepta Sororitas as a whole serves at the behest of the Ecclesiarch, and has a sacred duty to follow the dictates of whoever holds that office.
MORVENN VAHL
ABBESS SANCTORUM OF THE ADEPTA SORORITAS

Spiritual and military leadership of the Adepta Sororitas is vested in Morvenn Vahl, the recently elevated Abbess Sanctorum. By her uncompromising command is the might of the Orders Militant unleashed to scour worlds clean with the fire of her aggressive piety. Vahl does not direct such crusades from afar, but plunges into battle at the forefront of the fight.

Morvenn Vahl issues her directives in clipped and severe tones, her young features always set in an expression of stern resolve. Her strident devotion to the God-Emperor and the defence of the Imperium is beyond question, and she is the beacon to which the entire Sisterhood looks as their spiritual and martial exemplar. Vahl is a warrior, first and foremost. She is a superlative front line commander and expert combatant. However, she must be more than just this, for a galaxy-spanning force awaits her every order, and the guardianship of the faith of Mankind is in her hands. These are heavy burdens to bear. Rather than a mark of honour, the heirs to Saint Dominica consider the position of Abbess to be the highest of duties and responsibilities – one to be borne with stoicism, rigid devotion and humble acceptance.

The former Abbess’ ship was declared lost en route from Ophelia VII to Holy Terra, during the anarchic cataclysm when the Great Rift split the Imperium. News of this dire loss was achingly slow to reach the wider Adepta Sororitas, for amidst such galactic unres, every Order and far-flung Mission was on its own, maintaining their isolated devotion in the face of encroaching madness. Only at the darkness began to recede was the terrible loss uncovered. The need for an icon of leadership was greater than ever, and the Ecclesiarchy appealed to the Convents Sanctorum and Prioris to submit their candidate for Abbess.

Amongst those considered, Vahl was by far the youngest. She was an aggressive and selfless Celestian Superior of the Order of the Argent Shroud, whose dedication in the face of monstrous onslaughts had earned her the approval of her sombre Order. The complex factions within the Ecclesiarchal Palace on Terra believed that so young and politically inexperience a Sister might be more easily manoeuvred. Her expected naivete would be a gateway for the Ecclesiarchy to exert more influence into the Sisters’ operations and internal hierarchies than convention dictated. What many with the Ecclesiarch’s ear wanted was a ceremonial and malleable figurehead. What they got was a forthright and iron-willed warrior.

Morvenn Vahl was on campaign in the Reskard Purgation when the Ecclesiarchy’s delegation arrived. The priests delivered the Ministorum’s declaration with ostentatious ceremony and layered ritual. Scarred and blood-stained – her silver armour chipped and fire-blackened – Celestian Superior Vahl listened in absolute silence and without emotion to the elaborate ceremony of appointment, couched in terms of mere invitation. She then stunned the congregation, bishops, prelates, hierarchs and confessors by quietly requesting a period of prayer on the matter. Vahl entered her Mission’s shrine to Saint Silvana and undertook a solitary meditation for three days, while increasingly nervous priests paced anxiously. When she emerged, she seemed to those present to walk taller, her eyes hard and unreadable to the clergy – some of whom involuntarily backed away from her. With a handful of words, Vahl accepted the appointment. She commended a successor to her.

THE PANOPLY OF FAITH
When the Abbess Sanctorum leads an army of the Adepta Sororitas, she takes up the weapons and armour kept reverently aside for her personal use. Few throughout the millennia have borne these sacred relics to war, and none as often as Morvenn Vahl. The ancient Paragon Warsuit, Purgator Mirabilis, is the most powerful and finely crafted of its kind. The Fabricator General of Mars in M37 poured the resources of his own forge temples for two centuries into its restoration, before gifting it to the Adepta Sororitas for their salvation of the fallen forge world of Gehn Quora. Its holy spirit responds only to the most pious and battle-hardened of the Emperor’s servants. The suit’s pilot launches righteous volleys of deadly missiles from shoulder guards inscribed with verses from the Fede Imperialis, while the underslung heavy blaster. Fidelis, pronounces its lethal sentence upon scores of faithless heretics. The embossed gun shield – marked with the names of the two Convents over which the Abbess has authority – is said to shine with the Emperor’s own light, throwing back the hateful spite of unbelievers and twisted monstrosities.

From the reliquaries of the Imperial Palace, the golden Custodians of the Emperor presented Morvenn Vahl with the Lance of Illumination. Only the Adeptus Custodes know its true legacy and import. It is said that a day even darker than those which blight the Imperium now will need the Lance’s enlightenment. If the Adeptus Custodes shared such terrible knowledge with the Abbess, the notoriously taciturn Vahl has kept it to herself.
Canoness before turning on her heel and striding swiftly for the priests' orbital transfer ship. Having planned many days of worship and ceremony to mark the appointment, the gathered priests were aghast. Only a handful had the presence of mind to hasten in her wake.

In the months after her arrival upon Holy Terra, Vahl soon proved herself a dreaded opponent to those who sought to control her. She continued to wear full battle armour when receiving senior members of the Holy Synod, intimidating and unnerving them with her pitiless stare and brusque responses. Vahl threw herself into re-establishing personal contact with as many Orders as possible, firmly deflecting any priests who tried to assure her that matters were already in hand. She sought to satisfy the Orders that the Abbess Sanctorum once more stood as their commander, absorbing data on their current crusades, demanding field reports and strategic dispositions, and ascertaining what they were doing to throw back the flood of impious savagery that boiled out of the Great Rift.

It can be expected that Vahl, young as she was and propelled so suddenly to the rarefied heights of power, must have wrestled with questions of faith and self-confidence. Yet whatever struggles took place behind the doors of her mind remained private; not once did the new Abbess Sanctorum allow even a crack to show in the armour of her faith. It did become clear, however, that Vahl chafed at the reins of what she saw as personal inaction, when so many other Sisters of Battle were fighting and dying. Even when, upon the recommendation of Roboute Guilliman, Vahl was elevated to the status of High Lord of Terra, it did little to cool her ardour for battle.

Few within the Adepta Sororitas were surprised when the Abbess declared herself the commander of the Ecclesiarch's crusade against the traitorous trade worlds of the Philosopher's Belt. Since then, she has taken to the field in person dozens of times during her short tenure, leading forces of every Order Majoris. Not given to rousing sermons and uplifting oratory, Abbess Vahl instead leads by example on the battlefield, letting her deeds in service to the God-Emperor speak for her.

Numerous senior Sisters from several Orders Dialogus and Famulous complement Vahl's command staff, deftly dealing with the slew of generals, planetary governors, admirals and more that daily clamour for her attention. Morvenn Vahl does not see herself as the Emperor's Chosen, but as an instrument of defence who must place herself between the Imperial Creed and the countless horrors that seek to defile it. Her sense of duty to this lofty position means she will never recklessly submit herself to an unwinnable war. Martyrdom, as her former Order taught, is a release from one's duty, and not its ultimate expression. As all her predecessors understood, the position of Abbess Sanctorum is a burden that can be set aside only when the last heretic, mutant, xenos and daemon is expunged from existence. Only then might she step back into anonymity as a Sister of her Order.
WARS OF FAITH

Since their inception, the Adepta Sororitas have bolstered their ranks to the point that their presence is now felt far across the Imperium. No longer the Ecclesiarch's bodyguard, they are an active and crusading military force, crushing the enemies of the Imperial Creed wherever they fester, and illuminating the Emperor's realm as a beacon of faith.

When Humanity is faced with a substantial threat, it falls to the High Lords of Terra to order a crusade against Mankind's enemies. Such crusades are enormous military operations that mobilise multiple branches of the Imperium's colossal war machine, including Space Marine Chapters, Astra Militarum regiments, Navis Imperialis fleets, as well as forces of the Adeptus Ministorum. But the Ecclesiarch also has the individual authority to issue calls to battle when the sanctity of the Imperial Creed is imperilled. Such large-scale mobilisations are known as Wars of Faith.

When a War of Faith is declared, those Sororitas Orders able to respond send their finest troops to obliterate the heretics and sinners marked for death by the Ecclesiarch. Fleets of Ministorum vessels descend upon the planet, system or sector that has been targeted, ferrying Sisters of Battle and non-militant adjuncts by the thousand into the war zone. Yet it is not only the Sororitas who answer the call to war. Other servants of the Ministorum join themselves to the Sisters' Commaneries. Missionaries who have spent decades spreading the Imperial Creed to the inhabitants of a rediscovered world will instantly turn their ire on the populace if a War of Faith is declared. Operating with small contingents of hand-picked warriors and Frateris Militia, these Missionaries are more than happy to combine their purgatorial efforts with those of the incoming Adepta Sororitas. Similarly, Preachers who have been operating in nearby systems gather all manner of zealous recruits to their cause. The most impassioned cults of the Imperial Creed are roused to action, and through tearful prayers their members beseech the Emperor for the chance to loose their righteous fury upon the faithless. As one, the massed ranks of believers envelop their enemies, slaughtering and burning those whom the Emperor's light cannot redeem. A War of Faith may last decades, or even centuries, and is not considered over until all trace of the heretical enemy is scoured from the galaxy.

ECCLESIASTRY BATTLE CONCLAVES

Though the Decree Passive prohibits the Ecclesiarchy from maintaining their standing armies of old, it does not prevent the priests of the Ministorum from assembling their own battle-hardened retinues. Small in number yet deadly combatants, these inveterate warriors dedicate themselves body and soul to serving the Imperial Creed.

Pious warrior-knights chosen for their martial skill and utter devotion to the Imperial Creed, Crusaders act as the bodyguards and champions of the Ministorum priesthood. They are often seen fighting alongside the Adepta Sororitas in their Wars of Faith, spilling the blood of heretics and witchkin with great sweeps of their heavy broadswords, bullets and blades deflecting harmlessly from their large, powered shields.

Across the wide span of the galaxy there exist numerous cults and minor creeds that worship death. Many of these are heretical religions, but some are fully devoted to the Imperial Creed. Their adherents offer up the corpses of slaughtered foes as repayment for the great debt that Humanity owes the almighty God-Emperor. The Death Cult Assassins that hail from these aggressive cults are prized as companions by Ministorum Priests. Often wielding ritual blades blessed by cult leaders, they have devoted their violent lives to the mastery of armed combat, and train their athletic bodies to be capable of great feats of speed and skill.

Acoro-flagellants lope alongside faithful armies in packs, their lash-like limbs whipping back and forth. Acoro-flagellation is but one method employed by the Adeptus Ministorum to punish heretical thought and action. Subjected to agonising spiritual cleansing and physical modification, those sentenced to this fate are fitted with cybernetic augmentations and subdermal stimm Injectors. Their pacifier helms subdue their abused psyche with floods of sacred sensory input. When battle is joined, their priestly masters utter a trigger word that deactivates the helm and pumps a cocktail of chemicals through the Acoro-flagellant, sending them into a frenzy. Pain suppressors also wash through their system, rendering them insensate to the foe's desperate blows.

Penitent Engines are another grisly reminder of the power wielded by the Ecclesiarchy, and the dangers of drawing its ire. Those convicted of heinous crimes against the faith are wired into the machine's torturous innards. Its pain amplifiers and neural Injectors torment their bodies, their agony driving the clanking engine into the foe. Heedless of danger, they lay about the enemy with gigantic blades and gouts of holy fire, seeking absolution in death — whether theirs or their enemy's.
Since her appointment to the position of Abbess Sanctorum, Morvenn Vahl has overseen the unleashing of many more Wars of Faith. As the Imperium re-establishes contact with multiple sectors and systems in the wake of the Great Rift's torturous opening, tales of daemonic incursions, heretical cults, sorcerous mutation and xenos infiltration have soared. Abhorring inaction, Vahl has committed large forces of the Adepta Sororitas to the chain worlds of Qand, the Regorsh Straits and the reconsecration of Marlia's Tomb, among a host of other sacred campaigns, while also ensuring the Sisters of Battle accompany as many of Guilliman's Indomitus Crusades as possible. At her direction, dozens of Orders Militant have despatched forces to embattled and stalled Wars of Faith as the Abbess seeks to bring them to swift conclusions, and ensure her armies are ever on the advance. Vahl has also assigned crusades to seek ways across the Great Rift — and the dark wells of silence that grow even within the Imperium Sanctus — to investigate the fate of Adepta Sororitas forces whose every trace seems to have vanished. She intends for Saint Jhosmen's Traverse, the Nachmund Gauntlet, the shield worlds of Baal and the Pariah Nexus to all ring to the shouted prayers of the Adepta Sororitas, reigniting the beacons of the Imperium's faith.

ORDO HERETICUS

At the end of the Age of Apostasy, the Inquisition formed a secret order within its ranks to watch the Ecclesiarchy more closely. While the Inquisition as a whole monitors every aspect of the Imperium, the Ordo Hereticus is primarily concerned with stamping out aberrant faith before it is allowed to run rampant. Though the Ecclesiarchy regulates itself and its followers closely — primarily through the Adepta Sororitas — the Ordo Hereticus provides another line of defence to ensure that those in power within the Ecclesiarchy do not abuse their positions to such an extent that they threaten the stability of the Imperium. These Inquisitors watch Wars of Faith closely to make certain that the objectives laid down by the Ecclesiarch are both justified and not exceeded by those actually fighting. They also monitor the temporary armies known as Frateris Militia that rally behind members of the priesthood in theatres of conflict, ensuring that such forces are disbanded after they are needed. In this way the Ordo Hereticus ensures that the Ecclesiarchy's standing military does not reach the levels it did under Goge Vandire.
CELESTINE
THE LIVING SAINT

Sculpted wings spread wide, blinding and heralding the arrival of the new Saint Celestine, an embodiment of the God Emperor's strength and courage, by his presence even as secrets reveal in terror.

Lord Amgar, the Crusader's leader, believed in the original world of the Palaeo-Sabian, the one that had been chosen by the Emperor, and would not be deterred from gathering his forces and leading the Crusade. He was a man of great faith and determination, and his presence unified the Crusaders.

As the Crusade progressed, the forces encountered numerous obstacles and challenges, but they remained steadfast in their mission to defeat the darkness. The reveal of the new Saint Celestine was a turning point, as the faithful were inspired by his presence and the hope it brought.

The faithful were filled with a renewed sense of purpose and determination, as they marched forward, ready to face whatever challenges lay ahead. The presence of the new Saint Celestine was a beacon of hope, a reminder that even in the darkest of times, there is always a light to guide the way.
Ephrael Stern was once a Seraphim of the Order of Our Martyred Lady, though she has since been known by many other epithets. Thrice-born, the Daemonsfuge, sainted saviour and heretical witch have all been used either in laudatory praise, or hate-filled condemnation. No records of her existence remain in the sanctuary in which she once trained and prayed. If any survive, then they may be inside the Order's fortress shrine within the Convent Sanctorum, or perhaps in the private archives of certain high-ranking Inquisitors Hereticus.

That such individuals are concerned with her deeds is a reflection of the suspicion in which Stern is now held, but it was not always thus. It was on Parnis, during an expedition to discover the fate of a lost Order Pronatus, that Stern was slain in battle against the minions of a Greater Daemon of Slaanesh. This loathsome daemon had physically ensnared the seven hundred Sisters of the lost Order and forged them into a single flesh-prison, formed of their bodies. The creature's followers called the unholy creation the Screaming Cage, for the Sisters who formed it suffered endless agonies. Yet while the Screaming Cage tormented their conjoined bodies and magnified their pain, the damned Sisters were also fused in mental and spiritual might, united in their faith. Stern's selfless attack gave the entities of the Screaming Cage their chance. Seizing the opportunity, they poured their spiritual strength into Stern's fallen form. In a blaze of righteous power, Stern was propelled back to life, as a tremendously potent and gifted champion against the servants of Chaos.

Since that day, Ephrael Stern has had to battle not only the worshippers of the Dark Gods, but also those of her own Imperium who believe her to be irrevocably tainted. Though they might WAR ZONE: VARENTIA

Among its endless wars, the Imperium fights over worlds either rich in resources, or whose positions shield others against barbarous threats. For the Adeptus Ministorum, the greatest resource is faith, and their battles are fought for the purity of Mankind’s soul. Worlds like Varentis II, a vital wellspring of labour and soldiers, must be kept pure at all costs, lest corruption spread.

It was local clergy of the Cult Imperialis that first raised the alarm of impending heresy in the Varentia System. Throughout the equatorial city-states on the capital world of Varentis II, the insurrection began small, with minor disturbances, interaction disputes and dangerous claims of variant doctrinal interpretation. Concentrated in the huge cities – each spreading for hundreds of miles – the disruption threatened the valuable flows of minerals extracted from nomadic mining settlements far to the north, whose transuranic ores were a treasure of the local Ubarg Sub-sector. Malcontents and thugs were brutally quashed by Varentis II’s Adeptus Arbites and reserve defence militias. Yet no sooner had one protest-turned-riot been crushed, than three more would spring up in other cities, seemingly unconnected. The ruling Heptarchy deployed the planet’s centralised defence forces whilst simultaneously despatching hired guns and privately owned troops against their rivals. The dedicated Ministorum Priests, however, had detected a connective undercurrent of apostasy. They preached vigilance against unknown clan miners from the north, who appeared alongside each new shipment of minerals before seemingly disappearing into the cities’ underbellies.

While matters degenerated, the senior bishops of the Cathedral Mirabilis made contact with the Order of Our Martyred Lady. The cathedral was the seat of Ubarg’s bishopric – a towering and ostentatious edifice whose foundation had been laid in honour of a fallen saint of the Order, Carnelline. The Order of Our Martyred Lady responded with haste from their nearest sanctuary, yet the fickle tides of the warp beat against the Sisters’ ships as they made their journey to purge Varentis II. By the time they translated back to realspace on the edge of the Varentia System, recalibrated chronometers registered more than a year had elapsed on the embattled planet.

The Order’s assortment of requisitioned mass transports, donated freighters and converted barges deployed in an orbital blockade and beheld the equatorial belt in the grip of all-out war. Their hail was answered only by static-laced screams, unholy chants and oaths to a True Pantheon. Four Commanderies of the Order of Our Martyred Lady were unleashed in a swarm of drop-ships and landers. Canoness Preceptor Moirelle delivered her sermon from the transport bay of the Arvus Lighter, Divinitatus, preaching a fiery oratory of retribution and vengeance. As the transports tore through the atmosphere like blazing comets, dedicated clarion-craft broadcast deafening hymnals of praise. Converted Aquila Landers soared over the smoking cities, dousing them in sacred oils that ignited on contact with the air. Blessed aqua-seeders churned up the roiling clouds with archeochemical impregnation, so that a holy rain fell and blessed the tainted streets before the Sisters even set foot upon it. Allied Tech-Adepts of Mars overrode the foul broadcasts of the civilian vox network, so that each emitter around the planet blared with rapturous choirs. Such was Moirelle’s initial strategy: to overawe the traitors with the supreme majesty of the God-Emperor’s power, breaking their morale while inciting any loyal survivors to righteous hatred.

In the city-state of Forstadt, Moirelle’s second in command, Canoness Yves-Ly, despatched dozens of angelic Seraphim and Zephyrion Squads to break through the clouds of smoke from on high. Riding the crepuscular rays their passage created, they descended as if delivered by the hand of the Emperor himself. At the northern trade terminus of Gebarran, Palatine Theria discovered the truth to the priests’ suspicions. Her Mission of Sisters destroyed hidden caches of arms and battled mutated clan miners being delivered into the heart of Gebarran’s trading district – they had clearly hoped to lose themselves in the chaos of civil war as the Heptarchy aimed to keep their profits flowing.

In the capital, Varent-har, the Cathedral Mirabilis was no longer a shining beacon of faith. Once-gilded battlements were riven with iron spikes, and upon each was impaled the mutilated body of a Ministorum Priest. Enormous octahedral sigils proclaimed the holy site now as a fane for the Chaos Gods, and impious graffiti labelled the Emperor a false idol. This abominable sacrilege drew the majority of Canoness Moirelle’s forces. Swift phalanxes of Rhinos and Immolators tore along Varent-har’s rubble-strewn streets, disgorging squads of Battle Sisters that speared straight for the cathedral. Choral barrages of explosive missiles from the Canoness' second wave tore open the rude barricades and defensive lines the cultists had erected. Mutated spawn and godless cultists whose bodies were given over to daemonic possession poured out of the cathedrum's adjoining chapel bastions. Most were held at bay by ferocious firepower, brought down with volleys of explosive bolts and sheets of flamer before they reached the Sisters' lines. Yet several rampaging monstrosities breached the cordon, wreaking carnage amongst the Battle Sisters' ranks. Those Sisters who perished accepted their blessed martyrdom with serenity, continuing to fight to the end with screamed prayers on their lips rather than give ground. Their sacrifice gave their comrades time to redress their firing lines and purge the unclean monsters from their midsts.

Canoness Moirelle led a counter-attack that pierced the cultists' western flank, leading her warriors in shouted prayer towards the cathedrum's lower entrances. From the bowels of its crypts there suddenly arose an answering chorus. From the catacombs came Varentis II's Bishop-Praetor Inigo Rav Mellon, leading a starving but fierce-eyed civilian militia bearing bloodied, improvised weapons. Having continued their guerrilla war beneath the city for months, Rav Mellon had heard the battle psalms and swiftly brought war to the cultists' rear. Scores of the priest's militia were cut down in moments as the cultists turned upon them with wild fury, but the bishop's attack had achieved its purpose and split their attention. Between Moirelle's steadfast Battle Sisters and the suicidal militia of Rav Mellon, the remaining heretics defiling the cathedrum were torn apart.

Moirelle reconsecrated the Cathedrum Mirabilis, using it as her command headquarters to retake first Varent- bar and, after three more weeks, the remaining city-states. The Heptarchy suffered at her hand once the world was retaken, for they had failed in their duty. The bodies of each of their dynasties lined the major transit ways of the city-states in stasis-sealed moments of agony. Purges continued for more than a year under the oversight of Bishop-Praetor Rav Mellon. By Ecclesiarchal decree, approved by the High Lords, he brought Varentis II, as a shrine world in the name of those who had fallen in its defence.
THE ORDERS MILITANT

The Adepta Sororitas is necessarily sprawling in size and structure. Their ranks comprise multiple Orders scattered across the galaxy, allowing them to combat threats to the faith wherever they arise. It is the holy duty of the Orders Militant to expunge such dangers through vehement faith and the destructive power of their sacred weapons.

The Orders Militant are the most widely known Orders of the Adepta Sororitas, their members commonly known as the Sisters of Battle. Warriors all, each one dedicates themselves to achieving purity of spirit through martial perfection, and follows the most stringent training regimes and doctrines. The number of Sisters comprised by the Orders Militant pales in comparison to the sheer scale of soldiery wielded by the Astra Militarum, but the Adepta Sororitas boast a degree of elite martial prowess that is almost unmatched amongst the Imperial Guard.

The nominal and ceremonial headquarters of each Order lies within the fortified, shrine complex of their parent Convent. Together known as the Great Convents, each one is a gargantuan physical edifice and represents the senior tier of the organisational hierarchy. The Convent Sanctorum lies on Ophelia VII, the oldest of the cardinal worlds, while the Convent Prioris was built within the Ecclesiarchal Palace upon Holy Terra. Beyond the Great Convents, each of the Orders Militant oversees a parish within the wider Imperium, throughout which their presence is established via fortified sanctuaries. The oldest of these parishes are ancient, and many cover immense areas of space. Yet Wars of Faith do not stop at a parish boundary while there are heretics still to burn and idolaters to root out. Most Orders spread the illumination of the God-Emperor to worlds far beyond their primary sanctuaries, establishing far-flung missions and subsidiary chapels to extend the influence of their Order and the Ecclesiarchy.

The weapons, war engines and exquisitely crafted battle gear of the Orders Militant are supplied to the Ecclesiarchy by the Tech-Priests of Mars. Under a millennia-old treaty known as the Writ Illuminat, the Adeptus Mechanicus ensure that the elite warriors of the Ecclesiarchy are armed in perpetuity. Reaffirmed by each successive Ecclesiarchy, the Writ Illuminat symbolises the communion between the Adepta Sororitas and the Tech-Priests of the Machine Cult, and by its sacred words do the Sisters know the adepts of Mars to be loyal servants of the God-Emperor – despite their unconventional devotions.

Every piece of wargear supplied to the Adepta Sororitas is first taken to either the Convent Prioris or the Convent Sanctorum. There they are blessed by choirs of novitiates in rites that can last for days, or even weeks. The Order’s weapons, such as the Godwyn-Déaz pattern bolter, are daubed in sacred oils and polished with cloths touched by saints. Every bolt and chainsword tooth is inscribed with verses from the Fede Imperialis – the Battle Hymn of the Adepta Sororitas – to ensure that its path is true. The hilt of a fearsome battle tank and the ceramic plating of sculpted power armour are adorned with the Order’s traditional colours and illuminated with script from devotional books of prayer. While the armour worn by Sisters of Battle forges those auxiliary systems that require a Space Marine’s genetically enhanced physiology to function, it still provides the same indomitable degree of protection.

THE BLADE OF FAITH

A Sister will typically make a pilgrimage to the Great Convent of her Order to have her wargear blessed, and through sacred rituals her soul is bound to her armaments. From that day forth, Sororitas and weapon operate as one to vanquish the enemies of the faith. This is not always a possibility – a Sister may need to rearm during an ongoing war, usually by using the weapon of a fallen comrade to continue fighting. But within each Order, it is understood that to use another Sister's weapon is a great blessing, for it allows the fallen warrior to fight on, even though her soul has been taken up by the Emperor.

Specialty wargear destined to be wielded by a Canoness may be sprinkled with blood from the Font of Martyrs that stands within each Convent, before being placed amongst the crypts of fallen saints to lie in repose until it is taken up by its bearer. These are not the only artefacts of war to be revered as relics.

Among the holy arsenal of an Order Militant, Paragon Warsuits are regarded as sacred vestments with a noble will of their own. When war calls the Sisters, some of the Order’s elite Celestians descend into the catacombs beneath their sanctuary. Here lie the mortal remains of saintly warriors. Among them, statuesque warsuits stand in individual reliquary chapels that hum with divine power feeds. Each warsuit is named, its deeds inscribed on stone tablets lining the chapel. Only the most worthy – in faith and in martial skill – are believed to be able to rouse the warrior spirit that pervades each suit. Kneeling in supplicant prayer before it, a Celestian asks for its divine power in the battle to come. Should she be deemed noble enough, the empty suit is said to raise its blade and lay it upon the warrior’s shoulder in a miraculous blessing. Thus chosen, the Sisters embarks within it, the ammunition feeders and fuel lines disengage and, as one, warrior and warsuit stride out to face down whatever heresy has dared show its face.
ORDER OF OUR MARTYRED LADY
THE GOD-EMPEROR'S FIERY SWORD

The fires of vengeance burn brightly in every Sister of the Order of Our Martyred Lady. They are the deliverers of the God-Emperor's holy justice, the dreaded instruments of his will to whom no sacrifice is too great, and to the clarion call of impassioned prayers they rain unrelenting destruction upon his enemies.

Of all the Orders Militant, there are none more numerous or more widely spread than the Order of Our Martyred Lady. Their name is known by the ruling elites and unwashed masses alike on countless worlds across the galaxy, evoking hope in the righteous and fear amongst the faithless. The Order is renowned for its unrelenting pursuit of those who defy the Emperor by doing harm to his Imperum and its citizens. Xenos marauders, Chaos armies and heretical cults are met with burning fury by the Sisters of Our Martyred Lady, who gather wherever the enemy is found to scour them from existence.

The Order was one of the first four Orders Militant to be created in the wake of Ecclesiarchal reorganisation. Originally founded as the Order of the Fiery Heart, its Sisters were led by Saint Katherine. Her death during one of the Order's many Wars of Faith sent waves of anguish throughout the Adepta Sororitas. Channelling their grief, Katherine's own Order embarked upon an endless quest for retribution. In honour of their fallen Matriarch, they became the Order of Our Martyred Lady and have pursued vengeance against the enemies of their faith ever since.

Since the death of their Matriarch, the Order of Our Martyred Lady has developed a cult of martyrdom that is unparalleled amongst the Sisterhood. All Sororitas are taught that to die serving the Emperor is the purest fate his servants can hope for, but amongst the Sisters of Our Martyred Lady this ideal is expressed so fervently that it can appear as though they have a death wish. Isolated Battle Sisters stand bravely against onrushing hordes of foes, hymns of defiance and reports of bolguns rising to a simultaneous crescendo – and when the blades of the foe hack into the Sisters' flesh, they give their souls willingly up to the God-Emperor. Such noble deaths are met with shouts of praise from the slain Sisters' comrades, for it is by such unwavering loyalty and faith that the Emperor's gaze is drawn to the battlefield.

The Sisters of Our Martyred Lady employ tactics that see their formations spread like fire, advancing inexorably as they reduce all who stand before them to ash. Yet their approach to warfare is far from undisciplined. Katherine was a devoted student of military doctrine, and the Order of Our Martyred Lady has upheld her teachings. Its Sisters are able to switch from one strategy to another with frightening speed and efficacy.

The Order of Our Martyred Lady holds fortified sanctuaries on many Imperial worlds. Some of these sanctuaries operate in relative isolation, existing far beyond the established boundaries of the Order's parish, but the majority are located in the Segmentum Obscurus. The broad distribution of the Order's Preceptors has seen the Sisters of Our Martyred Lady engage in many of the Imperium's most gruelling war zones. On Armageddon, the Sisters defended the Santorium of Saint Katherine against the rampaging Ork hordes of the belligerent Warlord, Ghazghkull Thraka. Though fully half of their number was martyred, the sheer grit of the Sisters drew Orks from other battlefronts to join the siege. The Order also fought on Cadia during the Thirteenth Black Crusade of Abaddon the Despoiler, their faith and unflinching firepower making the Traitors pay in blood for every step they took.

Although the Great Rift now divides many of the Order's sanctuaries, the Sisters of Our Martyred Lady have not relented in their quest to avenge the Imperium's fallen heroes. They stand dauntless against the Chaos forces that pour from newly opened warp storms, and they march out to annihilate any foe that would prey upon Humanity's beleaguered defenders. The fire of their spirit is a sign of hope, that even in this time of horror, the Emperor has not abandoned his faithful servants.
JUNITH ERUITA

Junith Eruita sweeps into battle wreathed in holy fire and holding high the Mace of Castigation. Riding within the Pulpit of Saint Holline’s Basilica, she hovers across the battlefield upon thrumming waves of holy energy. The pulpits’ heavy flammers swirled seemingly of their own accord, seeking out the heretical and the faithless and immobilising them without mercy.

As the pyres blaze higher, the Canoness Superior’s voice rings out over their furious crackling, her every utterance as sharp and clear as the bells of Ophelia VII. No matter how outnumbered, how bloodied they may be, every true Imperial servant who hears her words feels the fires of faith kindle anew in their breast. They surge back into the fight with a prayer on their lips and righteous hatred in their eyes. This is Eruita’s greatest gift from the Emperor, this undying flame of absolute belief that leaps to all those around her as though their souls were dry timber and her words the blazing brand. In this inferno of faith have countless heretics, witches and aliens burned, and by its white heat have manifold Imperial victories been forged.

From her first days in the Schola Progenium it was remarked that Junith Eruita exhibited an almost frightening intensity of faith. Orphaned during the Gethsephone Massacres, Eruita’s traumatic experiences had clearly scared her. Yet she did not break, but rather focused her rage against Mankind’s enemies while cleaving to the absolute belief that the Emperor watched over his people. By the time she joined the ranks of the Order of Our Martyred Lady, Eruita was already being watched with keen interest by its then Canoness Superior, Marya Sommatian. Eruita’s talent for inspirational address; her intensity of faith; her somewhat maniacal fondness for, and prodigious skill with, flamer weaponry; all had been noted by her drill-abbots, and suggested great things to come.

Sommatian was not disappointed. Sister Eruita took to the role of Retributor with fervour, becoming both the inspirational lynchpin of her squad and a truly ferocious warrior with her anointed heavy flamer. In the fullness of time Eruita rose to the position of Celestian, plying her flames of purgation as one of the Canoness Superior’s personal bodyguards. In that role she fought at Sommatian’s side across the killing fields of Phildro, through the purge of the Nightmare Hive and even to the gates of the City of the Poisoned King. Then came Holline’s Hope, and a taintful advance under fierce shelling from the heretical forces of the Iron Warriors. The Sororitas had just secured the blasted shell of Saint Holline’s Basilica when a salvo of missiles crashed down upon it. The vaulted roof collapsed. The tall bastion towers fell. Hundreds of Sisters died as the structure caved in, and Sommatian was amongst them. It was then that the wounded Sister Eruita scaled the stair leading to the miraculously untouched pulpit from which Saint Holline had once preached. Fire rained down around her but neither shot nor shell touched the pulpit as Eruita delivered a blistering address to her surviving Sisters. Every eye lit with faith renewed, and with a mighty cry the Order of Our Martyred Lady swept onwards to a costly but decisive victory. Junith Eruita ascended to replace Marya Sommatian that day, appointed by the grace of the Emperor himself, and has ridden to war in the blessed pulpit ever since as the true Blazing Heart of her Order.
ORDER OF THE VALOROUS HEART
THE BLESSED SCOURGE

Girded by their unshakable faith, the Order of the Valorous Heart perseveres through the most gruelling hardships to bring death to the Emperor's enemies. No amount of suffering is too great for them to bear, and all they endure is paid double to their foes.

In both their battle tactics and acts of worship, the Sisters of the Valorous Heart adhere to doctrines of stoicism and forbearance. Their practices stem from the teachings of their founder and Matriarch, Lucia, who amongst Dominica's companions was said to be a paragon of constancy. She was the level-headed counterpoint to Katherine's burning passion. When the Sisters of the Convent Sanctorum were split, Ecclesiarch Alexis XII wrote that Lucia's Order of the Valorous Heart was to be the immovable anvil to the Fiery Heart's crushing hammer. Yet from their inception the Valorous Heart were far from a purely defensive force. Led by their Matriarch, they aggressively sought worlds upon which the roots of heresy had grown deep, where witchcraft and profane mutation ran rampant, and then set themselves to the task of systematically expunging all traces of faithlessness. The Order willingly plunged itself into protracted battles amidst horrific conditions, laying siege to sorcerous strongholds on death worlds and storming xenos planets that were iminical to Human existence. Aside from being undeniably effective in grinding away the enemy, these tactics also served as a form of penance. In the oldest manuscript of Lucia's teachings, recorded during her first address to her Order, she explained that the Adepta Sororitas would for evermore carry the burden of atonement for the actions that she and the Daughters of the Emperor had taken in supporting the pretender Goge Vandine.

Lucia's martyrdom came at the hands of a recidivist sect. She was captured and tortured over long months, the heretics attempting to break her spirit and make her recant her faith in the Emperor. Lucia's eyes were gouged out, and she was forced to listen to the screams of a thousand innocents as they themselves were tortured to death. Unknown to her, a group of her own Sisters were amongst those killed in this way, but it is said that not one of them uttered a sound as they endured their torments, so as not to cause their Matriarch any more pain than she had already suffered. Lucia eventually died, and the recidivists claimed loudly that they had shattered her resolve. But over the following decade, the Order of the Valorous Heart tracked down and captured every last member of the sect, all of whom confessed to lying about the Matriarch's lapse of faith. What became of those heretics is not known outside the Order. What is known is that a contingent of Sisters Hospitaller from the Order of the Silent Vow has been seconded to the Valorous Heart ever since that time, and its Sisters have been putting their knowledge of life extension and pain enhancement to use deep beneath the sanctuary of Lucia's Reprisal.

The example set by Lucia in her life, as well as through her martyrdom, has led to the Order of the Valorous Heart employing methods of warfare that are unique among the Adepta Sororitas. At the outset of battle the Sisters pray to the Emperor and their Matriarch for the strength to endure the horrors to come. They then launch offensives to cut off their foe's supply routes and lines of retreat. With the enemy locked in place, the Order begins sabotaging any infrastructure in the area – water supplies are drained, fuel reserves destroyed and pipelines transporting noxious substances are vented into the atmosphere. On feral worlds, anything that could provide the enemy with the least sustenance is incinerated. In short order, the battlefield is transformed into a harrowing desert, with a grinding war of attrition remaining as the only path to victory for either side.

Given the nightmarish conditions in which they choose to battle, it is no surprise that many Sisters of the Valorous Heart bear gruesome scars. The stigmata of torn flesh is seen as a badge of honour amongst the Order, for it is a reminder of the sufferings of Lucia. A Sister who loses an eye in battle is considered truly blessed, for it allows her to better understand the pain endured by her Matriarch, and to see more clearly the path of faith before her. Sisters of the Valorous Heart rarely accept numbing agents or pain-reducing stimms when their wounds are being tended to, even where surgery or amputation is required. To avoid the experience of pain in this way would be to deny the power of faith to overcome all suffering.

The bulk of the Order of the Valorous Heart’s sanctuaries lie deep in the Ultima Segmentum, with the vast majority having been established during hard-fought wars against xenos and traitor forces. Sanctified fortresses stand amidst death world swamps, jagged mountain ranges and barren wastelands that were scoured of life millennia ago. Relief sculptures and stained armaglass panes within these sanctuaries depict Sororitas obliterating hordes of xenos and roasting foul heretics in cleansing flames. Many of these sanctuary planets were plunged into darkness when the Great Rift tore open, and were invaded by daemons or subjected to mass Drukhari raids. Yet the Order has not wavered in its faith. Though many of its Preceptories are cut off from the light of the Emperor, they believe he still sees their struggles. They refer to this time of great trial as the Hour of Abacination, for the Imperium Nihilus has been blinded, just as Lucia was. But like their Matriarch, the Order of the Valorous Heart have steeled themselves to endure whatever torments are thrust upon them.

ABSOLUTION THROUGH PAIN

The Order of the Valorous Heart are not alone in their tenets of penitence through the acceptance of suffering, though they are among the most zealous in their practice. Amongst the Orders Militant, the feared Sisters known as Dogmata rigorously enforce their Sisterhood’s prescribed regulations, and ensure cast iron adherence to the most minute of sacred observances. Dogmata have the power to denounce a fellow Battle Sister as wanting for piety or for skill. They carry pain-shackles and torture implements as a reminder to their fellow Sisters of their role in detaining and punishing those who fall beneath their strict standards, consigning them to the ranks of the Sisters Repentia, or the dreaded Mortifiers.

Sisters Repentia comprise those members of the Adepta Sororitas found guilty of a host of sins, from minor infringements of esoteric commandments to wilful disobedience, or even simple failure in the face of overwhelming odds. Stripped of rank and armour, Repentia alone for their crimes in battle, carrying immense eviscerators to which the Sisters’ flesh is bound with agonising bars and seals of oath.

Sisters Repentia who abandon their redemptive quest and flee are guilty of a sin greater than all — save the unthinkable act of outright heresy. As punishment, they are wired into the mechanism of a Mortifier. These Engines of Penance leave the wayward Sister unable to move or scream; her sole mission now is one of enforced atonement. Tormented by neuro-agoniser arrays that amplify her self-loathing, and divorced from her Sisters’ prayers by an enclosing baffle around her head, the unfortunate pilot’s spiritual suffering fuels the Mortifier. They storm forward as terrifying shock troops, unleashing streams of holy fire and explosive bolts before crashing into the foe — their flails and saws reaping a bloody tally.
ORDER OF THE BLOODY ROSE
THE FIRES OF RIGHTEOUS ANGER

The Order of the Bloody Rose are the embodiment of the Emperor's hatred towards the heretic, the psyker and the mutant. Their Wars of Faith are not waged to save the innocent, but to slaughter the guilty, for only in death can the vile be made pure.

The Matriarch of the Order of the Bloody Rose is Saint Mina, who was as renowned for her dark, brooding nature as she was for her deadly skill in battle. What few records survived through the Reign of Blood suggest that she served as Alicia Dominica's champion, and that when Sebastian Thor's armies descended upon Terra she slew some of the mightiest invading warriors in hand-to-hand combat. One account – albeit riddled with inconsistencies – suggests that she duelled with the leader of the Custodians who entered the Ecclesiarchal Palace during the siege, and that the two fought to a standstill before words of an alliance were finally spoken. Whether true or not, the Sisters of the Bloody Rose revere Mina as the epitome of the martial virtues laid out by the Daughters of the Emperor, and dedicate themselves to emulating her violent prowess.

From their first War of Faith, the Sisters of the Bloody Rose made a name for themselves as brutal executioners. They were despatched to the Nephilim Sector to put down the Slaaneshi pain cults that had transformed many Imperial shrine worlds into planet-spanning torture chambers. Hospitallers of the Order of Serenity and Dialogi of the Order of the Quill followed in the wake of the Sororitas, where they were to tend to the bodies and souls of the faithful after the afflicted worlds had been liberated by the Bloody Rose. But when the non-militant Orders arrived in the war zone, they found only death. The Militant Sisters had moved from planet to planet, mercilessly butchering the cultists they encountered without stopping to free the pain cults' imprisoned victims. When the last of the Slaanesh-worshippers had been eradicated, the Canoness Superior of the Bloody Rose – who upon her death would become canonised as Saint Mari – penned the Thorn Treatise, using the blood of those Sisters who had fallen to record the teachings of this war. In the treatise, she outlined that the path of least evil lies always with the swift extirpation of those who oppose the faith, and therefore mercy in any form must come after the meting out of righteous anger.

From the moment a Sister joins the Bloody Rose, she is taught to foster and harness her most violent impulses so that they may be unleashed upon the enemies of the faith. Litanies of heretical deeds are intoned as novitiates engage in combat trials, the tales of spiritual traitors and vile apostates filling the trainees with hatred. Prayers that would be whispered in silence by other Orders are bellowed loudly within the Bloody Rose's sanctuaries. In place of contemplative meditation, the Sisters learn to light the fires of rage within themselves, even when they are not faced with provocation. Alongside such practices they also train to focus their anger, for they are taught that to allow oneself to be overtaken by apoplexy is as great a sin as indulging in notions of demency. Through constant drilling they learn to unleash their inner hatred only when it is most effective, channeling it with the explosive force of a shot fired from a boltgun.

The Bloody Rose's precepts of anger have truly brutal results when unleashed upon the battlefield. The Sisters advance with disciplined manoeuvres, using weight of fire to gain advantage over a flank or employing cunning feints to draw their enemy into overcommitting. As soon as the foe is at close range, the Sisters charge, striking at the moment they crash into the enemy lines, and screaming wrathful praise as they give vent to their hatred. Gun stocks are swung with enough force to shatter helms and the skulls within. Chainswords are driven messily through torsos, then wrenched out and thrust again before the split innards hit the ground. The power-armoured warriors deliver murderous kicks, punches and elbows that crack bones and burst organs. But in this flurry of carnage, each Sister attacks with practised precision, her rage only manifesting in the instant of impact before it is once more reigned in.

The Order of the Bloody Rose believes sheer martial ferocity to be a manifestation of the Emperor’s will. They pray to be granted the skill, alacrity and outrage of their Matriarch in battle. Often, a Sister facing down a hulking Chaos champion or xenos monstrosity will glow with rage. Rivulets of energy gather around her into a crackling nimbus, her eyes become a deep red and tears of blood streak down her cheeks. She moves with lightning speed, dodging and parrying numerous deathblows from her hated foe before landing her own immaculate killing strike. Such miraculous transformations are met with cries of exaltation, for they know that Mina’s soul is inhabiting the body of that blessed Sister.

Throughout the Imperium there are many worlds once held by heretics that the Order of the Bloody Rose have sanctified by the spilling of blood. Amongst these planets is Hydraphur, where Mina was martyred. It is said that the servants of Khorne attacked the Matriarch while she was alone in prayer. No other soul saw what transpired, but when Mina’s body was discovered, it was surrounded by the brutalised corpses of her enemies. Armoured heads and limbs lay strewn amongst rubble, and gore flowed in rivers through cracks in the flagstones. The circumstances of her martyrdom are enshrined in the symbol of the Bloody Rose, which has a pair of crossed blades dripping with fresh blood.

Though the Order of the Bloody Rose has committed a significant contingent of its Sisters to war zones along the Great Rift, the majority of its forces are battling against incursions coming from the galactic south. They have met the tendrils of Hive Fleets Leviathan and Hydra on multiple fronts, where they have butchered the ravenous creatures and the Genestealer Cults that worship them. They have also fought a series of harrowing battles against the Thousand Sons Cult of Duplicity, combating the sorcerous machinations of the Tzeentch-worshippers with bolt, blade and faith.
ORDER OF THE EBON CHALICE
THE PERFECTION OF SANCTITY

Obstinate in their traditions and indomitable in combat, the Sisters of the Ebun Chalice seek to perfect the martial disciplines of the Daughters of the Emperor, employing tactics that have been honed over millennia to annihilate the enemies of the Imperium.

The Order of the Ebun Chalice was the first of the Orders Militant to be created, with its Sisters drawn from the Convent Prioris on Holy Terra. Its founder, leader and Matriarch was Alicia Dominica, slayer of the tyrant Vandire and chosen of the Emperor. Under her guidance, the Ebun Chalice quickly established itself as the exemplar against which all other Orders would be measured. Dominica herself served as the military and spiritual head of the Adepta Sororitas. The Sisters of the Order displayed devotional and martial discipline that was second to none, with their fortitude in battle matched only by the depth of their faith. In their training and on the field of war they cleaved unerringly to the doctrines laid out by the Daughters of the Emperor, with the only adaptations being those that incorporated the use of modern Imperial weaponry and armour. A desire to emulate the perfection of Dominica burned in the heart of every Sister of the Ebun Chalice. Dominica repeatedly showed herself to be the God-Emperor's most worthy champion, displaying her strength, constancy and tactical acumen across myriad war zones.

While other Orders battled the faithless in the distant reaches of the Imperium, the Sisters of the Ebun Chalice dedicated themselves to safeguarding the sanctity of Terra and the Segmentum Solar. Planet by planet, system by system, the Order expanded their parish, rooting out cults buried deep in the bowels of hive worlds and eradicating mutant conclaves that were infesting barren moons and isolated outposts. Shrine worlds that had long ago fallen to xenos invasions were besieged by waves of chanting warriors. Wherever the servants of Chaos were found they were met with damning oaths and cleansing flames. As they brought more territories under their care, the Sisters of the Ebun Chalice were able to expose scores of planetary governors and Astra Militarum officers whose practices did not conform to the exact letter of the Imperial Creed. Preachers and confessors were called upon to make examples of the unrighteous, and where such efforts to enforce true faith were met with resistance, the Sisters of the Ebun Chalice marched forth to purge the impure. No sinner was safe under the exacting gaze of Dominica's Order.
During these early Wars of Faith, Dominica carried the Grail of Ages with her to war – the goblet of black stone that was created to be the embodiment of the Matriarch's communion with the Emperor. Little is known about the Grail and the power it held. Few accounts exist of this relic's holy energy being unleashed on the battlefield, and the details they provide range between the miraculous and the heretical. Awed Ecclesiarchal scribes wrote that when Dominica poured out the vessel's contents, the God-Emperor's voice boomed, and with a single word shattered whole armies. Well-guarded records of the Astra Telepathica show instances in which every psyker on a planet spontaneously burst into flames when the Matriarch of the Ebon Chalice carried the Grail into battle. It is believed that there are tales of the Grail of Ages within the eldritch tomes of the Black Library, and possibly even in the writhing pages of the Book of Magnus. As for the Sisters of the Ebon Chalice, they do not speak of its powers, but have always professed that the relic symbolises their sacred duty and eternal burden – that they are the bearers of the secrets learnt by Dominica before the Golden Throne, and are the vessels of the God-Emperor's holy truth. This goes some way to explaining why the Order has ever sought to destroy any texts concerning the Grail, and have immolated their scribes as heretics.

After several centuries of faithful service to the Emperor and her Order, Alicia Dominica was martyred, falling in combat during the Scouring of Frideswide's World. Not since the passing of Sebastian Thor had the bell tower of the Ecclesiarchal Palace tolled so dolefully. Her martyrdom left a gaping void in the organisation of the Adepta Sororitas, for none amongst the ranks considered themselves worthy to follow in her hallowed footsteps. Eventually, Sister Palmiro – a Dialogus of the Order of the Holy Word – was chosen by her peers as the most suitable to take over from the fallen Matriarch and become Abbess of the Adepta Sororitas. Palmiro accepted, but not before solemnly expressing that she could never hope to equal her predecessor's faith, vision or fortitude. It was this humility that made Palmiro the obvious choice, for to serve the Sororitas, the Ecclesiarchy and the Emperor in Dominica's stead was regarded not as a mark of honour, but as the undertaking of a grave and thankless responsibility.

The Sisters of the Ebon Chalice have striven to embody Dominica's perfection in all that they do. While they have waged Wars of Faith across the galaxy, they remain a bulwark of faith in the Segmentum Solar, combating gross nonconformity with flame and blade. They view themselves as first amongst the Sororitas, the Order that all others must strive to emulate. On those rare and grave occasions where a group of Sisters has a lapse in their faith, it is the Ebon Chalice that is called upon to bring the judgement of the Emperor, the Ecclesiarchy and Dominica down upon them.

Like all of Humanity, the Order of the Ebon Chalice has been faced with untold horrors since the Great Rift opened. Alongside their allies of old – the Adeptus Custodes, Space Marines and Adeptus Mechanicus – the spiritual descendants of Dominica fight to keep the unleashed forces of Chaos from overwhelming the Segmentum Solar. The Sisters have eradicated several warbands of Chaos Space Marines, most notably the Blades of the Despoiler – a Khornate host of the Black Legion whose path of slaughter was headed directly for Terra. Yet the Ebon Chalice has also taken heavy losses. Though the Schola Progenium proffers a constant stream of new recruits, only the most promising are accepted into the Order, and of those only a small percentage prove themselves in the gruelling initiation rites to become Battle Sisters. This has left the Sisters of the Ebon Chalice straining against the sheer weight of the heretical incursions – but they are far from broken. Each is an expert in the ancient forms of battle established by the Daughters of the Emperor, a warrior who has mastered both their weaponry and their faith. Those who prove themselves worthy enough to rise to the rank of Celestian or Zephyrin are amongst the most skilled veterans in the entire Adepta Sororitas. The most honoured of these Sisters are even entrusted with a portion of the hallowed truth learnt by their Matriarch in the chamber of the Golden Throne.

ROSARIUS
Dogmatic tradition and the cleaving to ancient lore are deeply ingrained within the Adeptus Ministorum. Ancient icons, the possessions of legendary saints, tomes of scripture and statues to which miracles are ascribed are carefully maintained, and their spiritual meaning rigidly espoused. Artefacts crafted in their image possess a sacred symbolism, even if the original is long since lost or destroyed. Amongst the most widely seen of these simulacra is the rosarius. A rosarius contains a conversion field generator that amplifies the spiritual will of the wearer into a physical shield of energy. Often in the form of an amulet, each is a treasured relic of Imperial technology, bestowed only upon those who have proven themselves to be possessed of a worthy soul. They are carried by ordained clergy of the Cult Imperialis, and there are rare examples of them being gifted to high-ranking laity whose devotion has been of great service to the Ecclesiarchy. They are also worn by the Chaplains of the Adeptus Astartes, to symbolise the uneasy peace between the Ministorum and the Space Marine Chapters. Amongst the Adepta Sororitas, a rosarius has further significance as a symbol of the pact made between the Daughters of the Emperor and Goge Vandire. It was by Vandire's rosarius that the Daughters were swayed to his cause, yet the same rosarius failed him when he was revealed as a traitor. The weight of a rosarius around a Canones' neck is a constant reminder that true faith requires eternal vigilance against the faithless.
ORDER OF THE ARGENT SHROUD
THE SILVER SPEARHEAD

Like a silver bolt, the Sisters of the Argent Shroud strike at the Emperor’s enemies. They are renowned for their speed in combat, and are often first into the fray, where their faith in their protector saint shines bright.

The Matriarch of the Argent Shroud is Silvana, first martyred and most mysterious of Dominica’s bodyguard. Her service as head of the Order was brief. Shortly after Alicia Dominica had founded the Order of the Ebon Chalice, the remaining Sisters of the Convent Prioris were placed under Silvana’s command, but Silvana was struck down before launching a single War of Faith. The most reliable records concur that a Death Cult Assassin poisoned her, although these accounts vary wildly in their speculations as to motive. Some suggest the murderer was an agent still loyal to Vandrês’s vision of the Ecclesiarchy, whereas others propose that the forces of the heretical Alpha Legion played a hand in the fell deed. The Sisters of the Argent Shroud hold that it was Dominica whom the assassin had attempted to slay, and Silvana had sacrificed herself in order to save the Emperor’s chosen one. This is in keeping with her character, for on numerous occasions she had placed herself in harm’s way to protect the least of her allies. The journal of Ecclesiarch Alexis XXII relates that while Silvana’s body was laid in state within the Inner Sanctum of the Convent Prioris, after seven days it mysteriously vanished. Only a silver image of her bones was left, imprinted on her death shroud, and it is from this treasured relic that her Order received its name.

The Order of the Argent Shroud teaches that deeds have more power than words when it comes to purifying the spirit and purging the taint of corruption from the Imperium. This belief is derived from the example of Silvassa, whose acts of bravery and faithfulness were well recorded during the Age of Apostasy, yet not a single word spoken by her is recorded in any surviving transcription from the time. Her Sisters emulate this by speaking very little and by entering long periods of complete silence whenever they engage in training. This limitation of speech does not preclude them from prayer or worship, and like the members of other Orders they still chant hymns of wrathful purification as they march into battle. But the Sisters of the Argent Shroud believe that it is more righteous to provide their service to the God-Emperor than it is to ask for his holy favour.

They avoid formulating grand stratagems and rarely communicate intended tactics to their allies, to the ire of many Imperial generals. Simply put, the Order places its trust in the divine guidance of the Emperor more than in the carefully orchestrated plans of his fallible servants. The results achieved by the Argent Shroud soon put paid to any misgivings. Spearheads of silver-clad warriors race towards teeming xenos throngs, and invasion cathedrums hurtle onto worlds writhing with Chaos energy. With swift surges the Sororitas smash through the defensive formations of far larger armies, destroying monstrous artillery batteries stationed behind the front lines, and permanently silencing the demagoguery of heretical enemy commanders. Lightning-fast assaults are followed by rapid withdrawals, and as the foe reels in confusion, the Sisters of the Argent Shroud reform and strike again.

By committing themselves so boldly to these offensives, the warriors of the Argent Shroud often leave themselves cut off from support, surrounded and outnumbered. But it is in such dire circumstances that their faith shines brightest. Filled with divine conviction, the Sororitas fight on against impossible odds, standing strong amidst the carnage as they drop their foes one by one, knowing that Silvana watches over them in battle. Those Sisters who fall often save their entire squad from annihilation with their dying action, throwing themselves into the line of fire just as their Matriarch would have done.

Due to their propensity for hit-and-run assaults, the Sisters of the Argent Shroud have some of the deadliest and most experienced shock troops of all the Adepta Sororitas. Many of the Order’s Commanderies boast large contingents of Dominion Squads, who are deployed en masse to break through the defensive lines of unsuspecting enemies, or are sent in small numbers to infiltrate fortresses, macro-bunkers and command centres in hostile territory. These Dominos are also leaders in many of the Order’s rites of worship, their prayers on the battlefield often being the first intoned before being echoed by the other Sisters.

A peculiarity amongst the Order of the Argent Shroud lies with how they treat their dead. Where the members of other Orders cry out when a comrade is slain, reciting prayers to guide the fallen's soul to the Emperor and oaths of holy vengeance against the enemy, the Sisters of the Argent Shroud say not a word. Amongst their ranks, death is met with silence. Certain Ecclesiarchal scholars attribute this to a belief within the Order that martyrdom is a luxury, a reprieve from sacred duty that should only come when there are no more enemies left to slay. Yet the dead Sororitas are still handled with great care and solemnity after the fighting has finished. The martyrs are removed from the battlefield in sombre processions, their wounds cleaned and dressed, their armour repaired and polished, and they are laid to rest for seven days in the sanctuary in which they served. After that, the bodies are removed, though what becomes of them after this point is not known by anyone outside the Order.

The majority of the Argent Shroud's sanctuaries lie in the region of space that abuts the jagged mass of warp storms known as the Great Rift. During the Noctis Aeterna, when Chaos energies were blasted across the galaxy and the light of the holy Astronomican was temporarily extinguished, many of these sanctuary worlds were thought lost. Screaming maelstroms enveloped entire sub-parishes, while countless other worlds under the Order's watch were bathed in the warping glow of the Cicatrix Maledictum. In the harrowing years since, the Order has continued to fight against the marauding Chaos forces without showing any signs of diminishishment. The Sororitas appear without warning in raging war zones along the breadth of the Great Rift, striking with crippling speed at their unprepared enemies. Multiple Preceptories that were thought lost have since been seen in battle, and though they say nothing of the fates of their sanctuary worlds, they fight with unmatched hatred against the servants of the Dark Gods.

'They came like droplets of liquid fire or silver rain, the setting sun's rays reflecting painfully from their armour. They didn't wait for the advance. Old Garrink screamed himself hoarse trying to find out where their orders had come from. Nothing. Nothing was all that remained of the heretics' command post, too. There was no sign of the Emperor's angels, save the bloody corpses of their enemies.'

ORDER OF THE SACRED ROSE
THE LIGHT OF BATTLE'S SERENITY

Wreathed in holy light and possessed of divine serenity, the Sisters of the Sacred Rose are the calm at the centre of a violent storm. Their hymns of hope and salvation are underscored in battle by the crack of bolts and the roar of burning promethium.

More so than any other Order, the Sacred Rose avow that they are not only devout servants of the God-Emperor – they are the conduits of his divine will. Through them is his glory made manifest in the galaxy, for their words and actions are guided by his infallible wisdom. The Order teaches that victory comes from faith and faith alone. If a warrior has enough faith, she can command the stars to consume her enemies, and the Emperor will make it so. The Sisters act on this belief in every battle, war and crusade they wage, trusting that the triumphal slaughter of their foes has been preordained. Even when one of their number falls, they know that this too is part of the Emperor’s plan. A single martyr can spark a fire in a thousand souls, giving rise to an inferno of faith that can never be extinguished.

These beliefs give the Sisters of the Sacred Rose an air of devout serenity that approaches that held by their Matriarch, Arabella. She was renowned for her calm nature in the face of horror, and was known among Alicia Dominica’s guard as being the most even-tempered. It is widely told that Arabella was instrumental in the negotiations between Dominica and the Custodian who led the Matriarchs before the Golden Throne. Arabella subsequently earned the honorific of ‘Liberator’, for she sought to break the shackles of fear and doubt that bound the faithful, and strove to free Humanity from the evils of the faithless. Though a formidable combatant, her true strength sprang from the abundance of miracles that are said to have happened in her presence. There are stories of heretics imploding into lumps of smouldering flesh as her gaze fell upon them, being crushed by the weight of their own wickedness, or having their eyes melt from their face as they beheld her glory.

Though Arabella was only canonised posthumously, she performed countless miracles during her lifetime. She travelled the Imperium serving as a commander and beacon of faith for many decades. The circumstances surrounding her martyrdom are not recorded in any Ecclesiarchal text, but in the 38th Millennium the Order of the Sacred Rose was founded in her name. Ecclesiarch Decius VI formed the Order from the Sisters of the Convent Prioris, and from the outset the Sacred Rose proved themselves worthy of their Matriarch.
Through their Wars of Faith they brought the light of the Emperor to regions long thought lost to the darkness – Imperial planets were freed from the yoke of heretical tyrants, cabals of xenos mystics were hunted down and butchered, and sanctuaries were established to serve as outposts of divinity in the most remote corners of the Imperium. The Sacred Rose forged a sizeable parish in the Ultima Segmentum, but like Arabella they brought their faith to bear across the galaxy.

When the Sisters of the Sacred Rose march to war, they do so in a state of holy grace. Scores of Sororitas advance in perfect tactical harmony, adapting fluidly to the shifting tides of battle.
Squads unleash the firepower of the holy trinity with measured discipline. As they do so, they lift their voices, singing liturgical hymns in praise of the Emperor.
This symphony of choral worship and roaring weaponry quickly drowns out the screams of dying mutants and the wet tearing of heretical flesh. The Sisters press the attack wherever their enemy shows weakness, sending frag grenades sailing into gaps in formations and blasting the exposed flanks of artillery with superheated meltas beams. Where the foe shows strength, the Sororitas stand firm, locking ranks against assaults and cutting down onrushing attacking with deliberate and devastating savagery. Yet it is their seamless pairing of faith with physical prowess that makes them a truly indomitable force.
Miraculous bursts of speed are factored into redeployment manoeuvres, whilst the spontaneous combustion of nearby foes is relied upon as much as any chainsword or bolt pistol. Assured of the Emperor’s providence, the Sisters of the Sacred Rose maintain their ineffable serenity as they slaughter all before them.

The Order of the Sacred Rose are often accompanied to war by an inordinate number of Ecclesiarchal followers.
Ministorum Priests and their fanatical conclaves flock to the Sororitas, eager to witness the miracles that will unfold.
As such, even small missions are rarely short of soldiers. A core of Sororitas may be supported by many devotees of the Imperial Cult, their prayers and cries of penance intermingling with the battle hymn of the Sacred Rose. Canonesses of the Order welcome these faithful auxiliaries, and teach the Sisters in their charge that the Emperor has the power to act through the least of his servants.
Arabella herself was known to gather the unwashed rabble to her banner in times of battle, and it is said that the power of her conviction transformed them into armies of indomitable warriors.

The Order’s ability to draw others to their cause has been of crucial value since the Great Rift tore open.
The occluding mass of warp storms has pluned hundreds of thousands of worlds into perpetual darkness.
Astrophobic lines of communication have been severed by the psychic upheaval. Billions of distress calls have been lost in the screaming void. Cut off from the light of the Astronomicon, Navigators are unable to guide ships between distant stars, and so even those cries for help that are received can rarely be answered with action. The majority of the Sacred Rose’s sanctuaries lie deep within the Imperium Nihilus, but few have succumbed to the nightmares unleashed across that half of the galaxy.

The Sisters of the Sacred Rose have remained a steadfast beacon of hope, and have fought the enemies of the faith with the same resoluteness of spirit that they have always possessed. Where many worlds were consumed by panic and fear, even before the servents of the Dark Gods fell upon them, those under the care of the Order have become bastions of defiance. Sororitas patrols execute anyone who expresses doubt in the security of the Imperium. At the same time, Astra Militarum regiments are commanded by the Order, and soldiers showing the slightest hints of mutation are expunged. On each planet, the Sororitas lead defences against legions of daemons and Heretic Astartes.
Yet it is not only their own worlds that they fight to protect. The Sisters of the Sacred Rose have miraculously appeared in multiple war zones across the Imperium Nihilus. Few question how the Sororitas were able to hear their calls for reinforcement, or how they managed to navigate amidst the darkness and horror. Those that do are told by the Sisters that Arabella always provides guidance, even when the Emperor’s will is not clear.
ORDERS MINORIS

Spread across the Imperium are hundreds of smaller Orders Militant. Some have numbers enough to oversee large parishes, whereas others maintain only a single sanctuary. Each of these Orders Minoris is a spiritual descendant of one of the six original Orders, but operates independently in prosecuting their Wars of Faith.

ORDER OF THE GLOWING CHALICE
As spiritual descendants of the Order of the Ebon Chalice, the Sisters of the Glowing Chalice are exacting in their standards of faith and martial prowess. They have established a chain of sanctuaries across the coreward portion of the Vedill Sub-sector, and have battled multiple Chaos incursions alongside the Scions of the 9th Iotan Gorgonites. When launching assaults, these Sisters attack with the Terran Dawn, striking when Terra rises over a war-torn world’s horizon. Though the planets on which they battle are far too distant for the light of Sol to reach, the Sisters of the Glowing Chalice still feel the Emperor’s illumination falling upon them.

ORDER OF THE THORN
The Order of the Thorn is a rampaging force that butchers its way to victory. Having adapted the martial practices of the Order of the Bloody Rose, Sisters of the Thorn enter prolonged states of fury, hacking and stabbing at foes until all are slaughtered before them, or until they themselves are made martyrs. In this way they seek to recreate the last moments of Saint Mila’s life, transforming themselves into whirlwinds of death before which the faithless cannot hope to stand. By battle’s end, the pale armour worn by these Sisters is covered in crimson gore, while the skin of those placed to rest in the Order’s crypts is left permanently covered with the ichor of their hated foes.

ORDER OF THE IRON VEIL
The Sisters of the Iron Veil are renowned for their mental and spiritual resilience. They specialise in launching surgical strikes into war zones where psychic warfare is being used to mutilate reality. Their Order was once a Preceptory of the Argent Shroud that was thought lost during the Cerebyte Uprisings. When the last Cerebyte Prince had been hunted down and killed, the Sisters were found intact. Their sanctuary had not only endured the horrors that had torn through the sub-sector, but had kept their world from devouring itself, and had even continued recruiting Battle Sisters. Shortly after they were named a new Order by decree of Ecclesiarch Dorril III.
ORDER OF THE ASHEN SHRINE

Where the Order of the Ashen Shrine march to war, pyric miracles soon follow. Many are the stories of the Sisters driving their enemy into volcanic fissures that have torn open on the battlefield, of burning meteorites raining down on the formations of their foes, and of war machines exploding into destructive infernos when fired upon by the Sororitas. Like the Sacred Rose from which they were split, the warriors of the Ashen Shrine revere Saint Arabella, believing that the Emperor spoke through her. To emulate their Matriarch, the Sisters wield a great number of flamers, believing that the gouts of fire signify the Emperor's holy word.

ORDER OF THE WOUNDED HEART

Among the Orders that have split from the Valorous Heart, the Wounded Heart is unique in that its Sisters recite only a single verse from the Passion of Saint Lucia. The verse in question – verse 482 – describes how the Saint’s right hand was flensed, and yet through her suffering she remained faithful. As an act of communion, the Sisters of the Wounded Heart also deglove their own right hands, ritually stripping them of skin to keep the flesh and nerves raw. In this way they feel Lucia’s pain whenever they grip their weapon and pull the trigger, allowing them to meditate on the Saint’s excruciation as they unleash death upon the faithless.

ORDER OF THE GOLDEN LIGHT

One of the smallest of the Orders Militant, the Order of the Golden Light has nonetheless inspired great hope and fear across numerous Wars of Faith. They are a distant descendant of the Order of Our Martyred Lady, yet they continue to embody the fiery passion of the Matriarch Saint Katherine. On two separate occasions, the entire Order has been confirmed to be martyred in battle, only for the golden-clad Sisters to reappear in a nearby war zone. There are whispers that Schola Progenium databanks contain no record of the Order recruiting new members, giving rise to the belief that the Sisters of the Golden Light are all martyrs who have been resurrected.
NON-MILITANT ORDERS

The Daughters of the Emperor were more than a community of warriors, and devoted themselves to a wide range of disciplines by which they could serve the God-Emperor. Many of these disciplines survived the Age of Apostasy, and have been further developed by the Adepta Sororitas through specialised categories of non-militant Orders.

ORDERS HOSPITALLER
With the exception of the Adeptus Astartes Chapters, the Orders Hospitaller provide surgeons, physicians and nurses to all arms of the Imperial military. Sisters of these Orders exhibit their faith by operating in gruelling battlefield conditions, sawing off and cauterising limbs that have been mangled by blasts of warp energy and digging living munitions from the guts of screaming soldiers. They perform these acts with an air of solemnity and compassion, and are often regarded as holy figures by the combatants under their care – indeed, many Sisters Hospitaller have been canonised as Saints posthumously for their miraculous skills.

Sisters of the Orders Hospitaller can be found accompanying many branches of the Imperium's military. They are renowned for their skills both on and off the battlefield, and are often deployed to war zones where new and grotesque weapons are being brought to bear against Imperial warriors. The sanctuaries of the Orders Hospitaller contain massive libraries detailing the most esoteric tools of death that Mankind has encountered. These are accompanied by the extensive journals of Sisters who have spent their lives researching how best to ameliorate their devastating effects. Some Orders operate alongside the Ordo Sepulturum in studying weaponised plagues, be they biological, technological or daemonic in origin, whilst the most esoteric amongst them work to develop protections against psychic assaults. The Orders Hospitaller have even been known to work in close conjunction with the Orders Fanulous, mapping bloodlines and genealogy in order to stem the spread of mutation, and combat the threat that aberrant evolution poses to Humanity.

Just as they study the effects of enemy weaponry on Human soldiers, so too do the Orders Hospitaller dedicate themselves to understanding the physiology of their enemies. Where previously unknown xenos species are encountered, the Sisters Hospitaller work tirelessly to find weak spots in their biology. Ecclesiastical Confessors also rely on the expertise of these Sisters to preserve the lives of those who are being questioned for heresy. It is not uncommon for a Sister Hospitaller to reattach limbs or suture mortal wounds multiple times before a Confessor is able to extract the truth from a suspected heretic.

ORDERS DIALOGUS
The Sisters of the Orders Dialogus serve as scholars and advisors. They are ORDERS FAMULOUS

The Orders Famulous form a network of chamberlains, advisers and diplomats, whose sacred duty is to guide the Imperium's noble families in working towards the ultimate good of Mankind. Sisters of these Orders play crucial roles in brokering trade agreements between obstinate planetary governors, forging alliances between powerful plutocratic families and arranging marriages to continue the lineages of the Emperor's most loyal and useful subjects. When a planet, system or sub-sector is faced with direct hostilities, the Sisters Famulous coordinate the efforts of those over whom they have oversight, ensuring that a noble household has everything they require to effectively fight and die for the Imperium.

Concomitant to their diplomatic duties, the Orders Famulous also provide the Ecclesiarchy with watchful eyes throughout the Imperium. A Sister Famulous' presence within the upper echelons of society allows her to closely observe the dealings of the most influential individuals, from appointed bureaucrats and strong-arm tyrants to Rogue Traders and Navigating dignitaries. Should the activities of these powerful people in any way go against the dictates of the Adeptus Ministorum, the Sister's reports to her superiors may result in stringent countermeasures. Confessors may be sent to extract admissions of heresy, and in extreme cases the Orders Militant are alerted to cases of widespread treachery. Families who have held lofty positions for generations have been eradicated in their entirety, their crypts incinerated and their names stricken from all records on the word of a Sister Famulous. Shepherding the nobility in this way is crucial to preserving the sanctity of the Imperium. Those who attempt to hide from the sight of the Orders Famulous are seen as opponents of the Imperial Creed.

In the course of their duties, Sisters Famulous often speak of how the Emperor manifests his will through his subjects, pointing to the miracles performed by the Imperium's many saints as evidence. Given that the Orders Famulous have access to the genealogical records of uncounted millions of Imperial citizens, and that they actively encourage diplomatic and familial unions between the most faithful members of Imperial society, it is unsurprising that their hand is often to be seen at work before, during and after a manifestation of the Emperor's Grace is recorded.

expert translators of texts both Human and xenos, holy and blasphemous, and spend years learning languages used in esoteric scripts. Much of their study is devoted to collating ancient scriptures that give accounts of the God-Emperor before his interment within the Golden Throne. Humans on many of the worlds rediscovered during the Great Crusade recorded the coming of the Emperor, as did those xenos species upon whom his fury rained. The Sisters Dialogus translate these accounts from their long-forgotten languages of origin into Imperial High Gothic, and through them reveal more of the Emperor's glory.

The Orders Dialogus are also frequently called upon for their unparalleled expertise in cryptography. Their ability to unlock obscure ciphers and find patterns across vast reams of communiqués ensures that the Adepta Sororitas - as well as the Ecclesiarchy at large - have access to intelligence on their enemies, both within the Imperium and beyond. Sisters Dialogus also provide many services for the Inquisition. They use their skills to interpret heretical meanings hidden in seemingly mundane speech and text, and thereby bring secretive traitors to justice.

In a war zone, Sisters Dialogus act as conduits through which Canoneses of Militant Orders can intone commands and prayers of defiance, ensuring that formations operating in isolation remain in communication with their spiritual leaders. Large contingents from the Orders Dialogus also remain on a world after the enemy has been purged, assisting other Ecclesiarchal servants as they scour the planet for traces of heresy.

OTHER NON-MILITANT ORDERS

There are many other types of Orders that provide ancillary services within the Adepta Sororitas, as well as for the Ecclesiarchy and the wider Imperium. In some cases, a single Order is tasked with a particularly focused duty and given their own designation, as is the case with the Order Fenestru who maintain the illuminated armaglass panes of the Imperium's most holy shrines and cathedrums. Other types of Orders carry out sacred duties that give them a great deal of influence within the God-Emperor's domain.

The Orders Sabine operate at the very edges of Human space, accompanying the Missionarius Galaxia to newly rediscovered Human worlds. They specialise in infiltrating the regressed and primitive societies that it is believed would oppose the arrival of the Imperium. Sisters Sabine set themselves up as prophets of the Emperor, preaching the Imperial Creed in secret or fomenting revolt against the religious leaders of a world. When the Missionarius Galaxia arrives and announces its presence to the world's peoples, the Sisters Sabine have already prophesied such an event, and they lead those natives sympathetic to the Imperial Creed in a sudden and deadly coup against their leaders. Through her work, a Sister Sabine is often cut off from the Imperium for a great many years, perhaps only returning to Terra or Ophelia VII once in her lifetime.

Some types of non-militant Orders are unknown in one or the other Great Convent, or else their Sisters are located only in a specific region of the Imperium. The Orders Princes lie only within the hierarchy of the Convent Sanctorum on Ophelia VII. Their scholarly Sisters, with augmented neural interfaces, are a common sight amongst the corridors of power of the Ecclesiarchy. A result of some of Sebastian Thor’s far-reaching reforms, the Orders Princes monitor the cardinals and their debates within the Holy Synod on Terra, and the Synod Ministra on Ophelia VII. They ensure that the relay and dissemination of Ecclesiastical law is carried out without deviation, acting as both guardians of its purity and well placed informants on its abuse. The Orders Tarentine, meanwhile, restrict their duties solely to the Tarentia Pillars, a region of dense gas little more than a sector across. The Sisters Tarentine divine the God-Emperor’s will through the changing patterns in the gaseous medium, and their holy visions are reputed to be more accurate than a reading of the Imperial Tarot.

The Orders Pronatus specialise in retrieving, guarding, studying and repairing artefacts of value to the Ecclesiarchy. This includes the uncoun ted thousands of holy relics revered by the peoples of the Imperium, as well as items captured by the forces of the Imperium that are considered too powerful or significant to be allowed to fall into enemy hands. Sisters Pronatus have the responsibility of maintaining and blessing the many banners and symbols of the Orders Militant, and have even been called upon to reconsecrate the livery of other Imperial bodies. It was members of the Orders Pronatus who repaired the Chapter banner of the Lamenters after their involvement in the Badab War, and they have also restored many of the Cadian regimental standards that were recovered after the Thirteenth Black Crusade, cleansing every fibre in holy oils and recording the names of martyrs in golden thread.

The various Orders Pronatus include not only artisans and artificers of sacred relics. They are also entrusted with the security of some of the Ecclesiarchy’s greatest holy objects, monitoring vault protocols and advising on their defence and preservation. In the case of the holiest relics – those whose presence on the battlefield is requested to demonstrate the God-Emperor’s power – a detail of trained Sisters Pronatus is selected to accompany them. Some, like the revered guardians of the Triumph of Saint Katherine, are former Battle Sisters of the Orders Militant, now reeducated to one of the Orders Pronatus, and tasked with applying their skills to the protection of relics.

AESTRED THURGA, RELIQUANT AT ARMS

The position of Reliquant at Arms is typically reserved for a senior Pronatus of long-standing within their Order. They are as skilled in the tender ministrations required by ancient artefacts as they are in the merciless destruction of any who threaten them. They are inducted into the deepest mysteries of their Order’s specialties, learning the sacred substances, delicate skills, ritual prayers and obesiances required to ensure such objects retain their purity.

Aested Thurga is dedicated to the protection of a single relic above all others, the Auto-Tapestry of the Emperor’s judgement. Since her appointment as Reliquant at Arms, she has not strayed more than an arm’s length from the banner. The Auto-Tapestry was said to have appeared as a vision to the first Canoness of the Order of the August Vigil – the Order to which Aested belongs. It remained only partially complete upon the Canoness’ death, her successor taking up the threads after her. Five successive leaders of the Order lived and died before the vision was realised, and the standard completed.

None but Sister Aested touch this relic. It is maintained and guarded by her alone. She trains in its shadow, she prays before it, and when her Order are called upon to grant the Auto-Tapestry’s presence alongside a War of Faith. It is she who meditates at the banner’s side before deciding whether to allow it. Aested’s meditations under the gaze of the God-Emperor’s depiction have resulted in unique and inchoate insights, which have led her to bear the Auto-Tapestry to far-flung war zones without request. Beneath its imperious gaze, zealous Sisters of the Adepta Sororitas feel the God-Emperor’s immortal benevolence, and strive ever harder against seemingly insurmountable odds to prove worthy of his continued protection.

Heroines have been made in the standard’s presence. There are tales of individual Sisters fighting on, imbued with a divine strength, after losing an arm or having been blinded. To record their deeds, the Adeptus Ministorum despatch the Hagiolater. Agathae Dolan. Born into a noble family with ancient links to the priesthood, Agathae inscribes details of the heroic feats as a witness to the divine, simultaneously speaking them into a complex mechanism connected to blessed memno-wafers. She has followed Aested onto some of the bloodiest battlefields and the two have formed a mutual respect, leavened by Agathae’s gallows humour. The priest carries with her scrolls and tomes containing hagiographies of countless saints. In the acts she witnesses, Agathae believes she sees echoes of ancient deeds that need only be interpreted correctly to hear the God-Emperor’s word.
VESTMENTS OF PURITY

Warriors of the Adepta Sororitas march to war in the traditional colours of their Orders. Their finely crafted armour is bedecked with the holy trappings of their faith and, alongside the sigils of their Order, their flowing robes are embroidered with the iconography of the Adepta Sororitas.

The Battle Sisters’ sacred garb is honoured as an intrinsic element of their faith, as much a part of their rituals as holy icons. Such powerful wargear – as well as the prized weaponry the Sisters bear – is considered a gift from the God-Emperor to his chosen warriors, to be used in the defence of Mankind’s soul. It is a mark of great penance and shame to fight against the Imperium’s enemies diverted of such protection, Sororitas power armour and Sabbat-pattern helmets are blessed with holy oils and fastidiously maintained. The armour frequently bears the fleur-de-lis symbol of the Adepta Sororitas, as well as the stylised symbol representing the Adeptus Ministorum and the wings of the Imperial Aquila.

Alongside their more lethal equipment, each Sister carries a chaplet ecclesiasticus. This takes the form of a string of adamantine beads, upon which hangs one of the icons of the Ecclesiarchy. The beads represent acts of humble penitence undertaken by the bearer – in the case of long-serving Sisters, a single bead may represent ten, a hundred or even a thousand such acts. Many others symbols, relics and sacred artefacts adorn the Battle Sisters’ wargear. Purity seals layered with oaths waft in the draughts of smoky incense. Text from revered hymnals is inscribed into the sculpted ceramite of armour, and upon the flanks of engines of war. Simulacra of long-dead saints, or even their mortal remains, are carried to war, the heroines’ names emblazoned across vibrant banners. Such signs of devotion go hand in hand with the Sisters’ exultant prayers upon the battlefield, their songs of praise rising above the din of war.

Through the remnants of the Templar Honorrata’s east wing, Battle Sisters of the Order of Our Martyred Lady unleash divine salvos of bolt fire into the execrable heretics of the Word Bearers Traitor Legion. Canoness Elverem’s stern voice rings out with the names of each Sister who falls, stoking their warriors’ hatred for their killers.
Few abominations evoke such loathing as the hideous warp-spawn of the Dark Gods. Upon the sulphurous landscape of Murgh Capella, crazed Penitent Engines and stim-fuelled Arco-flagellants race ahead of bands of zealous Sisters Repentia, all of them eager to rend and lash at those who have defiled this shrine world.
The Dialogus, Sister Thura, drowns out the sinful dirge broadcast by the Heretic Astartes with a bellicose sermon. Sister Yvaran, meanwhile, battles to cast out the sorcerous taint that has laid her fellow Sister low. Even the deafening explosions of bolt shells cannot sway the iron-willed Hospitaller from her sacred duty.
Those blessed to fight among the ranks of their Order’s Zephyrin Squad experience a direct and persistent connection with the God-Emperor. Their fellow Sisters see them as holy prophets, speaking in unknown tongues and unleashing the divine strength of their rapturous state in furious strikes.

Upon Borvax V – a planet perilously close to the Great Rift – unspeakable daemons of mutation and ruin are hunted through the outpost’s vaulted mining chambers. The quest to purge these sins made flesh is led by holy warriors piloting archaic Paragon Warsuits, and no amount of insane capering can evade their wrath.
The dawning light of Jilator’s Star illuminates the full xenos horror of the Genestealer Cultists, as Junith Eruida and the Triumph of St Katherine lead a retributive procession of Battle Sisters to cleanse the benighted broodkin.
Morvenn Vahl, the Abbess Sanctorum, spearheads a mission of Our Martyred Lady in a punishing reclamation from the alien Aeldari. Beneath the gaze of the Abbess and the Auto-Tapestry of the Emperor’s Judgement, the Sisters are inspired to miraculous feats of heroism.

Dogmatia with mace of the righteous
Agathae Dolan, the Hagiolater
Aestred Thurga, Reliquant at Arms
An armoured column on the front lines at the shrine-city of Precipus assaults the tyranid vanguard with a barrage of incendiary shells, promethium and deadly missiles. The impending victory is accompanied by a sensory overload of bellowing laud hailers that, together with the detonations, hammer the xenos into submission.

REFERENCE (PG 128)
Here you will find a handy bulleted rules reference that summarises some common Adepta Sororitas rules.
COMBAT PATROL

Combat Patrol is the smallest size game, and the Adepta Sororitas force below is a great way to start - regardless of whether you want to play an open play game, forge a narrative with a Crusade army or compete in a matched play mission.

Created from the contents of the Adepta Sororitas Combat Patrol boxed set, this force can be used in a Battle-forged army, and in itself comprises a Patrol Detachment, as described in the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book.

On the battlefield, the Battle Sisters are a solid and dependable Troops unit, equipped with powerful weaponry and strong armour. As part of a Battle-forged army, this unit will also gain the Objective Secured ability, as described on page 57, enabling them to hold on to objectives even when outnumbered by the foe.

When the Battle Sisters are bolstered by the Canoness' Lead the Righteous ability, they become a more deadly foe, their firepower scouring the enemy with even greater accuracy. The Canoness herself is a powerful and inspiring figure, able to heroically intervene against any heretics that threaten her warriors.

The Seraphim Squad make for a rapid response force that can deploy into the heart of battle where they are needed the most, either to secure lightly guarded objectives or to support slower-paced infantry forces. When fighting in the vicinity of your Canoness, these warriors will find their aim that much more deadly.

The Penitent Engine, Arco-flagellants and Sisters Repentia - led towards the enemy battle line by the Repentia Superior - are this Combat Patrol's close combat strength. There are few foes these warriors and war machines cannot tear through, though the Arco-flagellants and Sisters Repentia are vulnerable to enemy firepower. Transporting these units within the armoured hull of a Rhino should ensure they reach the enemy battle lines intact and ready to smite the foe in the Emperor's name.
DETACHMENT ABILITIES

An Adepta Sororitas Detachment is one that only includes models with the Adepta Sororitas keyword (excluding models with the Cult Imperialis, Agent of the Imperium or Unaligned keywords).

- Adepta Sororitas Detachments gain the Decree Passive ability.
- Adepta Sororitas units (excluding Sanctified and Outcasts units) in Adepta Sororitas Detachments gain the Order Convictions ability.
- Troops units in Adepta Sororitas Detachments gain the Objective Secured ability (this ability is described in the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book).

DECREE PASSIVE

The honour of leading the Adepta Sororitas falls to an officer of the Orders Militant, not to the Priests that accompany them.

You can include a maximum of one Cannones model and one Missionary model in this Detachment. You cannot include more Cult Imperialis Priest units in this Detachment than there are Adepta Sororitas Character units.

THE ORDERS MILITANT

If your army is Battle-forged, <Order> units in Adepta Sororitas Detachments gain access to the following Orders Militant rules, provided every model in that Detachment that is from an Order Militant is drawn from the same Order Militant. Such a Detachment is referred to as an Orders Militant Detachment.

ORDER CONVICTIONS

All <Order> units (excluding Sanctified units) in an Orders Militant Detachment will gain an Order conviction, as described on pages 58-65. On these pages you will find the associated Order convictions associated with each Order Militant, as well as the list of Order Minoris convictions that you must use if your Order does not have a associated Order conviction.

WARLORD TRAITS

Each Order Militant has an associated Orders Militant Warlord Trait. If an Adepta Sororitas <Order> Character models gains a Warlord Trait, they can have the relevant Orders Militant Warlord Trait instead of a Warlord Trait from page 72.

STRATEGEMS

Each Order Militant has an associated Orders Militant Stratagem. If your army includes an Orders Militant Detachment (excluding Auxiliary Support, Super-heavy Auxiliary or Fortification Network Detachments), then you will gain access to the relevant Orders Militant Stratagem.

ORDER CONVICTIONS

Each Order Militant has its own fighting style, suited to the particular creed and combat philosophy of its battle sisters.

All Adepta Sororitas units with this ability, and all the models in them, gain an Order conviction so long as every unit in their Detachment that is from an Order is from the same Order. The conviction gained depends upon which Order they are from, as shown on the following pages.

Example: An Order of Our Martyred Lady unit with the Order Convictions ability gains The Blood of Martyrs conviction.

If your Order does not have an associated Order conviction, you must instead select Order Minoris convictions for them, as described on pages 64-65; this allows you to customise the rules for your Order Minoris. In either case, write down all of your Detachments' Order convictions/Order Minoris convictions on your army roster.

RELICS OF THE ECCLESIASTRY

Each Order Militant has an associated Orders Militant Relic of the Ecclesiarchy. If your army is led by a Sanctified Warlord or an Adepta Sororitas <Order> Warlord, you can, when mustering your army, give the relevant Orders Militant Relic to an Adepta Sororitas <Order> Character model from your army instead of giving them a Relic of the Ecclesiarchy from pages 74-75. Named characters (such as Junith Eruita) cannot be given a Relic of the Ecclesiarchy.

Note that some Relics replace one of the model's existing items of wargear. Where this is the case, you must, if you are using points values, still pay the cost of the wargear that is being replaced. Write down any Relics of the Ecclesiarchy your models have on your army roster.

Example: A Battle-forged army includes an Adepta Sororitas Detachment in which every unit has the Order of the Bloody Rose Keyword. All Order of the Bloody Rose units in that Detachment gain the Quick to Anger Order conviction, an Order of the Bloody Rose Character model in that Detachment that is given a Warlord Trait can instead be given the Blazing Ire trait. You have access to the Tear Them Down Stratagem and can spend CPs to use it, and if the army's Warlord is selected from this Detachment and from the Order of the Bloody Rose, then an Order of the Bloody Rose Character model from your army that could be given a Relic of the Ecclesiarchy can instead be given Beneficence.
ORDER OF OUR MARTYRED LADY

THE BLOOD OF MARTYRS
So dedicated are the Sisters of the Order of Our Martyred Lady that nothing can keep them from fulfilling their Emperor-given duty. When the battle is fiercest and the casualties highest, these holy warriors fight with renewed conviction and purpose, inspired by their desire to avenge the deaths of their fallen.

- At the end of any phase (other than the Morale phase) in which any units with this conviction were destroyed, you gain 1 Miracle dice (pg 91). This is in addition to any Miracle dice gained at the end of a phase in which a Character unit with this conviction was destroyed (see Sacrifice, page 91).
- Each time an attack is made by a model with this conviction, if this unit is below its Starting Strength, add 1 to that attack’s hit roll.

HONOUR THE MARTYRS 1CP

Order of Our Martyred Lady – Epic Deed Stratagem
When a leader of the Order of Our Martyred Lady dies in battle, those who remain only become more determined.

Use this Stratagem at the end of a phase in which an Order of Our Martyred Lady Character model from your army was destroyed by an enemy unit (excluding models that were destroyed and subsequently returned to the battlefield that phase due to any rules, e.g. the Divine Intervention Stratagem, page 66). Until the end of the battle, each time an Order of Our Martyred Lady model makes an attack against that enemy unit, add 1 to that attack’s wound roll.

WARLORD TRAIT: SHIELD BEARER
This leader believes in facing every threat at the head of her Order, leading from the front.

- Each time an attack is allocated to this Warlord, subtract 1 from the Damage characteristic of that attack (to a minimum of 1).
- Each time you gain a Miracle dice (pg 91) at the end of a phase as a result of Vengeance, if this Warlord destroyed any enemy units during that phase, that Miracle dice is automatically a 6.
- Each time you gain a Miracle dice (pg 91) at the end of a phase as a result of Sacrifice, or if this Warlord was destroyed during that phase, that Miracle dice is automatically a 6.

RELIC: MARTYRS’ VENGEANCE
Martyrs’ Vengeance was the sidearm of selfless Celestian Superior, Saint Valpurgis. At the Defence of Ghens Gate, Valpurgis strode calmly in front of her squad as an enemy war engine barreled towards her. In the instant before impact, the Emperor’s own light speared from her pistol, cleaving through the machine and detonating its stored ammunition.

ORDER OF THE VALOROUS HEART

STOIC ENDURANCE
Like their patron saint, Lucia, those of the Order of the Valorous Heart are willing to bear any agony in the name of atonement. Such is their willingness to suffer for their cause that they can shrug off terrible wounds without breaking stride.

- Each time a model with this conviction would lose a wound as a result of a mortal wound, roll one D6: on a 5+, that wound is not lost.
- Each time an attack is allocated to a model with this conviction, if that Attack has an Armour Penetration characteristic of -1 or -2, the Armour Penetration characteristic of that attack is reduced by 1.

BLIND FAITH

Order of the Valorous Heart – Battle Tactic Stratagem
When the zeal of battle is upon them, the Sisters of the Valorous Heart will trust the Emperor to guide their aim.

Use this Stratagem in your Shooting phase, when an ORDER OF THE VALOROUS HEART unit from your army is selected to shoot, or in the Fight phase, when an ORDER OF THE VALOROUS HEART unit from your army is selected to fight. Until the end of that phase, each time a model in that unit makes an attack, you can ignore any or all hit roll, Ballistic Skill and Weapon Skill modifiers.

WARLORD TRAIT: IMPERVIOUS TO PAIN
Following the example of Saint Lucia, this leader will endure any suffering, fighting on long past the limits of mortal endurance.

- Each time this WARLORD performs an Act of Faith (pg 91), it regains 1 lost wound.
- Each time this WARLORD would lose a wound, roll one D6: on a 5+, that wound is not lost.

RELiC: CASKET OF PENANCE
Within this unadorned ebonite box lies a relic so suffused with the Emperor’s divine spark that it radiates a ferocious aura. Its holiness is so powerful that it scarifies its guardians’ flesh, yet one worthy enough to carry the casket into battle welcomes the chance to prove the strength of her faith and will. To the unbeliever who approaches too close, it is an incapacitating and sickening draining of the soul.

ORDER OF THE VALOROUS HEART model only. The bearer has the following ability: ‘Casket of Penance (Aura): While an enemy unit is within 3" of the bearer, subtract 1 from the Toughness characteristic of models in that enemy unit (if that unit has the CHAOS keyword, subtract 1 from its Strength characteristic as well).’

Sister Gerbulde’s lips cracked and bled. Her head pounded as the blazing light from the Cressis-noraxa System’s three suns beat down upon her. Gerbulde could no longer sweat. She missed the sting of the salty liquid dripping into the ruptured blisters that covered her face from the sunburn. Pain was precious. It reminded her of Matriarch Lucia. It reminded her she was alive, and thus could serve.

Each of Gerbulde’s heavy steps plunged deep into the fine desert sands. Her Sisters marched with her, each one burned, bleeding and panting.

‘Lucia scorns the triviality of this challenge,’ rasped Dogymata Katrin, at the face of the Sisters’ advance alongside Canoness Augustah.

They had been marching for eleven days, enduring sandstorms that ripped their flesh, filled nooks in their armour with gravel and threw them down dunes that had taken hours to ascend.

Four more remain, thought Gerbulde. Then we will turn back.

It had been a good training exercise thus far. Already the weakness in a dozen Sisters had been uncovered by the formidable and taxing conditions. They had collapsed or given up, for which Gerbulde knew they would face the sweet correction of the lash before long.
ORDERS

ORDER OF THE BLOODY ROSE

QUICK TO ANGER
Once their battle fury is roused, none prosecute the wars of the Adeptus Ministorum with greater fervour than those warriors who belong to the Order of the Bloody Rose.

- Each time a unit with this conviction fights, if it made a charge move, was charged or performed a Heroic Intervention this turn, then until that fight is resolved, add 1 to the Attacks characteristic of models in this unit.
- Each time a model with this conviction makes a melee attack, if that model's unit made a charge move, was charged or performed a Heroic Intervention this turn, improve the Armour Penetration characteristic of that attack by 1.

TEAR THEM DOWN

Order of the Bloody Rose – Battle Tactic Stratagem
In the fury of battle, the Sisters of the Bloody Rose channel their rage into devastating blows with guns stocks, fists and blades.

Use this Stratagem in the Fight phase, when an Order of the Bloody Rose unit from your army is selected to fight. Until the end of that phase, each time a model in that unit makes a melee attack, an unmodified hit roll of 6 automatically wounds the target.

WARLORD TRAIT: BLAZING IRE
This warrior was born for battle, and will allow nothing to stay her wrath.

- Add 1 to the Attacks characteristics of this Warlord.
- This Warlord is eligible to charge in a turn in which it Advanced.

RElic: Beneficence
This fearsomely savage chainsword is lauded amongst the Order of the Bloody Rose for its perfection of weight and the deepness of its pious bite. As the deep-red armour of its wielder plunges ferociously into dense knots of faithless idolaters, Beneficence sends arterial sprays across the battlefield with each cut of enemy flesh. Terrified mutants and witches fall before its blessing, as ground won for the Emperor is consecrated in viscera.

Abilities: Each time the bearer fights, it makes 3 additional attacks with this weapon (if there are 6 or more enemy models within 3" of the bearer when it is selected to fight, it makes D3 + 3 additional attacks with this weapon instead).
ORDER OF THE EBON CHALICE

DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPEROR

The Order of the Ebon Chalice is the oldest of the Orders Militant, and its warriors strive to be exemplars, both martial and spiritual, to the followers of the God-Emperor. Their purity and nobility of spirit can see them perform miraculous acts on the battlefield.

- If any units in your army have this conviction, when you are determining which sacred rites (pg 93) are active for your army after you have determined your mission, you cannot randomly select two sacred rites. Instead, after you have selected one sacred rite you must then select a second. Both of these sacred rites are active for units from your army with this conviction (only the first is active for other units from your army with the Sacred Rites ability).
- Each time a model or unit with this conviction performs an Act of Faith (pg 91), you can first discard 1 Miracle dice. If you do so, 1 Miracle dice you use in that Act of Faith is considered to be a 6 (irrespective of its actual value).

Cleansing Flames

Order of the Ebon Chalice – Wargear Stratagem

When the Ebon Chalice go to war, they bring with them cleansing flames.

Use this Stratagem in your Shooting phase when an Order of the Ebon Chalice unit from your army is selected to shoot. Until the end of the phase:

- Add 4" to the range of all flame weapons (pg 121) that models in that unit are equipped with.
- Each time a model in that unit makes an attack with a flame weapon, on an unmodified wound roll of 4+, the target suffers 1 mortal wound in addition to any normal damage (a maximum of 3 mortal wounds can be inflicted per phase via this Stratagem).

Warlord Trait: Terrible Knowledge

This leader is one of the few that has shared in the terrible knowledge imparted by the Matriarch of the Order after her communion with the Emperor.

- If this Warlord is on the battlefield, the Miracle dice (pg 91) you gain at the start of the first battle round is automatically a 6.
- While this Warlord is on the battlefield, each time you spend a Command point to use a Stratagem, you can roll one D6; on a 5+, that Command point is refunded.

Relic: Annunciation of the Creed

The traditionalists of the Order of the Ebon Chalice eagerly grasp any opportunity to apply the undeniable letter of the Imperial Creed. Upon the craven heretic who shirks his sentence, or the witch hiding behind her puppets, this weapon announces their deviancy in unavoidable utterances of destructive justice.

Order of the Ebon Chalice model equipped with a condemnor boltgun only. This Relic replaces a condemnor boltgun and has the following profile:

Abilities: Before selecting targets, select one or both of the profiles above to make attacks with. If you select both, then each time an attack is made with this weapon this phase, subtract 1 from that attacks hit roll. Each time you select a target for this weapon, ignore the Look Out, Sir rule. Each time an attack with this weapon's blessed stake profile is allocated to a Psycher model, that model's unit suffers 3 mortal wounds in addition to the normal damage.

'A grand triumph, they called it. Pah! Do you know how much promethium they wasted in the braziers alone? A frittering of time and materiel would be closer to the truth. Armies parading when they should have been marching to battle, cheering when they should have been screaming war cries, saluting civilians when they should have been gunning down foes. Canoness Invindia would have no part in it – we marched aboard our transports and departed for the front, where our true duty lay.'

- Sister Celestian Sidnival Redemptus, Order of the Ebon Chalice
ORDER OF THE ARGENT SHROUD

DEEDS, NOT WORDS
It is the strong belief of those within the Order of the Argent Shroud that one's conviction is best shown through bold action. Thus is battling the best way to prove their unquenchable faith, for there they may smite the Emperor's foes and demonstrate the depths of their devotion.

• Each time a unit with this conviction makes a Normal Move or Advances in your Movement phase, until the end of your Shooting phase, it counts as having Remained Stationary.
• Each time a unit with this conviction is selected to shoot or fight, you can re-roll one hit roll or one wound roll when resolving that unit's attacks.

FAITH IS OUR SHIELD

Order of the Argent Shroud – Strategic Ploy Stratagem
The unwavering faith of the warriors of the Argent Shroud allows them to fight on through the most terrible wounds and psychic onslaughts.

Use this Stratagem in any phase, when an Order of the Argent Shroud model from your army would lose a wound as a result of a mortal wound. Until the end of that phase, each time that model, or any other model in its unit, would lose a wound as a result of a mortal wound, roll one D6: on a 4+, that wound is not lost.

WARLORD TRAIT: SELFFLESS HEROISM
Rather than allow harm to come to her followers, this leader will bravely take the fight to any foe.

• This Warlord is eligible to perform a Heroic Intervention if it is within 6” horizontally and 5” vertically of any enemy unit, instead of 3” horizontally and 5” vertically. Each time this Warlord makes a Heroic Intervention move, it can move up to 6”. All other rules for Heroic Interventions still apply.
• At the start of the Fight phase, if this Warlord is within Engagement Range of any enemy units, it can fight first that phase.

RELIC: QUICKSILVER VEIL
Shifting in and out of vision as it catches the fires of battle and the haloes of unearthly light surrounding the faithful, this gossamer-thin nanofibre dazzles the eyes of heretics and baffles the targeting matrices of xenos. As the wearer moves as swift as a silver dart to the enemy’s heart, shots fire wide and blade thrusts miss their mark.

Order of the Argent Shroud model only.

• Add 3” to the bearer’s Move characteristic.
• Each time an attack is made against the bearer, subtract 1 from that attack’s hit roll.
ORDER OF THE SACRED ROSE

DEVOUT SERENITY
The Sisters of the Order of the Sacred Rose are renowned for their calm and implacable resolve in battle. Even in the face of overwhelming odds, the heirs of Saint Arabella stand unyielding.

- Each time a Combat Attrition test is taken for a unit with this conviction, it is automatically passed.
- Each time you use a Miracle dice when a model or unit with this conviction performs an Act of Faith (pg 91), roll a D6; on a 4+, you gain 1 Miracle dice.

THE EMPEROR’S JUDGEMENT
1CP
Order of the Sacred Rose – Battle Tactic Stratagem

None may escape the Emperor’s gaze, and where he sees wickedness, there will the Sacred Rose punish.

Use this Stratagem in your Shooting phase when an ORDER OF THE SACRED ROSE unit from your army is selected to shoot. Until the end of the phase, each time an attack is made with a ranged weapon by a model in that unit, an unmodified hit roll of 6 scores 1 additional hit.

WARLORD TRAIT: LIGHT OF THE DIVINE
The Emperor’s divinity shines from this leader. She strides through the battle with a beauteous expression while smiting the Emperor’s foes and expunging fear from the minds of her followers.

- Once per turn, when this WARLORD performs an Act of Faith (pg 91), 1 Miracle dice used in that Act of Faith is considered to be a 6 (irrespective of its actual value).
- This WARLORD has the following ability: ‘Light of the Divine (Aura): While a friendly ORDER OF THE SACRED ROSE CORE unit is within 6” of this WARLORD, if that CORE unit Falls Back then is still eligible to shoot this turn.’

RElic: Light of Saint Agnaetha
Emanating from within a brazier inscribed with the deeds of Arabella, the Light of Saint Agnaetha is a blinding illumination against the shadows of the Great Rift. Laying bare the truth of evil, those who embody the foulness of the daemon are cowed. The touch of its actinic glare, when lifted high with serene grace, causes impure flesh to char and combust in a conflagration of holy fire.

ORDER OF THE SACRED ROSE model with a brazier of holy fire only. This Relic replaces a brazier of holy fire and has the following profile:

<thead>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Light of Saint Agnaetha</td>

<td>Assault D6</td>
<td>*</td>
<td>*</td>
<td>*</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Abilities: Each time an attack is made with this weapon, that attack automatically hits the target, and on an unmodified wound roll of 4+ (or 2+ if the target contains any Daemon models), the target suffers 1 mortal wound and the attack sequence ends.

'Be the Agent of my blade-arm. Be the Power in my armour. Be the Spirit that guides my bolts into the flesh of the foe. Be the Fire in my heart. Be the Force that drives my blood through my veins. God-Emperor of Mankind, You who are all we truly have or need, move me, move through me, all in service of Your Divine, Perfect Will. By this may all Your enemies be undone, and Your name be glorified above all.'

- The ninth battle prayer of the Order of the Sacred Rose
ORDERS

MINORIS CONVICTIONS

If your chosen Order Militant does not have an associated Order conviction on pages 58-63, you must instead create their Order conviction by selecting Order Minoris convictions from the list here. Unless otherwise stated, your Order Militant has two Order Minoris convictions from the following list:

SHIELD OF AVERSION
The Sisters of this Order give themselves with the strength of their faith. It is a shield of repulsion that rejects the hated artifice of their enemies and drives the Sororitas onwards with indomitable fortitude.

Each time an attack with an Armour Penetration characteristic of -1 is allocated to a model with this conviction, that attack has an Armour Penetration characteristic of 0 instead.

HALLOWED MARTYRS
The blood of martyrs is the life force of the Imperium. So do the tenets of this Order joyously proclaim, and in its warriors' darkest hour does the sacrifice of their fallen Sisters shine brightest.

Each time an attack is made by a model with this conviction, if that model’s unit is below its Starting Strength, add 1 to that attack’s hit roll.

CONVICTION OF FAITH
The miracles of the God-Emperor are self-evident to those with the iron-hard conviction of true zealots. In the presence of this Order’s warriors, his manifestations of divinity are myriad.

If every unit from your army that has an Order Conviction has this conviction, each time you gain a Miracle dice (pg 91), if the value of that dice is a 1, you can re-roll that dice before adding it to your Miracle dice pool.

DEVOUT FANATICISM
The alien, the mutant and the heretic must be destroyed; face to face if necessary where their evil cannot hide and where the Sisters of Battle can ensure their blows eviscerate their faithless foes.

Each time a unit with this conviction fights, if it made a charge move, was charged or performed a Heroic Intervention this turn, then until that fight is resolved, each time a model in that unit makes an attack, add 1 to that attack’s hit roll.

You cannot select this conviction if you have already selected the Holy Wrath conviction (see right).

GUIDED BY THE EMPEROR’S WILL
The God-Emperor is said to guide the hand of these Sororitas. The Sisters’ unerring strikes ensure no heretic escapes their wrath, nor the divine punishment that such sinful existence deserves.

Each time a unit with this conviction is selected to shoot or fight, you can re-roll one hit roll or one wound roll when resolving that unit’s attacks.

HOLY WRATH
The God-Emperor’s faithful deliver his furious judgement in the press of melee. With flurry of fanatical blows, they smoke the unbeliever and the heretic with a pure rage.

Each time a model with this conviction makes a melee attack, if that model’s unit made a charge move, was charged or performed a Heroic Intervention this turn, improve that attack’s Armour Penetration characteristic by 1.

You cannot select this conviction if you have already selected the Devout Fanaticism conviction (see left).

IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF SAINTS
Many minor Orders Militant cleave to the traditions and practices of one of the Orders Majoris. For some, this is due to their unbroken chain of recognised descent from them, while others extol the virtue of one particular Matriarch or saint.

You cannot select this Order Minoris conviction if you have selected any other Order Minoris conviction, and if you select this conviction you cannot select a second. Select one of the following Orders Militant: Order of Our Martyred Lady, Order of the Valorous Heart, Order of the Bloody Rose, Order of the Ebon Chalice, Order of the Argent Shroud, Order of the Sacred Rose.

- Use the Order convictions of the Order Militant you selected, as listed on pages 58-63.
- If a Character model with this conviction gains a Warlord Trait, they can have an Orders Militant Warlord Trait associated with the Order Militant you selected, instead of a Warlord Trait from page 72. If a Character has such a Warlord Trait, replace all instances of the Order Militant keyword on that Warlord Trait (e.g. ORDER OF OUR MARTYRED LADY), if any, with the name Order Militant that this Character is from.
- Unless the only units with this conviction are part of an Auxiliary Support, Super-heavy Auxiliary and/or Fortification Network Detachment, you will gain access to the Orders Militant Stratagems associated with the Order Militant you selected. When using such a Stratagem, replace all instances of the Order Militant keyword on that Stratagem (e.g. ORDER OF OUR MARTYRED LADY) with the Order Militant that the units with this conviction have.
PERFERVID BELIEF
Belief in the God-Emperor is the greatest strength of the Adepta Sororitas. The Sisters of this Order express the force of their belief in every vengeful shot, every excoriating strike and every shouted prayer.

Each time a model or unit with this conviction performs an Act of Faith (pg 91), you can first discard 1 Miracle dice. If you do so, 1 Miracle dice you use in that Act of Faith is considered to be a 6 (irrespective of its actual value).

PURIFYING RECITATIONS
Sorcery and the diabolical powers of witches are abominations before the God-Emperor. By invoking his name, these Sisters appear blessed with a measure of his eternal protection.

Each time a Deny the Witch test is taken for a unit with this conviction, add 3 to the result (this is not cumulative with any other rule that adds to the result of a Deny the Witch test, e.g. Pure of Will, page 72).

RAGING FERVOUR
These Sisters carry the fiery wrath of the Emperor into the darkest corners of his realm. His immortal anger is made manifest in their extraordinary skill with thermal weaponry.

Each time a model with this conviction makes an attack with a meltag weapon (pg 121) the target of that attack is considered to be within half range for the purposes of that weapon’s abilities if:

- That weapon has the Pistol or Assault type
- That weapon has the Heavy type and the target unit is within 18” of the firing model.

You cannot select this conviction if you have already selected either the Rites of Fire (see below) or Unshakable Vengeance (see right) convictions.

RITES OF FIRE
With purifying flame did the great saints of legend purge the enemies of faith from the galaxy. This Order’s sacred rites encapsulate the flame of illumination as a tool of cleansing.

Add 4” to the range of all flame weapons (pg 121) that models with this conviction are equipped with.

You cannot select this conviction if you have already selected either the Raging Fervour (see above) or Unshakable Vengeance (see right) convictions.

RIGHTEOUS SUFFERING
Suffering is the penance by which the faithful affirm their devotions. To share in the agonies suffered by the God-Emperor and his saints without embracing death is the mark of fidelity to the Imperial Creed.

Each time an attack is made against a unit with this conviction, an unmodified wound roll of 1-2 for that attack fails irrespective of any abilities that the weapon or the model making the attack may have.

SLAYERS OF HERETICS
Wherever corrupt heretics and vile demagogues oppose the will of the Emperor and the Ecclesiarchy, this Order has vowed to tear out their silvered tongues and sever their poisonous influence.

Each time a model with this conviction makes an attack against a Character unit, add 1 to that attack’s hit roll.

UNBRIDLED VALOUR
This Order’s serenity under fire and in the face of overwhelming odds has turned seeming defeat into valorous last stands that bleed the enemy dry.

Each time a Combat Attrition test is taken for a unit with this conviction, add 1 to that Combat Attrition test.

UNSHAKABLE VENGEANCE
These Sisters’ aim with the holy bolter is as unshakable as their faith. The sacred tools of war are gifted by the Emperor himself to deliver his vengeance upon those who turn their face from his light.

Each time a model with this conviction makes an attack with a bolt weapon (pg 121), you can ignore any or all hit roll and Ballistic Skill modifiers.

You cannot select this conviction if you have already selected either the Raging Fervour or Rites of Fire convictions (see left).

WITCH HUNTERS
Unsanctioned psykers, diabolists and sorcerers; all crave the caress of the Emperor’s judgement that their tainted existence deserves. For so does this Order preach. Burn the witch!

Each time a model with this conviction makes a melee attack against a Psyker unit, re-roll a hit roll of 1 (if the melee attack is made against a Psyker Character unit, re-roll a hit roll of 1 and re-roll a wound roll of 1).
STRATEGMES

If your army includes any Adepta Sororitas Detachments (excluding Auxiliary Support, Super-heavy Auxiliary or Fortification Network Detachments), you have access to these Stratagems, and can spend CPs to use them.

CLEANSED BY FIRE 2CP
Adepta Sororitas – Battle Tactic Stratagem
Burn the mutant. Burn the heretic. Burn the witch.
Use this Stratagem in your Shooting phase, when an Adeptus Ministorum unit from your army is chosen to shoot with. Until the end of that phase, when a model in that unit shoots with a flame weapon (pg 121), do not roll to determine the number of attacks made with that weapon; instead, the maximum number of attacks are made with that weapon (e.g. 6 attacks are made with a Heavy D6 weapon).

EMBODIED PROPHECY 2CP
Adepta Sororitas – Battle Tactic Stratagem
The Zephyrim are said to embody the God-Emperor’s promise. Where they lead, victory must surely follow.
Use this Stratagem in your Fight phase. Select one Zephyrim Squad unit from your army. Until the end of that phase, each time a model in that unit makes a melee attack, add 1 to that attack’s wound roll.

EXCEPTIONAL PROFICIENCY 1CP
Adepta Sororitas – Battle Tactic Stratagem
Celestians are exemplary in their battlecraft.
Use this Stratagem in your Shooting phase, when a Celestian unit from your army is selected to shoot, or in the Fight phase, when a Celestian unit from your army is selected to fight. Until the end of the phase, each time a model in that unit makes an attack, add 1 to that attack’s hit roll.

EXTREMIS TRIGGER WORD 1CP
Adepta Sororitas – Battle Tactic Stratagem
Arco-flagellants are conditioned with sacred trigger words that release their cerebral inhibitors and unleash their killing rage.
Use this Stratagem in the Fight phase, when an Arco-Flagellants unit from your army is selected to fight. Until the end of that phase, change the ability of all arco-flagellants models in that unit are equipped with to the following: ‘Each time an attack is made with this weapon, make 3 hit rolls instead of 1’. At the end of the phase, roll one D6 for each model in that unit; for each 1, one model in that unit is destroyed.

SUFFER NOT THE WITCH 1CP
Adepta Sororitas – Battle Tactic Stratagem
Those who would wield sorcery against the rightous often find themselves facing the full fury of the Ecclesiarchy.
Use this Stratagem in your Shooting phase, when an Adeptus Ministorum unit from your army is selected to shoot, or in the Fight phase, when an Adeptus Ministorum unit from your army is selected to fight. Until the end of the phase, each time a model in that unit makes an attack against a Psycler unit, add 1 to that attack’s hit roll (if the attack is made by an Adeptus Ministorum Character model, add 1 to that attack’s hit roll and add 1 to that attack’s wound roll).

DIVINE INTERVENTION 2CP
Adepta Sororitas – Epic Deed Stratagem
Sometimes, a brush with death is so close that the only explanation seems to be divine intervention.
Use this Stratagem when an Adepta Sororitas Character model (excluding named characters) from your army is destroyed, instead of using any rules that are triggered when a model is destroyed (e.g. Sacrifice, page 91, or the Chaplet of Sacrifice Relic, page 75). Discard 1-3 Miracle dice (pg 91). At the end of the phase, set that model back up on the battlefield as close as possible to where it was destroyed and not within Engagement Range of any enemy models. The model is returned to play with a number of wounds remaining equal to the number of Miracle dice you discarded. You cannot use this Stratagem if you do not have any Miracle dice remaining. This Stratagem can only be used once per battle.

FIERY ORATORY 1CP
Adepta Sororitas – Epic Deed Stratagem
The priests of the Adeptus Ministorum can use the power of their oratory to inspire their flocks.
Use this Stratagem at the start of any of your phases other than your Command phase. Select one Adeptus Ministorum Priest model from your army that has not intoned a hymn this turn. That model can intone one hymn that it knows that has not already been intoned by a friendly model this turn. That hymn is automatically inspiring (do not roll) and takes effect until the start of your next Command phase.

MARTYR’S IMMOLATION 1CP
Adepta Sororitas – Epic Deed Stratagem
The inferno claims the martyr and heretic alike in cleansing flames.
Use this Stratagem in any phase, when an Immolator model from your army that is equipped with immolation flamer is destroyed. Do not roll to see if that model explodes; it does so automatically.
RITES OF RESTORATION

Adepta Sororitas – Epic Deed Stratagem

The ministrations of the Sisters of the Orders Hospitaller have seen many a warrior brought back from the brink of death to return to the fray.

Use this Stratagem at the end of your Movement phase. Select one Hospitaller unit from your army and then select one friendly Adeptus Ministorum Core Infantry unit that is not at its Starting Strength and is within 3” of that Hospitaller unit. Up to D3 of the selected friendly unit’s destroyed models are returned to its unit with their full wounds remaining.

MARTYRED

Adepta Sororitas – Epic Deed Stratagem

The Sisters of Battle do not give in to despair when their leaders are slain. Instead, the blood of these martyred heroes only strengthens their resolve.

Use this Stratagem when you gain a Miracle dice (pg 91) due to Sacrifice (pg 90). You gain 1 additional Miracle dice (if the model that was destroyed was an Adepta Sororitas Warlord from your army, you instead gain D3+1 additional Miracle dice).

MOMENT OF GRACE

Adepta Sororitas – Epic Deed Stratagem

For a split second, it seems as though the world reshapes itself to the will of a single warrior.

Use this Stratagem after making a hit roll or wound roll for an attack made by an Adepta Sororitas model from your army, or after making a saving throw for an Adepta Sororitas model from your army. Discard 1-2 Miracle dice from your Miracle dice pool (pg 91). Add 1 to the result of the roll for each Miracle dice you discarded. You cannot use this Stratagem if you do not have any Miracle dice remaining.

SUFFERING AND SACRIFICE

Adepta Sororitas – Epic Deed Stratagem

Suffering is a staple prayer for the Adepta Sororitas, and a martyr’s fate only brings greater glory to the God-Emperor.

Use this Stratagem in the Fight phase. Select one Adepta Sororitas Warlord, Saint Potentia or Living Saint unit from your army (excluding Vehicle units); until the end of the phase, that unit is known as your Suffering unit. Until the end of the phase, each time an enemy unit is selected to fight, if a model in that enemy unit is within Engagement Range of your Suffering unit when your opponent is selecting targets for its attacks, those attacks can only target your Suffering unit.

OPEN THE RELIQUARIES

Adepta Sororitas – Requisition Stratagem

In the direst circumstances, even the most sacred of the Ministerum’s holy artefacts are brought forth to aid the faithful.

Use this Stratagem before the battle, when you are mustering your army, if your Warlord has the Adeptus Ministorum keyword. Select one Adeptus Ministorum Character model from your army and give them one Relic of the Ecclesiarchy (this must be a Relic they could have). Each Relic in your army must be unique, and you cannot use this Stratagem to give a model two Relics. You can only use this Stratagem once, unless you are playing a Strike Force battle (in which case, you can use this Stratagem twice) or an Onslaught battle (in which case, you can use this Stratagem three times).

A SACRED BURDEN

Adepta Sororitas – Requisition Stratagem

Those who exemplify the finest qualities of the Order will be entrusted to bear holy relics into battle, a blessing and a burden for the honoured warrior.

Use this Stratagem before the battle. Select one Adepta Sororitas model (excluding Character models) in your army that has the word ‘Superior’ in their profile. That model can have one of the following Relics of the Ecclesiarchy (pg 74-75), even though they are not a Character model: Blessings of Sebastian Thor; The Ecclesiarch’s Fury; Litanies of Faith; Redemption. Each Relic in your army must be unique, and you cannot use this Stratagem to give a model two Relics. You can only use this Stratagem once, unless you are playing a Strike Force battle (in which case, you can use this Stratagem twice) or an Onslaught battle (in which case, you can use this Stratagem three times).

SAINT IN THE MAKING

Adepta Sororitas – Requisition Stratagem

This warrior stands pre-eminent in the Adeptus Ministorum as a shining example of everything a devout servant of the Emperor aspires to.

Use this Stratagem before the battle, when you are mustering your army, if your Warlord has the Adeptus Ministorum keyword. Select one Adeptus Ministorum Character model from your army (excluding named characters) and determine one Warlord Trait for it (this must be a Warlord Trait it can have); that model is only regarded as your Warlord for the purposes of that Warlord Trait. Each Warlord Trait in your army must be unique (if randomly generated, re-roll duplicate results), and you cannot use this Stratagem to give a model two Warlord Traits. You can only use this Stratagem once, unless you are playing a Strike Force battle (in which case, you can use this Stratagem twice) or an Onslaught battle (in which case, you can use this Stratagem three times).
ANGELIC ASCENT 1CP

Adepta Sororitas – Strategic Play Stratagem

On wings of fire do the angelic warriors of the Orders Militant take to the skies to move to where the Emperor needs them.

Use this Stratagem at the start of your Movement phase. Select one ADEPTA SORORITAS JUMP PACK unit from your army. Remove this unit from the battlefield. In the Reinforcements step of your next Movement phase, you can set this unit back up on the battlefield, anywhere that is more than 9" away from any enemy models. If the battle ends and this unit is not on the battlefield, it is destroyed.

BATTLE RITES 1CP

Adepta Sororitas – Strategic Play Stratagem

The observance of battle rites and the chanting of blessed psalms stir the hearts of the faithful.

Use this Stratagem at the start of the battle round if your WARLORD has the ADEPTA SORORITAS keyword and is on the battlefield. Roll one D6 to randomly generate a sacred rite (pg 93) (roll again if the result is a sacred rite that is currently active for your army). Then, you can select one sacred rite that is currently active for your army and replace it with the result you just rolled (the replaced sacred rite is no longer active for your army and the sacred rite just rolled becomes active for your army). You can only use this Stratagem once.

DEADLY DESCENT 1CP

Adepta Sororitas – Strategic Play Stratagem

Seraphim arrive on the battlefield in a blaze of glory, spreading death from on high to scour the foe as they descend.

Use this Stratagem at the end of your Movement phase. Select one SERAPHIM SQUAD unit from your army that was set up as Reinforcements on the battlefield this turn. That unit can shoot as if it were your Shooting phase.

DEFENDERS OF THE FAITH 2CP

Adepta Sororitas – Strategic Play Stratagem

Defence of the Emperor’s realm falls to the Battle Sisters. When it is under threat, they redouble their efforts, rousing their fellow warriors’ spirits with volleys of holy fire and impassioned hymns.

Use this Stratagem at the end of your Movement phase. Select one BATTLE SISTERS SQUAD unit from your army that is within range of an objective marker on the battlefield. Until the start of your next Movement phase:

• Instead of following the normal rules for Rapid Fire weapons, models in this unit shooting Rapid Fire bolt weapons make double the number of attacks. For the purposes of this Stratagem, a Rapid Fire bolt weapon is any bolt weapon (as defined on page 121) with the Rapid Fire type.
• Each time an attack is made against this unit, an unmodified wound roll of 1-3 for that attack fails, irrespective of any abilities that the weapon or the model making the attack may have.

DESPERATE FOR REDEMPTION 2CP

Adepta Sororitas – Strategic Play Stratagem

Even the most grievous wound cannot stop a Sister Repentina in her quest to earn redemption in the eyes of the Emperor.

Use this Stratagem in the Fight phase when a SISTERS REPENTINA unit from your army is targeted by a melee attack. Until the end of the phase, each time a model in this unit is destroyed by a melee attack, if that model has not fought this phase, do not remove it from play. The destroyed model can fight after the attacking model’s unit has finished making attacks. After doing so, any other rules that affect this model ‘when it is destroyed’ are triggered (if any), and then the model is removed from play.

DEVASTATING REFRAIN 2CP

Adepta Sororitas – Strategic Play Stratagem

With a resounding flourish, missiles streak into the skies to bring glorious destruction to the enemies of the God-Emperor.

Use this Stratagem in your Shooting phase, when an EXORCIST model from your army is selected to shoot. Until the end of the phase, that model’s Exorcist missile launcher or Exorcist conflagration rockets can target units that are not visible to the bearer.

HOLY RAGE 1CP/2CP

Adepta Sororitas – Strategic Play Stratagem

With psalms on their lips, the faithful hurl themselves forward.

Use this Stratagem at the start of your Charge phase. Select one ADEPTA SORORITAS CORE unit from your army. Until the start of your next Command phase, that unit gains either the Zealot ability or the Fanatic ability, as shown below:

• Zealot: Each time a model in this unit makes a melee attack, if this unit made a charge move, was charged or performed a Heroic Intervention this turn, you can re-roll that attack’s hit roll.
• Fanatic: This unit is eligible to declare a charge in a turn in which it Fell Back.

If that unit is within 6" of an ADEPTUS MINISTERIUM PRIEST model when this Stratagem is used, this Stratagem costs 1CP; otherwise, it costs 2CP.

PURITY OF FAITH 1CP

Adepta Sororitas – Strategic Play Stratagem

The faith of the Adepta Sororitas steels their hearts and bodies against psychic assaults.

Use this Stratagem in your opponent’s Psychic phase, after a Psychic test is passed for an enemy PSYKER unit and after any Deny the Witch attempt is made (if any). If that enemy PSYKER unit is within 24" of any ADEPTA SORORITAS units from your army, roll one D6: on a 4+, that psychic power is denied.
FAITH AND FURY

Adepta Sororitas – Strategic Ploy Stratagem

With the Emperor watching over them, the righteous zeal of the Sisters of Battle burns ever brighter, fuelling their attacks.

Use this Stratagem after an Adepta Sororitas unit from your army has performed an Act of Faith (pg 91) for an attack's hit roll. You can reuse the same Miracle dice for that attack's wound roll (this does not count as having performed another Act of Faith).

FINAL REDEMPTION

Adepta Sororitas – Strategic Ploy Stratagem

Those bound to Engines of Redemption have only one hope of end to their torment, and they seek it out with unmatched zeal.

Use this Stratagem in the Fight phase, when an Engine of Redemption unit from your army is targeted by a melee attack. Until the end of the phase, each time a model in this unit is destroyed by a melee attack, roll one D6: on a 4+, after the attacking model's unit has finished making its attacks, it suffers D3 mortal wounds.

JUDGEMENT OF THE FAITHFUL

Adepta Sororitas – Strategic Ploy Stratagem

Even the most hopeless battle can be turned by a spark of divine inspiration.

Use this Stratagem in your Movement phase, when an Adepta Sororitas CORE unit from your army Falls Back. That unit is still eligible to shoot this turn even though it Fell Back.

RIGHTEOUS IMPACT

Adepta Sororitas – Strategic Ploy Stratagem

The Ecclesiarchy's artefact engines crash into the foe with force.

Use this Stratagem in your Charge phase, when a Paragon Warrsuits or Engine of Redemption unit from your army finishes a charge move. Select one enemy unit within Engagement Range of your unit and roll one D6 for each model in your unit that is within Engagement Range of that enemy unit. For each dice result that equals or exceeds that enemy unit's Toughness characteristic, it suffers 1 mortal wound (for each unmodified roll of a 6, that enemy unit instead suffers D3 mortal wounds).

BLESSED BOLTS

Adepta Sororitas – Wargear Stratagem

Said to be imbued with the Emperor's divine vengeance, it takes an artificer a lifetime to produce just one of these blessed bolts.

Use this Stratagem in your Shooting phase, when an Adepta Sororitas unit from your army is selected to shoot. Until the end of the phase, each time an attack is made with an artificer-crafted storm bolt or by a model in that unit, on an unmodified hit roll of 6, the target suffers 2 mortal wounds and the attack sequence ends (a maximum of 6 mortal wounds can be inflicted per phase via this Stratagem).

HOLY SMOKESCREEN

Adepta Sororitas – Wargear Stratagem

Deploying thrice-blessed canisters of incensed smoke, the war machines of the Sisters of Battle screen themselves from the enemy.

Use this Stratagem in your opponent's Shooting phase, when an Adepta Sororitas Smokescreen unit from your army is selected as the target of an attack. Until the end of the phase, each time an attack is made against that unit, subtract 1 from that attack's hit roll.

HOLY TRINITY

Adepta Sororitas – Wargear Stratagem

With bolt, flamer and melta is the foe purged.

Use this Stratagem in your Shooting phase, when an Adepta Sororitas unit from your army is selected to shoot. Select one eligible target for that unit that is within range of, and visible to, at least one model in that unit equipped with a bolt weapon, one model in that unit equipped with a flamer weapon and one model in that unit equipped with a melta weapon. Until the end of the phase, models in that unit can only make attacks that target that enemy unit, but each time such an attack is made with a bolt weapon, a flamer weapon or a melta weapon, add 1 to that attack's wound roll.

INVIOLEATE SHIELDWALL

Adepta Sororitas – Wargear Stratagem

The faithful stand firm against the worst horrors of the galaxy. Hordes of mutants and heretics crash against their shield walls before being laid low with righteous fury.

Use this Stratagem at the start of the Fight phase. Select one Celestian Sacresants or Crusaders unit from your army. Until the end of the phase, each time an attack is made against that unit, subtract 1 from that attack's wound roll.

THRICELY-BLESSED HULL

Adepta Sororitas – Wargear Stratagem

The hallowed blessings and artefacts built into the hulls of Adepta Sororitas vehicles can cause the unholy to burst into flames.

Use this Stratagem at the start of your opponent's Psychic phase. Select one Hallowed model from your army. Until the end of the phase, that model gains the following ability: "Thrice-Blessed Hull (Aura): While an enemy Psyker unit is within 12" of this model, each time a psychic test is taken for that unit and that test is failed, that Psyker unit suffers Perils of the Warp."
BLESSINGS OF THE FAITHFUL

If your army is Battle-forged and includes any Adepta Sororitas Detachments (excluding Auxiliary Support, Super-heavy Auxiliary and Fortification Network Detachments), then when you are mustering your army, you can upgrade any Canoness or Palatine models in your army by giving them one Blessing of the Faithful, chosen from those presented here.

Each time you give a model a Blessing of the Faithful, its Power Rating is increased by the amount shown in the table below. If you are playing a matched play game, or a game that uses a points limit, then the points value of that model is also increased by the amount shown on the same table. Make a note on your army roster each time you give a model a Blessing of the Faithful.

Named characters cannot be given Blessings of the Faithful. Each model can only have one Blessing of the Faithful. An army (or a Crusade force) cannot include the same Blessing of the Faithful more than once. A Crusade force cannot start with any models having Blessings of the Faithful - to include one in a Crusade force, you must use the Saintly Benedictions Requisition (pg 85).

Each Blessing of the Faithful has two associated abilities. The first is an ability that the model with this Blessing of the Faithful gains. The second is a Miraculous ability (see below).

To use a Blessing of the Faithful's Miraculous ability you must, in your Command phase, first discard 1 Miracle dice (pg 91). That ability is then activated and lasts until the start of your next Command phase. Each Miraculous ability can only be activated once per battle and you cannot activate more than one Miraculous ability per battle round. Miraculous abilities affect enemy models or units within Miracle range - this is determined by the value of the Miracle dice that was discarded, as shown in the table below. Note, that while similar in many regards to Aura abilities, Miraculous abilities are not affected by abilities that affect Aura abilities, and vice versa.

WORD OF THE EMPEROR
The blessed speak with the divine voice of the Emperor, a soul-shattering pronouncement that stuns the faithless in their tracks and renders useless their heretical attempts to avoid retribution.

- At the start of the Fight phase, you can select one enemy unit within 3" of this model. That unit is not eligible to fight this phase until all eligible units from your army have done so.
- Miraculous ability: While an enemy unit is within Miracle range of this model, each time a model in a friendly <Order> Core or <Order> Character unit makes a melee attack against that enemy unit, invulnerable saving throws cannot be made against that attack.

RAPTURIOUS BLOWS
As the faithful strike, their foes burst into searing flames as if they have been touched by the Emperor's own hand.

- Add 1 to the Strength and Damage characteristics of all melee weapons this model is equipped with (excluding Relics).
- Miraculous ability: While a friendly <Order> Core or <Order> Character unit is within Miracle range of this model, each time a model in that unit makes a melee attack, on an unmodified wound roll of 6, that attack inflicts one mortal wound in addition to the normal damage.

DIVINE DELIVERANCE
Enemy warlords tremble before the divine majesty of one blessed by the Emperor, and their minions quake before the booming onslaught of such a warrior's companions.

- At the start of your opponent's Command phase, select one enemy unit within 6" of this model and select one Aura ability that unit has. Roll 3D6; if the result is equal to or greater than that enemy unit's Leadership characteristic, then until the start of your opponent's next Command phase, that enemy unit loses that Aura ability.
- Miraculous ability: While a friendly <Order> Core or <Order> Character model is within Miracle range of this model, each time that model makes a ranged attack, if that attack causes an enemy model to be destroyed, until the end of the turn, subtract 1 from that enemy unit's Leadership characteristic. A unit's Leadership characteristic cannot be reduced by more than 3 as a result of this Miraculous ability.
THE EMPEROR'S GRACE
Flesh that was burned and torn heals anew and blows that should have been fatal miraculously miss their mark.

- At the start of each of your Command phases, this model is healed and regains D3 lost wounds. Each model can only be healed once per turn.
- Miraculous ability: While a friendly `<Order> Core` or `<Order> Character` unit is within Miracle range of this model, each time an attack is made against that unit, your opponent cannot re-roll the hit roll, cannot re-roll the wound roll and cannot re-roll the damage roll.

BLINDING RADIANCE
The Emperor’s own divinity is made manifest from this warrior’s golden halo, blinding the enemy with holy light.

- Each time a ranged attack is made against this model, subtract 1 from that attack’s wound roll.
- Miraculous ability: While a friendly `<Order> Core` or `<Order> Character` unit is within Miracle range of this model, each time a ranged attack is made against that unit, subtract 1 from that attack’s hit roll.

RIGHTEOUS JUDGEMENT
None can escape the Emperor’s judgement, and wherever the foe attempts to seek shelter the shots of the Adepta Sororitas miraculously seek them out.

- Each time you select a target for this model’s ranged weapons, you can ignore the Look Out, Sir rule. Each time this model makes a ranged attack, an unmodified wound roll of 6 inflicts 1 mortal wound on the target in addition to any normal damage.
- Miraculous ability: While a friendly `<Order> Core` or `<Order> Character` model is within Miracle range of this model, each time that model makes a ranged attack, the target does not receive the benefits of cover against that attack.
WARLORD TRAITS

If an Adepta Sororitas Character model is your Warlord, you can use the Adepta Sororitas Warlord Traits table below to determine what Warlord Trait they have. You can either roll one D6 to randomly generate one, or you can select one. If a Cult Imperialis Priest model is your Warlord, they can only have the Inspiring Orator, Righteous Rage or Executioner of Heretics Warlord Trait, or you can roll one D3 to randomly generate one of these Warlord Traits. When you have determined a Warlord Trait for an Adepta Sororitas Character model, replace all instances of the <Order> keyword in their Warlord Trait (if any) with the name of the Order Militant that your model is drawn from. If your Warlord has the Sanctified keyword, replace all instances of the <Order> keyword on any Warlord Traits they have (if any) with Adepta Sororitas.

1. INSPIRING ORATOR
Those who hear this leader’s stirring words are inspired to great feats of bravery.

- Each time this Warlord intones a hymn or uses an ability in your Command phase that specifies a range, you can add 3” to the range of that hymn or ability. This does not affect the Miracle range of any abilities (pg 70).
- This Warlord has the following ability: Inspiring Orator (Aura). While a friendly <Order> Core unit is within 6” of this Warlord, that unit ignores the Combat Attrition penalty for being below Half-strength.

2. RIGHTEOUS RAGE
This servant of the divine can barely contain their desire to strike down the unfaithful.

Each time this Warlord makes a melee attack, you can re-roll the hit roll and you can re-roll the wound roll.

3. EXECUTIONER OF HERETICS (AURA)
This leader hunts down the Ecclesiarchy’s enemies and slays them without mercy.

While an enemy unit is within 6” of this Warlord:
- Subtract 1 from the Leadership characteristic of models in that unit.
- Each time a Combat Attrition test is taken for that unit, subtract 1 from that Combat Attrition test.

4. BEACON OF FAITH
This Adepta Sororitas leader is a shining beacon of faith, whose actions on the battlefield are nothing short of miraculous.

At the start of your Command phase, if this Warlord is on the battlefield, you gain 1 Miracle dice (pg 91). This Miracle dice can only be used when your Warlord performs an Act of Faith (pg 91) or uses a Miracle ability (pg 70-71), and if not used by the start of your next Command phase, it is discarded. This Miracle dice can be used to perform an Act of Faith even if another unit from your army has already performed an Act of Faith this phase.

5. INDOMITABLE BELIEF (AURA)
This chosen champion has such strength of belief that their followers refuse to yield.

While a friendly <Order> Core Infantry unit is within 6” of this Warlord, the invulnerable save models in that unit receive from the Shield of Faith ability (pg 90) is improved by 1 (to a maximum of 4+).

6. PURE OF WILL
With a will of adamant, this devout servant’s faith can turn aside even the most foul witchcraft.

- This Warlord can attempt to deny one additional psychic power in your opponent’s Psychic phase, as described in the Shield of Faith ability (pg 90).
- Add 3 to Deny the Witch tests taken for this Warlord.

NAMED CHARACTERS AND WARLORD TRAITS

If one of the following characters gains a Warlord Trait, they must have the one shown below (note that Agathae Dolan, Geminae Superba and Kyganii of the Bloody Tears can never have a Warlord Trait).

HYMNS OF BATTLE

All ADEPTUS MINISTERIUM PRIESTS know War Hymn (see below). In addition, before the battle, generate the additional hymns (if any) for PRIEST models from your army that know hymns from the Hymns of Battle using the table below. If the PRIEST model has the ADEPTA SORIORITAS keyword, you can either roll one D6 to generate each hymn randomly (re-rolling duplicate results), or you can select which hymns the PRIEST model knows. If the PRIEST model has the CULTI IMPERIALIS keyword, you can either roll one D3 to generate each hymn randomly (re-rolling duplicate results), or you can select one of the following hymns for that priest to know: Refrain of Blazing Piety, Chorus of Spiritual Fortitude, Psalm of Righteous Smiting.

WAR HYMN
Suffer not the enemies of Mankind to live. Smite them down with all your strength and fury.

If this hymn is inspiring, select one friendly ADEPTUS MINISTERIUM CORE, ADEPTUS MINISTERIUM CHARACTER or ENGINE OF REDEMPTION unit within 6" of this PRIEST model. Until the start of your next Command phase, add 1 to to the attacks characteristic of models in that unit.

1. REFRAIN OF BLAZING PIETY
The fervent intonations that the God-Emperor will smite down his foes are believed so powerfully that these sacred words can cause heretics to combust.

If this hymn is inspiring, select one enemy unit that is within 12" of and visible to this PRIEST model. That unit suffers D3 mortal wounds (if that unit has the CHAOS keyword, it instead suffers 3 mortal wounds).

2. CHORUS OF SPIRITUAL FORTITUDE
The Emperor protects the faithful from the corruption that lurks in the darkness.

If this hymn is inspiring, select one friendly ADEPTUS MINISTERIUM CORE, ADEPTUS MINISTERIUM CHARACTER or ENGINE OF REDEMPTION unit within 6" of this PRIEST model.

- If that unit or its models are being affected by any psychic powers manifested by enemy models, the effects of those psychic powers on that unit and its models end.
- Until the start of your next Command phase, that unit and the models it contains are not affected by any psychic power manifested by enemy units.

3. PSALM OF RIGHTEOUS SMITING
Invoking the strength of the God-Emperor, divine power flows through the priest as they carve apart their enemies like the warrior-saints of legend.

If this hymn is inspiring:

- Add 1 to this PRIEST model’s Strength and Attacks characteristics.
- Improve the Armour Penetration characteristic of melee weapons this PRIEST model is equipped with by 1 (excluding Relics).
- At the end of the Battle phase, if this PRIEST model is in Engagement Range of any enemy units, it can fight one additional time.

4. LITANY OF ENDURING FAITH
Faith is the shield of the righteous, and the passionate chants of the devout can reinforce the beneficence of the God-Emperor.

If this hymn is inspiring, select one friendly ADEPTA SORIORITAS CORE or ADEPTA SORIORITAS CHARACTER unit within 6" of this PRIEST model. The invulnerable save models in that unit receive from the Shield of Faith ability (pg 90) is improved by 1 (to a maximum of 4+).

5. VERSE OF HOLY PIETY
Pray is stronger than any sword. As the sanctified words of the Order’s holy tenets are roared across the battlefield, the devout are infused with the Emperor’s blessings.

If this hymn is inspiring, select one friendly ADEPTA SORIORITAS CORE or ADEPTA SORIORITAS CHARACTER unit within 6" of this PRIEST model. Select one sacred rite (pg 93) that is not active for your army. That sacred rite is active for that unit in addition to any others that are active for your army.

6. CATECHISM OF REPUGNANCE
With the holy bolter we shall cleanse the mutant, the alien and the heretic. With the Emperor’s gift do we deliver our hatred of the defiler.

If this hymn is inspiring, select one friendly ADEPTA SORIORITAS CORE or ADEPTA SORIORITAS CHARACTER unit within 6" of this PRIEST model. Each time a model in that unit makes a ranged attack with a bolt weapon (pg 121):

- An unmodified hit roll of 6 automatically wounds the target.
- If that attack targets a unit within half range, the Armour Penetration characteristic of that attack is improved by 1.
RELICS

If your army is led by an Adepta Sororitas Warlord, you can, when mustering your army, give one of the following Relics of the Ecclesiarchy to an Adeptus Minitorium Character model from your army. Named characters cannot be given any of the following Relics.

Note that some Relics replace one of the model’s existing items of wargear. Where this is the case, you must, if you are using points values, still pay the cost of the wargear that is being replaced. Write down any Relics of the Ecclesiarchy your models have on your army roster.

BLADE OF SAINT ELLYNOR

This power sword is forged from thrice-blessed silver, quenched in the blood of a hundred martyred heroes. On one side the names and deeds of a thousand saints are inscribed on the molecular level, while the other side is etched with the entire Fede Imperialis. The blade glows with righteous power and has slain heretics, mutants and xenos beyond counting.

Model equipped with a blessed blade only. This Relic replaces a blessed blade and has the following profile:

<table>

<th>WEAPON</th>

</tbody>
</table>

BRAZIER OF ETERNAL FLAME

The Brazier of Eternal Flame burns above the faithful, its blazing light driving back the darkness and protecting the true servants of the Emperor from foul sorceries and unholy abominations.

Model with a brazier of holy fire only.

- Each time an enemy Daemon model makes an attack against the bearer, subtract 1 from that attack’s hit roll.
- The bearer gains the following ability: ‘Eternal Flame (Aura):’ While an enemy Psyker unit is within 18” of the bearer, each time a Psychic test is taken for that unit that contains any double, that unit suffers Perils from the Warp.

WRATH OF THE EMPEROR

The highly ornate bolt pistol known as the Wrath of the Emperor fires shells imbued with incendiary charges. Upon detonation, these immolate their unfortunate victims in a flash of holy flame. Senior Sisters who have been granted dispensation to unleash the Wrath of the Emperor upon the enemies of faith have testified that its shining flurries of vengeance have leapt gladly from the muzzle. The holy weapon yearns to stitch its fiery sermon through the blackest of hearts.

LITANIES OF FAITH

When Sebastian Thor was declared Ecclesiarch in the wake of the Age of Apostasy, his first sermon was transcribed onto scrolls by an army of scribes. Today, only a single original copy remains, kept in a sealed vault beneath the Convent Priors on Terra and released only with the sanction of the Ecclesiarch himself. This unassuming parchment is one of the holiest relics in the Ministerium’s charge, its mere presence enough to fill the hearts of the faithful with righteous fervour.

Adepta Sororitas model only. Once per battle round, if the bearer is on the battlefield when you gain a Miracle dice (pg 91), you can re-roll that die before adding it to your pool.

MANTLE OF OPHELIA

The Mantle of Ophelia was once the badge of office for the Prior of the Convent Sanctorum, and was worn by Helena the Virtuous, a Living Saint and one of the most revered leaders in the history of the Adepta Sororitas. The mantle is thought to have sacred powers of protection, for Helena was said to have anointed it with the Tears of the Emperor, a phial of blood-like liquid meticulously collected over a century from weeping statues of the Emperor found across the cardinal worlds of the Imperium.

Canoness model only. Each time an attack is allocated to the bearer, the Damage characteristic of that attack is changed to 1.

TRIPTYCH OF THE MACHARIAN CRUSADE

The Macharian Crusade reillumination vast stretches of the Emperor’s domain that had not seen his light in generations. The Lord Commander Solar was accompanied by thousands of members of the Missionaries of Galaxia, each a devout proselytiser who was hardened to life on the fringes of Imperial space. This ancient triptych, the only one to survive the internecine warfare that followed the crusade, glorifies three Missionaries who together saved the souls of millions. Carried onto the most isolated and fire-swept of battlefields, the images of the Macharian Trinity embodied by the small adamantine-sheathed relic remind the bearer that faith alone can weather the most grievous of adversities.

Sanctified or Cult Imperialis model only.

- Add 1 to the bearer’s Toughness characteristic.
- The bearer has a 4+ invulnerable save.
- Once per turn, the first time a saving throw is failed for the bearer, the Damage characteristic of that attack is changed to 0.

BOOK OF SAINT LUCIUS

This tome contains the complete writings of Saint Lucius of Agathoa, the first Arch-confessor. Such was Saint Lucius’ zeal and devotion that his book was penned with his own blood. Even now, centuries after his death, it is believed that a fraction of his essence still pervades the book’s pages, and whoever holds the revered relic speaks with all the deceased Arch-confessor’s holy authority.

Add 3” to the range of the bearer’s aura abilities (to a maximum of 12”).

IRON SURPLICE OF SAINT ISTAELE
Worked upon by generations of artificers, consecrated with holy oils and steeped in the smoke of sacred incense, this suit of power armour is amongst the most battle-proven relics held by the Orders Militant. Saint Istaela was the last surviving member of her Order, a minor Sisterhood whose very name has passed beyond recall. Scorched and dented, her armour was recovered still intact from the battlefield and may be granted to a Sister whose faith is held to be strong enough.

ADEPTA SORORITAS model only.

- Add 1 to the bearer’s Wounds characteristic.
- Each time an attack is made against the bearer, an unmodified wound roll of 1-3 for that attack fails, irrespective of any abilities that the weapon or the model making the attack may have.
- The bearer has a Save characteristic of 2+.

THE ECCLESIAARCH’S FURY
This enormous chainsword was gifted to the Convent Prioris at the commencement of the Argyle Crusade. Placed before the Pulpit of Woe as Ecclesiarch Repricht II delivered his sermon to formally announce the thirty-year conflict, it is said to have absorbed his fiery wrath and unwavering hatred of the heretics his crusade would utterly extinguish. Every tooth is inscribed with the names of martyred clergy and fallen Sisters, and those who bear this sanctified blade thirst for vengeance against those who strike down the faithful.

Model equipped with a chainsword only. This Relic replaces a chainsword and has the following profile:

REDEMPTION
The sacred light of the Emperor is believed to emanate from this relic plasma pistol. The searing bolts it fires cleanse the unholy in body and spirit, their raging heat and illumination lancing through flesh and armour in a blazing instant. This holy sidearm was named Redemption after it slew the apostate Cardinal P’ra Tiberis, his rosarius failing to activate in a moment seen as the Emperor levelling his judgement.

Abilities: Each time an attack is made with this weapon, if a hit is scored, draw a straight line between the closest part of this model’s base [or hull] and that of the closest model in the target unit. Make one wound roll against the target unit, and each other unit this line passes over.

THE SIGIL ECCLESIASTICUS
This small icon is granted only to those adepts of the Ecclesiarch who have undergone the ten Pilgrimages of Saint Dolan, culminating in Holy Terra. Such individuals speak with the authority and inspiring rhetoric of the legendary Great Confessor himself.

PRIEST model only.

- The bearer knows one additional hymn from the Hymns of Battle (pg 73).
- In your Command phase, the bearer can intone one additional hymn that it knows that has not already been intoned by a friendly model that turn.

BLESSINGS OF SEBASTIAN THOR
Each of the Convents contains a single copy of the first verse of the Creed of the Emperor’s Light, a stirring hymn said to have been penned by Sebastian Thor’s own hand. Affixed to a warrior’s armour by wax mixed with the blood of martyred heroes, these words bestow holy blessings upon the bearer, filling them with righteous might.

ADEPTA SORORITAS model only. Before you determine which sacred rite(s) are active for your army, select two sacred rites (pg 93). Until the end of the battle, these sacred rites are active for the bearer’s unit instead of those that are active for the rest of your army.

SIMULACRUM SANCCTORUM
The graven image atop this minutely detailed stave contains the bones of a dozen martyred saints. The statue represents them all – their heroism bound together in service to the Emperor – and the Imagifier must know the legendary tales of each of them. To hear the deeds of so many glorious saints in the midst of battle fills the hearts of the Sororitas with renewed purpose.

IMAGIFIER model only. At the start of the battle, before the first turn begins, you must select two tales for the bearer to recount instead of just one. You cannot select a tale that another model from your army is already recounting unless all three tales are being recounted by models from your army.

CHAPLET OF SACRIFICE
This chaplet ecclesiast is has been handed down through the Adepta Sororitas, each bead added having been made from the power armour of the previous owner, every one of whom died a martyred hero of the Orders Militant. Such a relic is a mighty burden, for it carries the righteousness of those who uphold everything the Adepta Sororitas stand for. It stirs the bearer to mighty deeds, and they will not yield easily while the Emperor’s work remains unfinished.

ADEPTA SORORITAS model only.

- Once per battle, if the bearer is selected to use an Epic Deed Stratagem (excluding Divine Intervention, page 66), that Stratagem costs OCP.
- Each time the bearer makes an attack, you can re-roll the hit roll.
- When the bearer is destroyed, do not remove that model from play. At the end of the phase, it can either shoot as if it were your Shooting phase, or fight as if it were the Fight phase. After resolving the destroyed model’s attacks, it is then removed.
CHAPTER APPROVED RULES

If every model in your army (excluding Agent of the Imperium and Unaligned units) has the Adepta Sororitas keyword, you can, if you are playing a matched play battle that instructs you to select secondary objectives (e.g. a mission from the Eternal War mission pack in the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book), select one of them to be from the Adepta Sororitas secondary objectives listed below.

Like all other secondary objectives, each of the secondary objectives listed below has a category, and they follow all the normal rules for secondary objectives (for example, when you select secondary objectives, you cannot choose more than one from each category; you can score no more than 15 victory points from each secondary objective you select during the mission etc.).

NO MERCY, NO RESPITE

A LEAP OF FAITH

Progressive Objective

Faith alone can overturn the universe.

At the end of each turn, if 2 Acts of Faith (pg 91) were performed during that turn by Adepta Sororitas units from your army, score 1 victory point if it is your turn, or 2 victory points if it is your opponent's turn. If 3 or more Acts of Faith were performed by Adepta Sororitas units from your army during that turn, score 1 additional victory point. Note that Acts of Faith performed due to Cherub dice bestowed by incensor cherubs do not count towards this secondary objective. You can score no more than 12 victory points from this secondary objective during the mission.

SHADOW OPERATIONS

SACRED GROUNDS

Progressive Objective

Reclaim the Emperor’s dominion and consecrate it once more.

If you select this objective, then Adepta Sororitas Infantry and Cult Imperialis Priest units from your army can attempt the following action:

Sacred Grounds (Action): One Adepta Sororitas Infantry or Cult Imperialis Priest unit from your army can start to perform this action at the start of your Movement phase if it is in range of an objective marker that has not already been consecrated by your army. A unit cannot start this action while there are any enemy units (excluding Aircraft units) in range of the same objective marker. The action is completed at the start of your next Command phase or at the end of the battle, whichever comes first, provided the unit performing it is still within range of the same objective marker. If completed, that objective marker is said to have been consecrated by your army, and until the end of the battle, that objective marker gains the Inspiring (Adeptus Ministorum) terrain trait (see the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book) as if it were a terrain feature (it is not considered a terrain feature for any other purposes).

Each time a unit from your army completes the Sacred Grounds action, if the objective marker that was consecrated by that action was wholly in your own deployment zone, score 1 victory point; otherwise, score 4 victory points.

PURGE THE ENEMY

SLAY THE HERETIC

Progressive Objective

The enemy oppose the will of the Emperor. Show them the error of their blasphemous ways with bolters, flamers and meltas.

At the end of each of your Shooting phases, score 1 victory point for each of the following that applies:

- One or more enemy units were destroyed by an attack made with a bolt weapon (pg 121) by an Adeptus Ministorum unit from your army.
- One or more enemy units were destroyed by an attack made with a flame weapon (pg 121) by an Adeptus Ministorum unit from your army.
- One or more enemy units were destroyed by an attack made with a meltagun weapon (pg 121) by an Adeptus Ministorum unit from your army.

If all three of these apply at the end of your Shooting phase, then you score 1 additional victory point (for a maximum of 4 victory points).

BATTLEFIELD SUPREMACY

DEFEND THE SHRINE

Progressive and End Game Objective

The location of a small but sacred shrine has been identified. Defend this holy tribute lest it be desecrated by the enemy.

If you select this secondary objective, after both sides have finished deploying, your opponent must select one objective marker on the battlefield not within their own deployment zone to be the Sacred Shrine objective marker (if the only objective marker on the battlefield is in the enemy’s deployment zone, then this must be the Sacred Shrine objective marker).

- At the end of your turn you score 3 victory points if you control the Sacred Shrine objective marker.
- At the end of the battle, you score 3 additional victory points if you control the Sacred Shrine objective marker.
- At the end of the battle, reduce the number of victory points you have earned from this secondary objective by 3 (to a minimum of 0) if your opponent controls the Sacred Shrine objective marker.
CRUSADE RULES

In this section you’ll find additional rules for playing Crusade battles with Sisters of Battle, such as Agendas, Battle Traits and Crusade Relics that are bespoke to Adepta Sororitas units. You can find out more about Crusade armies in the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book.

This section contains the following additional rules:

BATTLE TRAITS
Adepta Sororitas units, and members of the priesthood that accompany them, can be given one of the Battle Traits presented on the page opposite as they gain experience and are promoted in your Crusade force. These help to better reflect the unique upgrades and Battle Honours that are bestowed to Adeptus Ministorum units.

TRIALS OF A LIVING SAINT
On pages 80-83 you will find rules to elevate a heroine in your Crusade force to Living Saint. The journey to sainthood is arduous, and there are many trials such a warrior must perform, but with each test passed they unlock more of their true holy potential, and take one step closer to Sainthood.

AGENDAS
Adepta Sororitas units can attempt to achieve unique Agendas in Crusade battles, which can be found on page 84. These Agendas reflect the unique goals of Sisters of Battle armies on the battlefield and help to reflect their particular methods of waging war. You can find out more about Agendas in Crusade mission packs, such as that presented in the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book.

REQUISITIONS
Adepta Sororitas armies have access to a number of additional Requisitions, suited to their methods for waging war. You can find these on page 85.

CRUSADE RELICS
In addition to the Crusade Relics presented in the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book, Adepta Sororitas and Cult Imperialis Priest characters can quest to search for one of the Crusade Relics described on page 86-87; these Relics are unique to the Adeptus Ministorum, and are sacred artefacts to the holy warriors of the Ecclesiarchy.

SHOWCASE CRUSADE ARMY
On pages 88-89 you will find Dan Hyam’s excellent Order of the Bloody Rose Adepta Sororitas Crusade army, with a description of the force and its upgrades, and details of its exploits on the battlefield.
BATTLE TRAITS

When an ADEPTUS MINISTERIUM unit gains a Battle Trait, you can use one of the tables below instead of one of the tables in the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book to determine what Battle Trait the unit has gained. To do so, roll one D6 and consult the appropriate table, or choose a Battle Trait from the appropriate table that tells the best narrative for your unit. All the normal rules for Battle Traits apply (e.g., a unit cannot have the same Battle Trait more than once). As with any Battle Honour, make a note on the unit’s Crusade card when it gains a Battle Trait and increase its Crusade points accordingly, as described in the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book.

ADEPTA SORORITAS INFANTRY AND PARAGON WARSUITS UNITS

D6 TRAIT

Pure of Soul
Resisting the foul sacrileges of the enemy is the sacred duty of all who worship the Emperor.
At the end of your opponent’s Psychic phase, if one or more units with this trait passed a Deny the Witch test during that phase, you gain 1 Miracle dice (pg 91).

Valour of Saints
Those who stand unflinching against the horrors of the galaxy inspire their comrades to feats of divine heroism.
At the end of the Morale phase, if one or more units with this trait passed a Morale test during that phase, you gain 1 Miracle dice.

Armoured with Contempt
Indomitable belief in the Emperor and disdain for the enemy are surer than any armour.
The invulnerable save models in this unit receive from the Shield of Faith ability (pg 90) is improved by 1 (to a maximum of 4+).

Veteran of the Convent
Some members of the Orders Militant have won a hundred or more battlefields, their scars are offering to the God-Emperor.
Select one model in this unit if the unit has a unit champion, such as a SISTER SUPERIOR, CELESTIAN SUPERIOR etc., you must select that model! Add 1 to the Attacks and Leadership characteristics of the selected model. In addition, unless the selected model is a CHARACTER, you also add 1 to the selected model’s Wounds characteristic.

Zealous Devotion
Such is the ardour of their devotion that some Battle Sisters work themselves into a righteous rage when the Emperor’s foes are sighted.
This unit gains the Zealot ability (pg 90). If this unit already has this ability, improve the Weapon Skill characteristic of models in this unit by 1 instead.

Exemplars of the Creed
Few Battle Sisters show as much devotion to the Fede Imperialis as these.
Once per battle, at the start of your Command phase, select one sacred rite (pg 93) that is not active for your army (or this unit). Until the start of your next Command phase, that sacred rite is active for this unit in addition to any others that are active for your army (or this unit).

CULT IMPERIALIS UNITS

D6 TRAIT

Aegis of Belief
The Emperor protects those with the fanaticism and devotion to fight in his name, miraculously shielding them from harm. This unit has the Shield of Faith ability (pg 90).

Faithful Devotee
Every moment not persecuting a Crusade of Faith in the Emperor’s name is spent in deep devotion and prayer.
This unit has the Sacred Rites ability (pg 90). Note that if the Aegis of the Emperor sacred rite is active for your army, it has no benefit to this unit unless it also has the Shield of Faith ability (see Aegis of Belief, above).

Unquenchable Fanaticism
The reserves of holy hatred some zealots have for the foul enemies of Mankind are limitless.
This unit loses its Zealot ability (pg 90) and instead, each time a model in this unit makes a melee attack, you can re-roll the hit roll.

HOSPITALLER UNITS

D6 TRAIT

Spiritual Healer
This skilled chirurgeon cleanses the soul of her patients with her strength of faith, returning even the most seriously wounded warriors to the field.
This model is part of your Crusade army, and if it was not destroyed during the battle, then at the end of the battle you can ignore one failed Out of Action test taken for a unit (excluding VEHICLE, SAINT POTENTIAL and LIVING SAINT units) – that test is treated as having been passed instead.

Final Rites
The words spoken over a dying comrade remind those still fighting that there is nothing better than to die in battle in the Emperor’s name.
This model has the following ability: ‘Last Rites (Aura)’; While a friendly ADEPTUS MINISTERIUM unit is within 5” of this model, each time that unit takes a Morale test, an unmodified roll of 1-3 is always successful.

ADEPTUS MINISTERIUM PRIEST UNITS

D6 TRAIT

Solemn in Prayer
This priest never speaks unless it is to exalt the God Emperor. This model knows one additional hymn from the Hymns of Battle (pg 73).

Bombastic Projection
This priest roars in fiery exultation over the din of battle. Each time this model intones a hymn, add 1 to the dice roll to see if that hymn is inspiring.
TRIALS OF A LIVING SAINT

If, when you start a Crusade force, there are any Adepta Sororitas Characters on your Order of Battle (excluding named characters), you can select one of them. That Character has the potential to become a Living Saint, and gains the Saint Potentia keyword. In addition to gaining experience points as you play through your Crusade battle, this model will gain Saint points and Martyr points (see below), which you must keep track of on its Crusade card.

SAINT POINTS
With every miraculous deed performed does a true believer of the Emperor step closer to sainthood.

A Saint Potentia model must undertake a Trial of a Living Saint to gain Saint points. When you first select a model to be a Saint Potentia, select one of the trials listed opposite. That model is now said to be undertaking that trial and will accrue Saint points towards it by accomplishing one or more Saintly deeds during a battle, as specified within the trial itself. Once a Saint Potentia has earned 10 or more Saint points, that trial is complete, your Saint points total is reset to 0 and that model gains the Saintly reward associated with that trial. Each time a model gains a Saintly reward, make a note on its Crusade card and increase its Crusade points by 1. If this model has 4 or less Saintly rewards, you can then select a new trial and begin again.

At the end of a battle, a Saint Potentia can abandon their current trial and you can select a new one for them. If you do so, any Saint points they have accrued towards that trial are lost and their Saint points total is reset to 0.

A model cannot have more than 5 Saintly rewards, and you cannot have the same reward more than once. If a model has 5 Saintly rewards, it replaces its Saint Potentia keyword with Living Saint.

The Trials of a Living Saint, the Saintly deeds and the associated Saintly rewards are shown opposite.

MARTYR POINTS
The ultimate fate for all Living Saints is martyrdom in the Emperor's cause. However, for those that are graced to bear witness to such an end, a great wellspring of faith can be drawn.

Each time a Saint Potentia or Living Saint model fails an Out of Action test, after the battle it gains 1 Martyr point and you must take a Martyrdom test for that model. To do so, roll one D6, adding its current number of Martyr points to the result. If the total is greater than this model's Leadership characteristic, that test is passed and the Saint Potentia of Living Saint has been Martyred and must be removed from your Order of Battle (we recommend writing down the details of her death and against whom on your Order of Battle). Otherwise, nothing happens.

If a Saint Potentia or Living Saint is Martyred, every other unit that was in your Crusade army for that battle gains a number of experience points equal to the number of Saintly rewards the Martyred Saint Potentia or Living Saint had.
Trial Of Faith
A Living Saint performs miraculous deeds on the battlefield, proof that the Emperor works through them.

Saintly Deeds

Beacon of Divine Grace: Earn 2 Saint points at the end of a battle if this model performed 3 or more Acts of Faith during that battle.

Miraculous Feat: Earn 1 Saint point at the end of a battle if this model used a Blessing of the Faithful’s Miraculous ability (pg 70-71) during that battle.

Chorus of War: Earn 1 Saint point at the end of a battle if this model intoned 3 or more inspiring Hymns of Battle (pg 73) during that battle.

Glory to the Emperor: Earn 1 Saint point at the end of a battle if this model is on the battlefield and you have 3 or more Miracle dice remaining in your Miracle dice pool.

Saintly Reward

Boundless Faith: At the start of each battle round, if this model is on the battlefield, you gain 1 Miracle dice. That Miracle dice can only be used by this model when it performs an Act of Faith (pg 91) or uses a Miraculous ability (pg 70-71), and if it is not used by the end of the battle round, that Miracle dice is discarded.

---

Trial Of Suffering
Suffering is the greatest prayer a Living Saint can offer the God Emperor.

Saintly Deeds

Scars of the Penitent: Earn 3 Saint points each time this model gains a Battle Scar. Lose 3 Saint points each time this model loses a Battle Scar.

Martyr’s Wounds: Earn 1 Saint point at the end of a battle if this model suffered 1 or more mortal wounds during that battle.

Purification of the Flesh: Earn 1 Saint point at the end of a battle if this model was destroyed or if it has less than half its starting number of wounds remaining.

Tortured Soul: Earn 1 Saint point at the end of a battle if this model was affected by a Malediction psychic power during that battle.

Saintly Reward

Miraculous Recovery: Once per battle, at the start of any phase, this model can regain D3 lost wounds. In addition, any Battle Scars this model has are removed from its Crusade card and any further Battle Scars it gains are ignored.
Trial Of Purity

A Living Saint is so pure that malign sorcery cannot touch their soul, and no wound can stay their body.

Saintly Deeds

Suffer Not the Mutant: Earn 2 Saint points at the end of a battle if this model destroyed an enemy Psyker Character during that battle.

Deny the Witch: Earn 1 Saint point at the end of a battle if one or more Deny the Witch tests were passed for this model during that battle.

Divine Protection: Earn 1 Saint point at the end of a battle if this model passed one or more invulnerable saves conferred by its Shield of Faith ability (pg 90) during that battle.

Blessed by the Emperor: Earn 1 Saint point at the end of a battle if this model was destroyed during the battle but was subsequently returned to the battlefield because of any rule.

Saintly Reward

Blazing Soulfire: Once per battle, at the end of any phase, this model can unleash a burst of pure soulfire. When it does so, roll one D6 for every enemy unit within 6" of it: on a 2+, that unit suffers 1 mortal wound (if that unit is a Psyker or Chaos unit, it suffers D3 mortal wounds instead).

Trial Of Righteousness

A Living Saint will smite the enemies of the Emperor wherever they cower.

Saintly Deeds

Slay the Demagogue: Earn 2 Saint points at the end of a battle if this model destroyed the enemy Warlord during that battle.

Cast Down the Heretic: Earn 1 Saint point at the end of a battle if this model destroyed one or more Chaos units during that battle.

Smite the Unbelievers: Earn 1 Saint point at the end of a battle if this model destroyed 5 or more enemy models during that battle.

The Emperor’s Wrath: Earn 1 Saint point at the end of a battle if this model inflicted a total of 3 or more mortal wounds on enemy units during that battle.

Saintly Reward

Righteous Wrath: Once per battle, at the end of the Fight phase, if this model is within Engagement Range of one or more enemy units, it can fight again.
Trial Of Valour

---

Saintly Deeds

Holy Crusader: Earn 2 Saint points at the end of a battle if this model is within range of an objective marker that is within your opponent’s deployment zone.

Selfless in the Face of Danger: Earn 1 Saint point at the end of a battle if this model performed one or more Heroic interventions during that battle.

Pious Reputation: Earn 1 Saint point at the end of a battle if this model earned more experience points than any other unit from your Crusade army during that battle.

Saintly Reward

Serene Heroism: This model gains the Objective Secured ability (see the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book). In addition, once per battle, when this model uses an Epic Deed Stratagem, that Stratagem costs 0CP.

---

‘Within me burns the holy radiance of the Emperor made manifest, while your soul festers with the meagre filth of Chaos. I am the light to your darkness, heretic. As sudden dawn scatters the shadows of night, so I and my Sisters shall purge all trace of you from this holy place, and make it as though you never were.’

- Sister Superior Cheandra Lassemer, Order of the Sacred Rose
AGENDAS

If your Crusade army includes any Adepta Sororitas units, you can select one Agenda from the Adepta Sororitas Agendas listed below. This is a new category of Agendas, and follows all the normal rules for Agendas (for example, when you select Agendas, you cannot choose more than one from each category).

TEST OF FAITH

Adepta Sororitas Agenda

Faith is the greatest weapon a Battle Sister can wield and, as with any weapon, it must be practiced and honed.

Keep a Test of Faith tally for each Adepta Sororitas unit in your army. Each time a unit performs an Act of Faith using a Miracle dice (pg 91), add 1 to its tally. If a unit fails a Morale test, reset its tally back to 0. At the end of the battle, each unit gains 1 experience point for every mark on its Test of Faith tally (to a maximum of 3 experience points per unit).

BURN THE WITCH

Adepta Sororitas Agenda

Some psykers – such as Navigators who can see the Emperor’s blessed light, or Astropaths who have communed with the Emperor himself – are reverent figures. However, rogue psykers who oppose the Ecclesiarchy deserve only one fate...

Keep a Burn the Witch tally for each Adeptus Ministorum unit from your army. Add 1 to a unit’s Burn the Witch tally each time it destroys an enemy Psyker unit (add 3 instead if that enemy unit was destroyed by an attack made with a flame weapon, page 121). Each unit gains a number of experience points equal to its Burn the Witch tally (to a maximum of 5 experience points per unit).

ATONEMENT IN BATTLE

Adepta Sororitas Agenda

Those who have failed in the Emperor’s eyes must quest for absolution. Only by striking down the mightiest foes of the Emperor will their shame be absolved.

When you select this Agenda, select one Sisters Repentia unit from your Crusade force or one Adepta Sororitas unit from your Crusade force that has one of the following Battle Scars: Loss of Reputation, Disgraced, Mark of Shame or Battle-weary (see the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book). At the end of the battle, if a melee attack made by this unit during the battle destroyed an enemy unit whose Power Rating was greater than this unit’s, then this unit loses one of the aforementioned Battle Scars (if it had one of them), it gains 5 experience points and, if it is a Sisters Repentia unit, it gains 1 Redemption point (make a note on its Crusade card – see Glorious Redemption, opposite).

THE SEED OF THE IMPERIUM

Adepta Sororitas Agenda

It is said that the blood of martyrs is the seed of the Imperium. Where it falls, repugnance and vengeance blossom, and the furious reprisals of the faithful thrive.

At the end of the battle, make a Seed of the Imperium tally for up to three Adepta Sororitas units in your Crusade army that either destroyed one of more enemy units during that battle, or that ended the battle within range of an objective marker. Add 1 to each of these unit’s tallies for each of the following that apply: that unit is not at its Starting Strength; that unit is below Half-strength; that unit is destroyed. Subtract 1 from each of these unit’s tallies if you lost the battle. Each unit gains a number of experience points equal to their Seed of the Imperium tally.

Example: An Adepta Sororitas unit with a Seed of the Imperium tally was destroyed, earning 3 marks on its tally. 1 is subtracted from its tally as the unit’s controlling player lost the battle, therefore the unit earns a total of 2 experience points.

RECLAIM THE RELIC

Adepta Sororitas Agenda

The location of an irreplaceable holy relic has been identified. Reclaim this sacred artefact lest it be lost to the Adeptus Ministorum forever.

If you selected this Agenda, then after both sides have finished deploying, your opponent must set up one objective marker anywhere on the battlefield that is not within their own deployment zone. This objective marker represents a Holy Relic, but does not count as an objective marker for any rules purposes other than for this Agenda. Adeptus Ministorum Character units in your army can attempt the following action:

Recover Relic (Action): At the end of your Movement phase, one Adeptus Ministorum Character unit from your army that is within 3” of the Holy Relic objective marker can start to perform this action if no enemy units (excluding Aircraft units) are within 3” of that objective marker. The Action is completed at the end of your turn. If completed, remove the Holy Relic objective marker from the battlefield.

A unit gains 3 experience points if it completed this action, and you can additionally use the Relic Requisition (see the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book) to give that Character unit a Relic as if it had gained a rank, without spending a Requisition point (that unit must be able to take a Relic – if it cannot then make a note on your Order of Battle and the next time you use the Relic Requisition that Requisition costs 0RP).
REQUISITIONS

If your Crusade force includes any Adepta Sororitas units, you can spend Requisition points (RPs) on any of the following Requisitions in addition to those presented in the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book.

SAINTY BENEDICATIONS 1RP

The Emperor's chosen warriors sometimes enact miraculous feats on the battlefield.

Purchase this Requisition when a Canoneess or Palatine model from your Crusade force gains the Battle-hardened, Heroic or Legendary rank. That model is upgraded to have a Blessing of the Faithful (pg 70-71); increase its Power Rating accordingly and make a note on its Crusade card. You cannot purchase this Requisition if doing so would cause your total Power Level to exceed your Crusade force's Supply Limit.

DEVOT WARRIOR 1RP

Even as one saintly figure is martyred at the hands of the enemy, another devout young hopeful will rise to stand in her stead.

Purchase this Requisition if your Crusade force does not contain a Saint Potentia model. Select an Adepta Sororitas Character model (excluding named characters and Living Saint models) from your army. That model becomes a prospective new Living Saint and gains the Saint Potentia keyword, as described on page 80.

HOLY PILGRIMAGE 1-3RP

At times, the path of a potential saint will see them undergo a holy pilgrimage, so that they might better understand the Emperor's domains and pursue their appointed trial.

Purchase this Requisition when a Saint Potentia unit from your army gains a rank. That model gains 1 Saint point for each Requisition point you spent on this Requisition.

THE PENITENT PATH 1RP

For the devout, any failing is a shame that cannot be borne, and must be redeemed through deeds of great bravery and butchery.

Purchase this Requisition either when a Battle Sisters Squad, Dominion Squad or Retributor Squad unit from your Crusade force suffers a Devastating Blow, or when one of these units gains the Disgraced, Mark of Shame or Battle-weary Battle Scars (see the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book). Replace that unit with a Sisters Repentia unit drawn from the same Order Militant (the new unit cannot contain more models than the unit it replaced). You cannot purchase this Requisition if doing so would cause your total Power Level to exceed your Crusade force's Supply Limit.

The new unit has the same number of experience points and the same Battle Honours and Battle Scars as the unit it replaced. If a Battle Honour cannot be applied (e.g. a Weapon Enhancement for a weapon that a Sisters Repentia model cannot be equipped with), select a new Battle Honour to replace it. Add 1 to that unit's Crusade points and each time that unit uses the Desperate For Redemption Stratagem (pg 68), that Stratagem costs 0CP.

GLORIOUS REDEMPTION 1RP

Those that have trod the path to redemption are reverent figures within the Orders Militant, their dedication and unwavering faith a shining beacon to all.

Purchase this Requisition at any time. Select a Sisters Repentia unit from your Crusade force that has 3 or more Redemption points (see the Atonement in Battle Agenda, page 84). Replace that unit with one of the following units: Celestian Squad, Celestian Sacrenants, Seraphim Squad, Zephyrin Squad. The new unit must be drawn from the same Order Militant as the unit it replaced (the new unit cannot contain more models than the unit it replaced). You cannot purchase this Requisition if doing so would cause your total Power Level to exceed your Crusade force's Supply Limit.

The new unit has the same number of experience points and the same Battle Honours and Battle Scars as the unit it replaced. If a Battle Honour cannot be applied (e.g. a Weapon Enhancement for a weapon that a model in the new unit cannot be equipped with), select a new Battle Honour to replace it. Add 1 to that unit's Crusade points and each time that unit uses the Exceptional Proficiency, Embodied Prophecy (pg 66) or Deadly Descent (pg 68) Stratagens, that Stratagem costs 0CP.
CRUSADE RELICS
When an Adeptus Ministerium Character gains a Crusade Relic, you can instead select one of the Relics listed below. All the usual rules for selecting Crusade Relics, as described in the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book, apply.

ARTIFICE RELICS
An Adeptus Ministerium Character model can be given one of the following Artifice Relics instead of one of the ones presented in the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book.

Phial of Dolan
Anyone who drinks the contents of one of these three-blessed crystal bottles is filled with the strength and determination of Dolan, the Great Confessor.

Add 1 to the bearer’s Strength, Attacks and Leadership characteristics.

Praesidium Rosarius
This ancient rosarius was crafted during the Age of Apostasy, and it has been blessed by the Prioreses of both the Covent Sanctorum and the Convent Prioris.

- The bearer has a 4+ invulnerability save.
- Each time the bearer would lose a wound as the result of a mortal wound, roll one D6: on a 4+, that wound is not lost.

Tears of the Emperor
There are many stories of statues of the Emperor that weep blood-like tears. These are collected in ornate flasks, for they are potent weapons against the forces of Chaos.

This Relic has the following profile:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>WEAPON</th>
<th>RANGE</th>
<th>TYPE</th>
<th>S</th>
<th>AP</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Tears of the Emperor</td>
<td>6”</td>
<td>Grenade</td>
<td>*</td>
<td>*</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Abilities: Each time an attack is made with this weapon, if the target is hit, it suffers 1 mortal wound and the attack sequence ends (if the target has the Chaos keyword, it instead suffers D3 mortal wounds and the attack sequence ends).

ANTIQUITY RELICS
An Adeptus Ministerium Character model of Heroic rank or higher can be given one of the following Antiquity Relics instead of one of the ones presented in the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book. Add 1 to a unit’s total Crusade points for each Antiquity Relic it has – this is in addition to the +1 from gaining a Battle Honour, for a total of +2.

Mace of Valaam
The Mace of Valaam was wielded in many crusades of faith by Arch-confessor Kirrinov. The weapon glows with a shimmering field of force, and can smash apart armour and bone.

Dogmata model only: This Relic replaces a mace of the rightous and has the following profile:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>WEAPON</th>
<th>RANGE</th>
<th>TYPE</th>
<th>S</th>
<th>AP</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Mace of Valaam</td>
<td>Melee</td>
<td>Melee</td>
<td>x2</td>
<td>-3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Abilities: Each time an attack is made with this weapon, subtract 1 from that attack’s hit roll.

Icon of Sanctity
Poets who see this icon are filled with awe and dread, while the faithful who gaze upon it fight for the honour of the Emperor.

The bearer has the following abilities:

- ‘Holy Dread (Aura)’: While a friendly Adeptus Ministerium Character or Adeptus Ministerium Core unit is within 3’ of the bearer, subtract 2 from charge rolls made for any unit that declares a charge against that friendly unit.
- ‘Holy Fervour (Aura)’: While a friendly Adeptus Ministerium Character or Adeptus Ministerium Core unit is within 3’ of the bearer, each time a model in that friendly unit makes a pile in or consolidation move, it can move up to an additional 3’!

‘Burn, heretic, and as you burn know that I do not cleanse you out of any desire to save your soul, or shrive you of your mortal sins. I put you to the torch because I hate you, because all that you are and all you have done revolts me, and because those who stray from the light of the Emperor deserve only annihilation.’

- Sister Retributor Roxanna Dasyrov, Order of the Bloody Rose LEGENDARY RELICS
An ADEPTUS MINISTORUM CHARACTER model of Legendary rank can be given one of the following Legendary Relics instead of one of the ones presented in the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book. In addition, in order to give a model a Legendary Relic, you must also pay 1 Requisition point (if you do not have enough Requisition points, you cannot give that model a Legendary Relic). Add an additional 2 to a unit’s total Crusade points for each Legendary Relic it has – this is in addition to the +1 from gaining a Battle Honour, for a total of +3.

Rod of Grace
Once carried by Helena the Virtuous, Prioress of the Convent Sanctorum, the Rod of Grace was almost lost following the desecration of her tomb by Orks, but the Sisters of the Argent Shroud prevented its destruction. Helena’s wisdom permeates the rod, and one who holds it speaks with her voice to stir the faithful to battle.

ADEPTA SORORITAS model only.

- If a DIALOGUS or DOGMATA model has this Relic, they know all hymns from the Hymns of Battle (pg 73).
- If another model has this Relic, that model gains the PRIEST keyword and knows War Hymn and one other hymn from the Hymns of Battle. In your Command phase, if this model is on the battlefield, it can intone one hymn it knows that has not already been intoned by a friendly model this turn. Roll one D6: on a 3+, the intoned hymn is inspiring and takes effect until the start of your next Command phase.

Blade of Admonition
This blessed power sword is the very blade carried into battle by Alicia Dominica – the founding saint of the Adepta Sororitas – and was famously used to cut the head from the traitor Goge Vandire and bring an end to the Reign of Blood. Saint Dominica wielded this blade in the decades following the reformation of the Ecclesiarchy, and a thousand more false prophets and heretics were slain upon its razor edge before Alicia’s eventual martyrdom.

ADEPTA SORORITAS model equipped with a blessed blade or power sword only. This Relic replaces a blessed blade or power sword and has the following profile:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>WEAPON</th>
<th>RANGE</th>
<th>TYPE</th>
<th>S</th>
<th>AP</th>
<th>D</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Blade of Admonition</td>
<td>Melee</td>

<td>+3</td>
<td>-3</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Abilities: Each time an attack is made with this weapon against a CHARACTER unit, that attack automatically hits the target.

As the imagifer loudly intones the stirring deeds of Saint Linae, a shield wall of Celestian Sacresants protect their Canoness from the razor-sharp clutches of Genestealers. The Canoness’ reinforcements make their presence known, blazing away with incendiary shells and pinpoint pistol shots.
CRUSADE ARMY

This glorious force of Adepta Sororitas from the Order of the Bloody Rose belongs to Dan Hyams, one of the talented Army Painters in the Warhammer 40,000 studio.

As well as being an expert painter and terrain maker, Dan brings to his models a wealth of experience in developing varying colour schemes. Although he wanted to stick to the bright and visceral red of the Bloody Rose's Sisters, he changed the colours of the robes to give them a unique look. In Dan's Crusade force, the standard Battle Sisters have robes which are white on the exterior and black on the interior. He also reversed the colours on his Celestians' robes and painted his commanding Canoness, Ceskina, in the same scheme. This helps to draw a visual connection between the Celestians and the Canoness, identifying the elite and heroic warriors of the force at a glance. Dan also imagines that the change in colour scheme could be a way to identify Sisters who are fighting on a particular crusade, instead of a system of campaign icons which might be more appropriate to other Imperial forces.

Although Dan feels he has yet to fully test the mettle of his ruthless Sisters of Battle, when he does take them to war on the tabletop it is often with a narrative focus in mind. His sense of telling a story on the tabletop is what informed his decision to include the Rhino transports and Castigator, alongside his infantry. With so many foot troops, it felt like the next, natural progression to add swift tanks to the force that could redeploy his warriors right into the thick of the fighting – where the Bloody Rose excel! Seeing different kinds of vehicle amongst a force is one of his favourite aspects in building an army. He used the undecorated top hatch for one Rhino as a canvas on which to paint a large, freehand version of the Order's symbol. Although the Bloody Rose's icon is commonly depicted in red, he painted it in white and also used white transfers of the Order of the Sacred Rose. This ensured that they showed up very vividly on the bloody red of his vehicles' armour panels.

In addition to his aggressive Canoness wielding her brazier of holy fire (echoing the red of her armour among her black robes) and an Imagineth, Dan has converted his own Dialogus, Sister Orelle. He used the standing figure of Junith Eruita, along with a spare Canoness head and the steps from Junith's kit in a very simple swap that has resulted in a unique figure. Dan recommends alternating between painting a squad of warriors and painting something more individual like a character. He also painted the Rhinos at the same time as the squad he intends them to carry. This made each block like a mini project, which he finds is a great way to keep motivated when painting a whole army, and allows you to see larger chunks of it develop at the same time.
DATASHEETS

This section contains the datasheets that you will need to fight battles with your Adepta Sororitas miniatures, as well as an explanation of the selectable keywords found on those datasheets and details of army-specific abilities. You can find out how to use datasheets in the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book.

THE <ORDER> KEYWORD

Many datasheets in this section have the <ORDER> keyword. This is a keyword that you can select for yourself, as described in the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book, with the guidance detailed below.

All Adepta Sororitas units (excluding Sanctified units) are drawn from one of the Orders Militant. When you include a unit with the <ORDER> keyword in your army, you must nominate which Order it is from and then replace the <ORDER> keyword in every instance on its datasheet with the name of your chosen Order. This could be one of the Orders Militant detailed in a Warhammer 40,000 publication, or one of your own design.

Example: If you include a Canoneis in your army and you decide she is from the Order of the Bloody Rose, her keyword becomes Order of the Bloody Rose and her Lead the Righteous ability reads ‘While a friendly Order of the Bloody Rose Core unit is within 6" of this model, each time a model in that unit makes an attack, re-roll a hit roll of 1.’

Some datasheets already specify which Order a unit is from (e.g. Junith Eruta has the Order of Our Martyred Lady keyword, and so is from the Order of Our Martyred Lady).

If your army is Battle-forged, you cannot include units from two different Orders Militant in the same Detachment. You can find out more about Battle-forged armies in the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book.

WARGEAR & WEAPON LISTS

The weapon profiles found on a unit’s datasheet describe the primary weapons that models in that unit can be equipped with. Some weapons are only referenced on a datasheet; profiles for these, and all other weapons, can be found on pages 121-123. In addition, some datasheets reference one or more weapon lists (e.g. Melee Weapons list); these can be found on page 121.

ABILITIES

A unit’s datasheet will list all the abilities it has. Certain abilities that are common to many units are only referenced on the datasheets rather than described in full. These are described opposite.

SHIELD OF FAITH

Conviction is the greatest armour.

- Models in this unit have a 6+ invulnerable save.
- In your opponent’s Psychic phase, this unit can attempt to deny one psychic power as if it were a Psyker. Each time a Deny the Witch test is taken for this unit, roll one D6 instead of 2D6: if the result of that test was an unmodified result of 6, or if it was greater than the result of the Psychic test, that Deny the Witch test is passed.

ZEALOT

With righteous fervour, the Emperor’s faithful deliver his furious judgement.

Each time a model in this unit makes a melee attack, if this unit made a charge move, was charged or performed a Heroic Intervention this turn, you can re-roll that attack’s hit roll.
ACTS OF FAITH

Through the prayers of the faithful is the Emperor's will made manifest.

Once per phase, one unit from your army with this ability can perform one Act of Faith. To do so, you will use Miracle dice.

Gaining Miracle Dice

If every unit from your army has the Adepta Sororitas keyword (excluding models with the Cult Imperialis, Agent of the Imperium, or Unaligned keywords), then:

- At the start of each battle round, you gain 1 Miracle dice.
- At the end of a phase in which any of the following conditions were met, you gain 1 Miracle dice:

Vengeance

Any Adepta Sororitas units from your army destroy one or more enemy units.

Sacrifice

Any Adepta Sororitas Character units from your army are destroyed.

Note that Miracle dice can also be gained via other rules. No matter the source, you can only gain Miracle dice from such a rule if every unit from your army has the Adepta Sororitas keyword (excluding models with the Cult Imperialis, Agent of the Imperium, or Unaligned keywords).

Each time you gain a Miracle dice, roll one D6. The number you roll is the value of that Miracle dice. This value cannot be changed or re-rolled, unless a rule specifically states otherwise. Keep your Miracle dice to one side – this is your Miracle dice pool.

Designer's Note: We recommend using differently coloured or marked dice for your Miracle dice pool, and placing them to one side of the battlefield, or some place else where you will not accidentally pick them up mid-game. It is perfectly fine, if you wish, to write down the values of the Miracle dice in your pool, or to keep track of them in any other way, just so long as both players can see them.

Performing an Act of Faith

Before making a dice roll for a model or a unit from your army with the Acts of Faith ability, if you have one or more dice in your Miracle dice pool, that unit can perform an Act of Faith. To do so, select one or more of the dice from your Miracle dice pool, instead of making any or all of those dice rolls. For each individual dice that is being rolled as part of the dice roll, you can select 1 Miracle dice from your Miracle dice pool to be substituted in place of that dice. The dice that it is being substituted for is not rolled, and instead the value of the selected Miracle dice is used as if it had been rolled. Each Miracle dice can only be selected for substitution once. Once all Miracle dice substitutions have been made, remove the chosen Miracle dice from your Miracle dice pool, and roll any remaining, unsubstituted dice that are a part of the dice roll. You can use Miracle dice when a unit performs an Act of Faith for any of the following types of dice roll:

- Advance roll
- Charge roll
- Hit roll
- Wound roll
- Saving throw
- Damage roll
- Morale test

A Miracle dice is not a modifier or an inherently modified dice (so, for example, if you use a Miracle dice with a value of 1 for a Morale test, that is considered to be an unmodified roll of 1). A Miracle dice that has been used for a substitution can never be re-rolled. This means that if re-rolls occur, the number and values of any Miracle dice that have already been substituted in the dice roll remain the same for the re-roll (for example, if a single Miracle dice was used to substitute one of the values of a charge roll, and the charge roll was re-rolled, only the unsubstituted dice can be re-rolled).

Example 1: Instead of rolling one D6 to see what value is added to a unit's Move characteristic when that unit Advances, you could use a dice from your Miracle dice pool. If the value of that dice was 5, you would add 5" to the Move characteristic of every model in that unit for that Movement phase.

Example 2: Instead of rolling 2D6 to see what a unit's charge distance is when making a charge roll, you could use either one or two dice from your Miracle dice pool. If you chose 2 Miracle dice, and the values of those dice were a 6 and a 3, the unit's charge distance would be 9".
This unit gains a bonus depending on which sacred rites are active for your army. After players have determined their mission, you must select one sacred rite from the following table to be active for your army. Alternatively, you can randomly determine two sacred rites from the table to be active for your army by rolling two D6 and looking up the results (if a double is rolled, roll both dice again until two different results are rolled). In either case, these sacred rites are active for your army until the end of the battle. Some rules can make additional sacred rites become active for a unit during the battle. Duplicated active sacred rites on that unit have no additional effect.

1. Hand of the Emperor
   The Sororitas are imbued with a boundless font of vigour.
   While this sacred rite is active, add 1 to Advance rolls and charge rolls made for this unit.

2. Spirit of the Martyr
   Even with their dying act, the Sororitas mete out the Emperor’s judgement.
   While this sacred rite is active, each time a model in this unit makes a ranged attack, on an unmodified wound roll of 6, the Armour Penetration characteristic of that attack is improved by 1.

3. Aegis of the Emperor
   The Sororitas do not suffer the vile trickery of witches.
   While this sacred rite is active, each time this unit uses its Shield of Faith ability (pg 90) to take a Deny the Witch test, if the result of that test was an unmodified result of 5+, or if it was greater than the result of the Psychic test, that Deny the Witch test is passed.

4. Divine Guidance
   Seeing the weak points in their enemies’ armour, the Sisters of Battle strike out to shatter it with contemptuous ease.
   While this sacred rite is active, each time a model in this unit makes a ranged attack, on an unmodified wound roll of 6, the Armour Penetration characteristic of that attack is improved by 1.

5. The Passion
   The Sororitas are filled with a burning passion to inflict suffering upon the faithless.
   While this sacred rite is active, each time a model in this unit makes a melee attack, an unmodified hit roll of 6 scores 1 additional hit.

6. Light of the Emperor
   The Emperor’s radiance shines upon his warriors, emboldening them amidst the thick of battle.
   While this sacred rite is active, you can ignore any or all modifiers to this unit’s Leadership characteristic, and each time a Combat Attrition test is taken for this unit, you can ignore any or all modifiers.

ABILITIES

- Acts of Faith, Sacred Rites, Shield of Faith ([pp 90-93])
- Lifewards: While this unit contains any Geminae Superia models, each time an attack successfully wounds this unit, that attack must be allocated to one of those models. The destruction of Geminae Superia models is ignored for the purposes of Morale tests. If Celestine is ever destroyed, any remaining Geminae Superia models in this unit are also destroyed.
- Divine Guardians: Geminae Superia models have a 4+ invulnerable save.
- The Armour of Saint Katherine: Celestine has a 4+ invulnerable save. Each time an attack is allocated to Celestine, subtract 1 from the Damage characteristic of that attack.
- Miraculous Intervention: The first time Celestine is destroyed, roll one D6 at the end of the phase instead of using any rules that are triggered when a model is destroyed (e.g. Sacrifice, page 91). On a 1, this unit counts as having been destroyed for the purposes of Sacrifice; on a 2+, set Celestine back up on the battlefield as close as possible to where she was destroyed and not within Engagement Range of any enemy units, with all her wound remaining.
- Saintly Blessings (Aura): While a friendly Imperium Infantry unit is within 6" of Celestine in models in that unit have a 6+ invulnerable save.

- Sky Strike: During deployment, you can set up this unit in the skies instead of setting it up on the battlefield. If you do so, then in the Reinforcements step of one of your Movement phases, you can set up this unit anywhere on the battlefield that is more than 9" away from any enemy models.
- Angelical Saviour: This unit is eligible to perform a Heroic Intervention if it is within 6" horizontally and 5" vertically of any enemy unit, instead of 3" horizontally and 5" vertically. Each time this unit makes a Heroic Intervention move, its models can move up to 6" instead of 3". All other rules for Heroic Interventions still apply.
- Healing Tears: While a model in this unit has any lost wounds, or while this unit is below its Starting Strength, Celestine can attempt the following action:

  Healing Tears (Action): This unit can start this action at the end of your Command phase. The action is completed at the end of your Shooting phase provided Celestine is still on the battlefield. Once completed:
  - If a model in this unit has any lost wounds, all of that model's lost wounds are restored.
  - If this unit is below its Starting Strength, 1 Geminae Superia model is returned to the unit with their full wounds remaining.

Designers Note: A Geminae Superia counts as a named character for all rules purposes.

The Fiery Heart: The bearer has the following ability: The Fiery Heart [Aura]: While a friendly Adepta Sororitas CORE unit is within 6" of this model, Morale tests taken for that unit are automatically passed.

Censer of the Sacred Rose: At the start of each battle round, you gain 1 Miracle dice (pg 91).

Simulacrum of the Ebon Chalice: The bearer has the following ability: Simulacrum of the Ebon Chalice [Aura]: While an enemy unit is within 6" of this model, at the start of your Shooting phase, roll one D6 for that unit, adding 1 to the result if that enemy unit is a Psyker, and adding 1 to the result if that enemy unit has the Chaos keyword [these additions are cumulative]; on a 5+, that enemy unit suffers D3 mortal wounds.

Petals of the Bloody Rose: The bearer has the following ability: Petals of the Bloody Rose [Aura]: While a friendly Adepta Sororitas CORE unit is within 6" of this model, each time a model in that unit makes a melee attack, add 1 to that attack’s hit roll.

Icon of the Valorous Heart: All 6 sacred rites (pg 93) are active for the bearer.

Simulacrum of the Argent Shroud: Once per battle round, before you perform an Act of Faith (pg 91) for a friendly Adepta Sororitas CORE or friendly Adepta Sororitas Character unit within 6" of this model, you can change the value of 1 Miracle dice to a 6 before using that dice for that Act of Faith.

Zealot (pg 90)

Wanderers: During deployment, you can set up this unit in the webway instead of setting it up on the battlefield. If you do so, then in the Reinforcements step of one of your Movement phases you can set up this unit anywhere on the battlefield that is more than 9" away from any enemy models.

Divine Protection: Models in this unit have a 4+ invulnerable save. Each time an attack is made against this unit, subtract 1 from that attack's hit roll and subtract 1 from that attack's wound roll.

Mysterious Saviour: While this unit contains Kyganil, each time an attack successfully wounds this unit, that attack must be allocated to Kyganil. Each time Kyganil would lose a wound, roll one D6: on a 5+ that wound is not lost. The destruction of Kyganil is ignored for the purposes of Morale tests. If Ephrael Stern is ever destroyed, Kyganil is also destroyed.

Knight of Shadows: While this unit contains Kyganil, at the start of the Fight phase, if this unit is within Engagement Range of any enemy units, it can fight first that phase.

Daemonifuge (Aura): While a Chaos unit is within 6" of this model, subtract 1 from the Leadership characteristic of models in that unit, and each time that unit fails a Morale test, one additional model automatically flees from that unit.

Bolts of Holy Judgement: At the start of your Shooting phase, roll 2D6, adding 2 to the result if there are any Chaos units within 18" of Ephrael Stern. On a 5+, the nearest enemy unit that is within 18" of and visible to Ephrael Stern suffers D3 mortal wounds. If the result is 10 or more, that unit instead suffers D6 mortal wounds.

Unexpected Allies: This unit can only be included in an Adepta Soroitas Detachment (pg 57) or in an Auxilary Support Detachment. Ephrael Stern cannot be selected as your Warlord if she is included in an Auxilary Support Detachment.

We recommend placing an Incensor Cherub model next to the unit as a reminder, removing it once this ability has been used (an Incensor Cherub does not count as a model for any rules purposes).

- Simulacrum imperialis: Once per phase, the bearer’s unit can perform one Act of Faith (pg 91) even if another unit from your army has already performed an Act of Faith during this phase.

WARGEAR OPTIONS

It is the most sacred role of the Imagifier to extol the virtues of fallen Sisters and preach tales of their saintly deeds. Imagifiers bear aloft great stanchions in the image of a martyr inscribed with holy texts, and go wherever the fighting is thickest to recite litanies and inspire their fellow Sisters.

The Dialogus drowns out the war cries of the enemy with shouts of exalting praise to the God-Emperor. She broadcasts her liturgies to her Sisters through their vox-beads and sensor arrays, while her laud hailer amplifies the inspirational rhetoric of prayers and hymns all across the battlefield.

OTHER WARGEAR

- Incensor cherub
  - Once per battle, at the start of any phase, you can roll two D6 and discard one of them. The value of the remaining dice is the value of this unit's Cherub dice. Until the end of the phase, this unit can perform one Act of Faith [pg 91] using that Cherub dice as if it were a Miracle dice. If a unit has a Cherub dice at the end of the phase, it is discarded. We recommend placing an Incensor Cherub model next to the unit as a reminder, removing it once this ability has been used (an Incensor Cherub does not count as a model for any rules purposes).

- Simulacrum imperialis
  - Once per phase, the bearer's unit can perform one Act of Faith [pg 91] even if another unit from your army has already performed an Act of Faith during this phase.

WARGEAR OPTIONS

Death Cult Assassins are obsessed with spilling the blood of the unclean. They leap fearlessly into the enemy's ranks, twirling and spinning. Their every slice and stab has a ritualistic element, and to them the manner of each kill has a special significance when they offer the victim's soul to the Emperor.

Once per battle, at the start of any phase, you can roll two DE and discard one of them. The value of the remaining dice is the value of this unit’s Cherub dice. Until the end of the phase, this unit can perform one Act of Faith [pg 91] using that Cherub dice as if it were a Miracle dice. If a unit has a Cherub dice at the end of the phase, it is discarded.

We recommend placing an Incensor Cherub model next to the unit as a reminder, removing it once this ability has been used (an Incensor Cherub does not count as a model for any rules purposes).

Explodes: When this transport is destroyed, roll one D6 before any embarked models disembark and before removing it from play. On a 6 it explodes, and each unit within 6" suffers D3 mortal wounds.

TRANSPORT

This model has a transport capacity of 10 INFANTRY, CULT IMPERIALIS INFANTRY or SANCTIFIED INFANTRY models. It cannot transport JUMP PACK models.

FACTION KEYWORDS: IMPERIUM, ADEPTUS MINISTORUM, ADEPTA SORORITAS, <ORDER>

KEYWORDS: VEHICLE, TRANSPORT, HALLOWED, SMOKESCREEN, SORORITAS RHINO

Rhinos are the mainstay transport of the Adepta Sororitas, and before battle are blessed by Engineers and Ministorum Priests. They are durable, robust and easy to operate. Thanks to their indomitable machine spirits they rarely break down, and speed the warriors inside them across the battlefield wherever they are needed.

KEYWORDS: VEHICLE, TRANSPORT, HALLOWED, SMOKESCREEN, IMMOLATOR

This Rhino variant has an aggressive machine spirit, and is equipped with an elaborate turret fitted with a powerful weapons system. This makes it ideal for rapid advances to clear enemy strongpoints, providing fire support for the troops it transports to battle and acting as an outlander escort for armoured columns.
A Battle Sanctum is an indication of the God-Emperor's glory and power, inspiring the religious fervor of the Ministorum. Consecrated with a blessed statue of a martyred saint, any warrior of the Imperium who fights within and around it knows the eye of the Emperor is upon them.

ABILITIES

Terrain Feature: After this model is set up, it is treated as an Area terrain feature with the following terrain traits, as described in the Warhammer 40,000 Core rules:
- Breachable
- Defensible
- Light Cover
- Obscuring
- Scalable
- Inspiring (Adeptus Ministorum)

Consecrated Ground (Aura): While a Chaos unit is within 6" of this terrain feature, subtract 1 from the Leadership characteristic of models in that unit.

Prayers to the Saint: While there are any Battle Sanctum terrain features on the battlefield, Cult Imperialis Priest and Adepta Sororitas units in your army can attempt the following action:

"Pray to the Saint (Action): At the end of your Movement phase, one Cult Imperialis Priest or Adepta Sororitas Infantry unit from your army that is wholly within one friendly Battle Sanctum terrain feature can start to perform this action. The action is completed at the end of your turn. Once completed, you gain 1 Miracle dice [pg 91]."

WEAPON DEFINITIONS

Some rules refer to ‘bolt weapons’, ‘flame weapons’ or ‘melta weapons’. The definitions of these weapons for the purposes of such rules can be found below:

Bolt Weapons
A bolt weapon is any weapon whose profile includes the word ‘bolt’ (boltgun, heavy bolter, storm bolter etc.), and any Relic that replaces a bolt weapon (e.g. Wrath of the Emperor, page 74). Rules that apply to bolt weapons only apply to the boltgun profile of condemnor boltguns, combi-weapons and the boltgun profile of Relics that replace such weapons. If a bolt weapon has a shooting and melee profile, rules that apply to bolt weapons only apply to the shooting profile of that weapon. Note that Fidelis is also a bolt weapon.

Flame Weapons
A flame weapon is any weapon whose profile includes the word ‘flame’ (immolation flamers, Ministorum flamer, Ministorum heavy flamer etc.), any zealot’s vindictor, any brazier of holy fire and any Relic that replaces a flame weapon. Rules that apply to flame weapons only apply to the flame profile of Ministorum combi-flamers, and the flame profile of Relics that replace Ministorum combi-flamers. If a flame weapon has a shooting and melee profile, rules that apply to flame weapons only apply to the shooting profile of that weapon. Note that the Ardent Blade is also a flame weapon.

Melta Weapons
A meltagun is any weapon whose profile includes the word ‘melta’ (meltagun, multi-melta, twin multi-melta etc.), any inferno pistol and any Relic that replaces a meltagun weapon. Rules that apply to meltagun weapons only apply to the meltagun profile of combi-meltas, and the meltagun profile of Relics that replace combi-meltas.

POINTS VALUES

You can use this section to determine the points (pts) value of each unit in your army. Each entry lists the unit's size (i.e. how many models the unit can contain) and how many points the unit costs. If an entry has a unit cost of ‘x’ pts/model, then the unit costs x points for every model in that unit. You must then add points for each weapon, or other item of wargear, that is included in that unit if it is listed in that unit's entry (weapons and other wargear not listed in a unit's entry cost no additional points to include in that unit).

GLOSSARY

Below you will find a glossary that contains a number of terms used in this Codex.

Active sacred rite (pg 93): The sacred rites that are currently active for your army, or that are active for specified units from your army.

Adepta Sororitas Detachment (pg 57): A Detachment in a Battle-forged army where every model has the Adepta Sororitas keyword [excluding models with the Cult Imperialis, Agent of the Imperium or Unaligned keywords].

Adepta Sororitas secondary objectives (pg 77): Additional secondary objectives that can be used in certain matched play mission packs if every Detachment in your army is an Adepta Sororitas Detachment.

Any number of models can each have their Weapon A replaced with Weapon B: When this wargear option is selected for a unit, any number of models in that unit that are equipped with Weapon A can each have their weapon replaced with Weapon B. It is possible for only some of the models in that unit to have their weapon replaced and for others not to.

Blessings of the Faithful (pg 70-71): An upgrade that can be applied to Canoness and Palatine models from your army. Each upgrade consists of two associated abilities, one of which is a Miraculous ability. There are six upgrades: Word of the Emperor; Rapturous Blows; Blinding Radiance; The Emperor’s Grace; Righteous Judgement; Divine Deliverance.

Bolt weapon (pg 121): A ranged weapon whose profile includes the word ‘bolt’, or a Relic that replaces a bolt weapon. Fielde, and the boltgun profiles of a condemned boltgun or a combi-weapon, are also bolt weapons.

Cherub dice: A Cherub dice is generated by a model equipped with an incensor cherub and can be used to perform an Act of Faith (pg 91) with as if it were a Miracle dice. Using a Cherub dice does not count as having used a Miracle dice for the purposes of any rules that are triggered by using a Miracle dice to perform an Act of Faith.

Decree Passive (pg 57): Detachment ability for Adepta Sororitas Detachments.

Discard (Miracle dice): If a rule states that you must discard one or more Miracle dice, simply remove that many Miracle dice of your choosing from your Miracle dice pool. Discarding a Miracle dice does not count as having used a Miracle dice for the purposes of any rules that are triggered by using a Miracle dice to perform an Act of Faith.

Flame weapon (pg 121): A ranged weapon whose profile includes the word ‘flame’, or a Relic that replaces a flame weapon. A brazier of holy fire, a zealot’s vindictor, the Ardent Ralde and the flamers profile of a Ministorum combi-flamer are also flame weapons.

Hymn: A Hymn of Battle. Adeptus Ministorum Priests can attempt to intone hymns that they know from the Hymns of Battle (pg 23).

Martyr points (pg 80): A resource generated by Saint Potentia and Living Saint models [excluding named characters] in your Crusade force as they suffer Out of Action tests.

Melta weapon (pg 121): A ranged weapon whose profile includes the word ‘melta’, or a Relic that replaces a melta weapon. An inferno pistol and the meltagun profile of a combi-melta are also melta weapons.

Miraculous Ability (pg 70-71): Miraculous abilities are always denoted as such, and they must be activated in your Command phase by discarding a Miracle dice. While active, they affect models or units that are within Miracle range of the model that has that ability. Miraculous abilities are not affected by any rule that affects Aura abilities, and vice versa.

Miracle dice: A dice with a value between 1-6 that can be gained during the battle, and which is primarily used to perform Acts of Faith (pg 91) in order to substitute for another dice roll.

Miracle dice pool: All the Miracle dice you have gained form your Miracle dice pool. Each time a Miracle dice is used to perform an Act of Faith (pg 91), and each time a Miracle dice is discarded, remove that dice from your Miracle dice pool.

Miracle Range (pg 70): This is the range that a unit’s Miraculous ability (see Blessings of the Faithful) has. Units within this range will be affected by that Miraculous ability. The Miracle range of a Miraculous ability is determined by the value of the Miracle dice used to activate it.

Order conviction (pg 57-65): Detachment ability for Adepta Sororitas Detachments. An ability gained by <Order> models based on the Order Militant they are drawn from, if all models in that Detachment are drawn from the same Order Militant.

Order Minoris (pg 64-65): Any Order Militant that is not one of the following is an Order Minoris: Order of Our Martyred Lady; Order of the Valorous Heart; Order of the Bloody Rose; Order of the Argent Shroud; Order of the Ebon Chalice; Order of the Sacred Rose.

Order Minoris conviction (pg 64-65): Detachment ability for Orders Militant Detachments whose <Order> units are all drawn from the same Order Minoris. This typically consists of two different Order Minoris convictions.

Orders Militant Detachment (pg 57): An Adepta Sororitas Detachment in which every Adepta Sororitas unit that is drawn from an Order Militant is drawn from the same Order Militant.

Orders Militant Relic (pg 58-63): A Relic of the Ecclesiarchy associated with one of the Orders Militant. These are only available to Character models that are part of an Orders Militant Detachment (and only if they, and your Warlord, are drawn from the associated Order Militant, or if your Warlord has the Sanctified keyword).

Orders Militant Warlord Trait (pg 58-63): A Warlord Trait associated with one of the Orders Militant. These are only available to Warlords that are part of an Orders Militant Detachment (and only if they are drawn from the associated Order Militant).

Perform (an Act of Faith): A unit performs an Act of Faith (pg 91) when it uses one or more Miracle dice, and/or a Cherub dice to substitute for the following types of dice roll: Advance roll; charge roll; hit roll; wound roll; saving throw; damage roll; Morale test.

Relic of the Ecclesiarchy (pg 74-75): A type of Relic that can be given to Adeptus Ministorum Character models.
Sacred Rite (pg 93): There are six sacred rites: Hand of the Emperor; Spirit of the Martyr; Aegis of the Emperor; Divine Guidance; The Passion; Light of the Emperor. If the same sacred rite is active more than once for a unit, it has no additional effect.

Saint points (pg 80): A resource generated by SAINT POTENTIA models in a Crusade force as they undertake trials. Whilst it is undertaking a trial, all Saint points that model accrues go towards its completion. Once a model has gained 10 Saint points, the trial they are undertaking is complete. A model can abandon the trial they are currently undertaking at the end of any battle. If they do so, any Saint points they have accrued towards that trial are lost and their Saint points are reset to 0.

Saintly reward (pg 80-83): An ability associated with one of the Trials of a Living Saint that a SAINT POTENTIA or LIVING SAINT model will have gained for completing that trial. A model cannot have more than 5 Saintly rewards.

Stratagem label: A Stratagem's labels are written beneath its title and can include: Adepta Sororitas; Battle Tactic; Epic Deed, Strategic Ploy; Requisition, Wargear. A Stratagem can have one label; for example, a Stratagem with 'Adepta Sororitas – Wargear Stratagem' has both the Adepta Sororitas and Wargear labels.

Trial: One of the Trials of a Living Saint that SAINT POTENTIA models can undertake. The five trials are: Trial of Faith; Trial of Suffering; Trial of Puny; Trial of Righteousness; Trial of Valour. A model can only undertake one trial at a time.

‘Pain is the Sister who fights at my side. Pain recalls to me my wrongs that I might strive in pursuit of penance. Pain insists that I stand my ground, steady my aim and tight on, though my lifeblood falls like rain to the thirsting soil. Pain is an ally. Pain is a friend. Pain is truth.’

- Sister Erynea N’botu, Order of the Valorous Heart REFERENCE

ACTS OF FAITH (PG 91)

GAINING MIRACLE DICE
- You cannot gain Miracle dice unless every model in your army has the ADEPTA SORORITAS keyword (excluding models with the CULT IMPERIALIS, AGENT OF THE IMPERIUM or UNALIGNED keywords).
- Gain 1 Miracle dice at the start of each battle round.
- Gain 1 Miracle dice at the end of a phase in which any ADEPTA SORORITAS units from your army destroyed one or more enemy units [aka Vengeance].
- Gain 1 Miracle dice at the end of a phase in which any ADEPTA SORORITAS CHARACTER unit from your army was destroyed [aka Sacrifice].
- Each time you gain a Miracle dice, roll one D6 and add a dice with that value to your Miracle dice pool.

PERFORMING ACTS OF FAITH
- Once per phase, one unit from your army can perform one Act of Faith (pg 91) before making a dice roll for that unit [or a model in that unit].
- To perform an Act of Faith, select one or more Miracle dice from your Miracle dice pool to substitute the dice roll that is about to be made.
- Each Miracle dice can only be selected for substitution once, and only for the following types of dice rolls: Advance roll; charge roll; hit roll; wound roll; saving throw; damage roll; Morale test.
- A Miracle dice that has been used for a substitution cannot be re-rolled.

BLESSINGS OF THE FAITHFUL (PG 70-71)
- If your army is Battle-forged, you can upgrade a CANONESS or PALATINE model.
- Doing so increases the model’s Power Rating and points value.
- The upgraded character will gain two additional abilities, one of which is a Miraculous ability.
- A Miraculous ability can be activated once per battle in your Command phase by discarding 1 Miracle dice.
- A Miraculous ability lasts until the start of your next Command phase, and has a Miracle range according to the value of the Miracle dice discarded, as follows: 1=1; 2=2; 3=3; 6=6.

DECREE PASSIVE (PG 57)
- You can include a maximum of one CANONESS and one MISSIONARY unit in each Detachment.
- You cannot include more CULT IMPERIALIS CHARACTER units in a Detachment than there are ADEPTA SORORITAS CHARACTER units.

DETACHMENT ABILITIES (PG 57)
- ADEPTA SORORITAS Detachments gain the Decree Passive ability.
- ADEPTA SORORITAS units (excluding SACRIFICERS and OUTCASTS units) in ADEPTA SORORITAS Detachments gain the Order Conversions ability.
- Troops units in ADEPTA SORORITAS Detachments gain the Objective Secured ability (see the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book).

.ORDER> KEYWORD (PG 90)
- When you include a unit with the .ORDER> keyword, nominate which Order Militant it is drawn from.
- Replace every instance of the .ORDER> keyword on that unit’s datasheet with the name of your chosen Order Militant.
- A Detachment cannot include units from two different Orders Militant.

ORDER CONVICTIONS (PG 57)
- If every unit in a Detachment is drawn from the same Order Militant, all .ORDER> units in that Detachment gain an Order conviction.
- The Order conviction gained depends on what Order Militant they are from.
- If the Order Militant does not have an associated Order conviction, you must select two Order Minoris convictions from page 64-55 (In the Footsteps of Saints counts as two selections).

SAVED RITES (PG 93)
- After determining the mission, select one sacred rite to be active for your army, or randomly select 2 (re-roll duplicate results).
- Units gain abilities depending on what sacred rites are active. The sacred rites are:
  1. Hand of the Emperor: Add 1 to Advance rolls and charge rolls.
  2. Spirit of the Martyr: Each time a model in this unit is destroyed by a melee attack and does not explode, roll one D6: on a 6, after the attacking model’s unit has finished making its attacks, it suffers 1 mortal wound (to a maximum of 6).
- 3. Aegis of the Emperor: Each time this unit uses its Shield of Faith ability (pg 90) to take a Deny the Witch test, the test is passed on an unmodified roll of 5+.
- 4. Divine Guidance: Each time a model in this unit makes a ranged attack, on an unmodified wound roll of 6, the Armour Penetration characteristic of that attack is improved by 1.
- 5. The Passion: Each time a model in this unit makes a melee attack, an unmodified hit roll of 6 scores 1 additional hit.
- 6. Light of the Emperor: Ignore any or all modifiers to this unit’s Leadership characteristic, and Combat Attraction tests.

SHIELD OF FAITH (PG 90)
- Each model in this unit has a 6+ invulnerable save.
- In your opponent’s Psychic phase, this unit can attempt to deny one psychic power as if it were a PSYKER. Each time a Deny the Witch test is taken for this unit, roll one D6 instead of 2D6: if the result of that test was an unmodified result of 6, or if it was greater than the result of the Psychic test, that Deny the Witch test is passed.

TRIALS OF A LIVING SAINT (PG 80-83)
- One ADEPTA SORORITAS model in your Crusade force [excluding named characters] can be selected to gain the SAINT POTENTIA keyword.
- A SAINT POTENTIA can undergo one of the Trials of a Living Saint.
- Each time it accomplishes one of that trial’s saintly deeds, it gains 1 or more SAINT points.
- Once it has earned 10 SAINT points, it has completed that trial and gains its SAINTly reward. It increases its Crusade points by 1, and can start a new trial.
- Once a SAINT POTENTIA has earned 5 SAINTly rewards, replace their SAINT POTENTIA keyword with LIVING SAINT.
- Each time a LIVING SAINT model fails an Out of Action test, they gain 1 Martyr point and must take a Martyrdom test.
- To take a Martyrdom test, roll one D6 and add your current number of Martyr points to the result. If the total exceeds the model’s Leadership characteristic, the test is passed and that model is Martyred.
- A Martyred model is removed from your Order of Battle. Every other unit in its Crusade army gains 1 experience point for each Saintly reward the Martyred model had.
PRAISE THE GOD-EMPEROR!

The zealous warriors of the Adepta Sororitas are the most devout servants of the Imperium. Singing praise to the God-Emperor, they embark on crusading Wars of Faith to smite the heretic, the mutant, the witch and the xenos with excoriating fury and holy wrath. The Battle Sisters of the Adepta Sororitas form the military arm of the Ecclesiarchy, defending sacred sites and spreading Mankind’s faith of the Imperial Creed to the darkest reaches of the galaxy. They follow the tenets of their founding Matriarchs and aspire to the legendary deeds of ancient saints. The Sisters go to war in finely crafted armour and bear powerful weaponry, with which they unleash vengeance upon any who threaten the Emperor’s realm. They advance alongside chanting priests of the Ecclesiarchy – and their retinues of hardened zealots and crazed penitents – and armoured tanks whose emitters bale deafening choral hymns. Miraculous manifestations of the Emperor’s will guide the Sisters’ shots and halo them in divine protection, their shouted prayers rising to a crescendo that cuts through the din of war.
